What I've Learned on My Unexpected Journey

GARY CHAPMAN

Many people know Gary Chapman as the man who helped the world learn how to speak the five love languages. But the thing about Gary is...he's just a regular guy from Small Town, USA, not all that different from you. And in the mirror of Gary's life, you might discover your own story, too.

In Life Lessons and Love Languages, you'll discern the five influences that shape people's lives: home, education, marriage, children, and vocation. Even if you don't experience each of these influences yourself, you'll benefit from seeing how these pillars of human society work together to make productive people. Getting to know Gary will be a lot of fun. But getting to know yourself and how your world works is a gift that this small-town kid doesn't want you to miss.

Get to know Gary Chapman. You just might discover yourself along the way.

What if Jesus Was Serious...About Prayer?

A Visual Guide to the Spiritual Practice Most of Us Get Wrong

SKYE JETHANI

People like to say, "Prayer works." But what does that mean? Prayer works for what? Getting the answers from God that we want so much?

While God certainly cares for your deepest needs, Skye Jethani wants you to know that prayer is so much more than a two-way transaction with a heavenly vending machine. Jesus didn't pray like that. And with a pastor's heart, Skye wants to take you deeper into what Jesus, the lover of your soul, had to say about talking with God.

In What If Jesus Was Serious . . . About Prayer?, you'll benefit not only from Skye's words of wisdom but his doodles that help the visual learner connect with spiritual truth. Prayer isn't about getting answers, but getting God. We need more prayer in our lives—not because God can give us what we crave, but because He offers himself to us in love.

Good things come to those who believe . . . right?

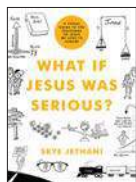

PRIMARY AUDIENCE

Lay Christians wanting a deeper understanding and practice of prayer

8 GREAT SMARTS FOR HOMESCHOOLERS

A Guide to Teaching Based on Your Child's Unique Strengths

One benefit of a home education is a curriculum designed to fit each student. But that means knowing how your child learns. It's up to the teacher to figure out the best way to reach each one.

Based on the 8 Smarts identified by Kathy Koch—word, logic, picture, music, body, nature, people, and self—8 Great Smarts for Homeschoolers tailors these ideas to the unique setting of the home classroom. Tina Hollenbeck, a leader in the homeschool community, applies the 8 Smarts to each division of a complete curriculum.

Yet the real benefit of homeschooling is personal relationships. Hollenbeck shows that when parents know their kids' multiple intelligences, it produces a healthy homeschool dynamic. So don't try to teach in the dark. Know your kid's smarts, then watch them truly learn.

Kids don't just learn one way . . . and that matters a lot for homeschool parents.

SO HOW DO I PARENT THIS CHILD?

Discovering the Wisdom and the Wonder of Who Your Child Was Meant to Be

A common myth in parenting books says that parents determine how their children turn out. Proper input yields proper output, or so the thinking goes. But that mindset works with machinery, not people. The truth is, your child has a unique set of traits—their giftedness—that only they possess. The parent’s job isn’t to crank out a product, but to point an individual human being toward a healthy, flourishing life.

Brother and sister duo Bill Hendricks and Bev Hendricks Godby team up to help you understand the difference between producing a product and parenting a person. They take you through all the stages of child rearing—from diapers to driver’s licenses to diplomas—to show you how identifying giftedness and helping your children discover it for themselves makes all the difference.

Parents don’t determine who their kids become. They steward them into who they’re meant to be.

HOW SHOULD A CHRISTIAN DATE?

It's Not as Complicated as You Think

God didn't mandate a divine way to date. What He did do, in the Bible, is lay out principles for wise and healthy relational living among believers. His boundaries for us are wise and good. But exactly how you apply God's principles to your dating life is up to you to figure out. All you need is guidance, not micromanagement.

How Should a Christian Date? doesn't try to boss you around. It just offers wisdom about the relevant principles in God's Word. Eric Demeter—a single guy who has given this subject a lot of thought—separates the truths of Scripture from the baggage of Christian dating subculture.

There isn't one "Christian" way to date. But there are ways that Christians should handle themselves while dating . . . and those are the truths to live by.

Pitch the Christian dating rulebook out the window. There's a better way!

COUNT IT ALL JOY

The Ridiculous Paradox of Suffering

We think of suffering as the worst of all evils. Our culture tells us to avoid it at all costs. But can suffering produce growth in us when we learn to endure it . . . then value it . . . then allow God to redeem it?

John Perkins sees endurance in suffering as a virtue that makes us more like Christ and ultimately produces uncommon joy in the heart of the sufferer who trusts in Him. In Count it All Joy, you will be encouraged to lean into suffering when it comes your way, stand alongside others who suffer, and believe that God will repurpose your suffering according to His good plan.

God doesn't intend your life to be free of all suffering. Instead, He wants you trust Him in the midst of it and discover the unexpected joy that trials can produce.

Can joy come from suffering?

LINA ABUJAMRA

FRACTURED FAITH

Finding Your Way Back to God in an Age of Deconstruction

Somewhere along the way, the Christianity you knew began to crumble. Disillusionment set in. Churches hurt you. Their people failed you. Christian institutions were exposed as fake. And in it all, God was silent. Is He gone? Or is God really there, waiting for you to find Him instead of the counterfeits?

If you're walking this spiritual path, Lina Abujamra understands you. After her own faith was nearly lost, Lina had to rebuild something more solid to take its place. She'll help you grapple with questions like:

- Where is God in my pain?
- Is this how Christians are supposed to act?
- Why did my story end up this way?

Let Fractured Faith help you find your way back to God. You just might discover that the real God has been waiting for you all along.

After your faith has fractured, let what takes its place be the real thing.

ERICA WIGGENHORN

LETTING GOD BE ENOUGH

Why Striving Keeps You Stuck & How Surrender Sets You Free

No matter how good we look to others, the nagging voice of self-doubt is hard to shake. We ask questions like:

- If people really knew me would they still accept me?
- Will I be rejected when I can't perform?
- Can I pull this off?

If you have thoughts like these, Erica Wiggernhorn wants to lead you to freedom. Drawing from the story of Moses—the greatest self-doubter in the Bible—Erica shows how self-doubt is tied closely to self-reliance. It's only when you cast yourself on God that you find the true source of strength.

Are you enough? The answer is no . . . but your God certainly is. Step out in His power instead of your own and watch your confidence blossom because you're in the hands of I AM.

Everyone thinks you've got it together. But inside, you're asking, "Am I enough?"

NANCY DEMOSS WOLGEMUTH
THE FIRST SONGS OF CHRISTMAS

A 31-Day Advent Devotional—Meditations on Luke 1 & 2

Most Christmas songs emphasize our personal experience of Jesus. But the songs of the Bible put the focus on God. They speak less to what Christmas does for us and more to what Christmas reveals about the greatness, glory, and goodness of our God. Instead of quaint imagery and feel-good lyrics, the songs of the Bible unfold God's redemptive plan for the world.

In The First Songs of Christmas, Nancy DeMoss Wolgemuth offers beautiful meditations drawn from the first two chapters of Luke's gospel. This 31-day Advent devotional looks at the songs of Elizabeth, Mary, Zechariah, the angels, and Simeon.

The true meaning of Christmas can often get lost in the busyness and commercialism that surrounds this season. Let these meditative reflections on ancient songs lead you instead to contemplate Christmas the way it was meant to be.

Let the original songs of Christmas turn your heart toward God's glory.

A. W. TOZER, COMPILED BY PHIL SHAPPARD
APPROACHING THE ALMIGHTY
100 Prayers of A. W. Tozer

Is there a holier moment than when a preacher steps into the pulpit and opens the Scriptures before the people of the Lord? A. W. Tozer certainly understood the sanctity of that moment. His pulpit prayers reflect the holy awe that he experienced as he stood before God and the gathered congregation.

Now for the first time, Approaching the Almighty collects the prayers that Tozer offered as he stepped into the pulpit to preach. Phil Shappard, a Moody Radio manager whose job was to remaster the audiotapes of Tozer's sermons, has collected and transcribed almost two hundred prayers that reveal the great preacher's intimate walk with God.

The path to a rich prayer life is to pray alongside others whose faith is deep. Let Tozer's pulpit prayers guide your own heart in its steadfast pursuit of God.

EXPECT SOMETHING BEAUTIFUL

Finding God's Good Gifts in Motherhood

You know that motherhood makes high demands. Yet it's worth the cost because it benefits your child. On some grand level, it's also good for civilization. And it's a calling from God. So is that what you're doing here—pouring out your life for God and others while getting little in return except the consolation that you've done the right thing?

Laura Booz wants you to expect something more out of motherhood—something truly beautiful. Is there anything beyond that serving, cleaning, caring, snuggling, discipling, and praying? Laura shows that behind all the giving mothers do is the receiving of something special—a growth in God that only mothers can know.

Let this book give you a renewed vision of motherhood: to see God's good purpose for you as a mother, a woman, and a follower of Christ.

*Is motherhood only about self-sacrifice?
Or will it bless your life, too?*

PATHWAY TO FREEDOM

How God's Laws Guide Our Lives

The landscape of contemporary society reveals that we neither know nor care much about the Law of God. There is:

- A general lawlessness in the lives of professing Christians.
- An absence of the fear of God in public worship and private living.
- A growing confidence in ourselves and doubt concerning God and His Word.

Amidst this moral crisis, the message of the Ten Commandments can give us order, direction, and hope.

With dynamic implications for how each of us lives every day, Pathway to Freedom will challenge you to think long and hard about the significance of God's Law.

God's code of conduct is as relevant and insistent today as it's always been.

BRIAN SANDERS

THE 6 SEASONS OF CALLING

Discovering Your Purpose in Each Stage of Life

Often we think of our calling as a singular moment of divine purpose revealed to us in young adulthood and static for the rest of our lives. But consider how God usually works. He created the cosmos in six successive days. Might He not also have six seasons of calling for the lives of His people?

In The 6 Seasons of Calling, Brian Sanders helps you view your calling as ongoing and dynamic. God has ordained six seasons as your life unfolds: childhood, adolescence, early career, mid-career, late career, and transition. Instead of wandering aimlessly through life, let the six seasons of calling provide structure for the life that God has for you. And remember, only at the end will you see why each season was valuable and not to be rushed.

D.A. HORTON

ARE YOU GOOD WITH GOD?

Christian ideas often show up in hip hop music. Biblical themes and even Jesus Himself appear in the lyrics. But beneath all the God-talk, can a true gospel message be found?

Pastor D. A. Horton (aka hip hop artist Azriel) says yes. And he wants you to know the gospel message is deep . . . powerful . . . theological . . . and surprisingly simple to comprehend. It all comes down to:

- God’s design
- Our downfall
- God’s demonstration
- Our decision

Are You Good With God? is a book of giant truths written in the raw and rhythmic style of hip hop. Like every other global language, hip hop speaks to the human heart with truths that really matter. So if hip hop is your mother tongue, why not listen to what God is saying to you?

The gospel according to hip hop. Yeah, that’s a thing.

TONY EVANS
ONENESS EMBRACED
 A Kingdom Approach to Race, Reconciliation, and Justice

Today's world is torn apart. Brother is pitted against brother, sister against sister, citizen against citizen, even Christian against Christian. It's so hard to find agreement—much less real harmony—in our polarized society. Can there be a way forward?

Tony Evans knows how elusive unity can be. As a black man who's also a leader in white evangelicalism, he understands how hard it can be to bring these worlds together. Yet he's convinced that the gospel provides a way for Christians to find oneness. God's Word offers a kingdom-based approach to matters of history, culture, the church, and social justice.

Although oneness is hard to achieve, the Christian must never stop striving. It's a kingdom imperative. As Tony reminds us, "Glorifying God is our ultimate goal. Oneness exists to enable us to reach our goal."

Oneness is hard to achieve. Let the kingdom unity of Scripture point the way.

HOLY AMBITION

Turning God-Shaped Dreams into Reality

Human ambition is often rooted in pride. But “holy ambition”? That’s something else! When your ambitions aren’t about your own glory but God’s, you’ll find Him to be a source of empowerment that you can’t get anywhere else.

Pastor and radio teacher Chip Ingram invites you into something more daring than your current life. Holy Ambition takes you to the biblical story of Nehemiah, a humble servant of the king who became a leader of his people. Nehemiah could have kept his comfortable position in the palace, but instead he chose a radical path that allowed him to do amazing things for God. You can too! But you’re going to have to take some risks. And that means you’ve got to put aside fear or pride and start acting on your holy ambitions.

God is a doer of great things. Isn't it time you joined His big plans?

LIKE OUR FATHER

How God Parents Us and Why that Matters for Our Parenting

Tired of all the parenting books full of strategic checklists, how-to advice, and quick tips? Instead of focusing on parenting techniques, Like Our Father is about who God is, who we are in light of that, and how God's character gives form to our parenting.

Christina Fox invites you to explore the Scriptures and discover the goodness of the God who makes us His own. As God's beloved creatures, we bear His image—that is, we reflect Him to others. Is anything more important to pass on to our children than this?

Though it's tempting to want an instructional manual on child-rearing, what you really need is a grander vision of your Heavenly Father. As your kids share in your magnified vision of God, they'll begin to live as the image-bearers that He made them to be.

Reveal God to your children by parenting them like He parents us.

THE 5 MASCULINE INSTINCTS

A Guide to Becoming a Better Man

It's no secret: today's men face a dilemma. Our culture tells them that their instincts are either toxic or salvific. Men are left with only two options: deconstruct and forfeit masculine identity or embrace it with wild abandon. They're left to decide between ignoring their instincts or indulging them. Neither approach helps them actually understand their own masculine experiences nor how those experiences can lead them to become better men of God.

By examining the lives of five men of the Bible, The 5 Masculine Instincts shows that your own instincts are neither curse nor virtue. They are the experiences by which you develop a new and better instinct—an instinct of faith. Through exploring sarcasm, adventure, ambition, reputation, and apathy, you'll come to understand yourself and how your instincts can be matured into something better.

Don't trust your instincts—there is a better path to becoming a better man.

ANTHONY DELANEY

MAN YOU WERE MADE TO BE

Nothing to Prove Nothing to Hide
Everything to Live For

Anthony Delaney says some men become like coal, which is darkened, dirty, and fragile. But God sees you as rough diamonds. These aren't yet sculpted into what they can become. Yet they've got the right properties: hardness, durability, transparency, and the potential for beauty in the hand of the divine Gemcutter.

Both coal and diamonds are made of the same stuff. The question is, Which one do you want to become?

Like cutting a gem, it'll be difficult—and sometimes painful!—to come under such close scrutiny. Yet Anthony is convinced that every man needs to be tested like this. When you let God go to work on the facets of your life, you'll soon find that you're shining with a brilliance and transparency that reflects who you were made to be.

Society says, "Show us what you're made of!" But God says, "I know what I made you for."

KRISTIE ANYABWILE

LITERARILY

How Understanding Bible Genres Transforms Bible Study

A lot of times, we treat Scripture like it's all the same from Genesis to Revelation. After all, it only has one Author. Isn't it just one big book, identical from beginning to end?

While it's true the Bible is unified, it's also diverse. That's why a single approach doesn't do justice to the variety of genres that make up the Word of God. In Literarily, Kristie Anyabwile reveals the value of studying the Bible literarily—that is, according to the literary style presented in a particular book, chapter, or passage.

The Bible is an epic story that God has revealed through diverse genres and literary features. When we recognize the multiple forms in which Scripture comes to us, we'll encounter the ongoing story of Jesus' redemption and learn how He calls His people to live in our complex world today.

*Don't just read the Bible literally—
read it Literarily.*

BRITTANY SALMON

IT TAKES MORE THAN LOVE

A Christian Guide to Navigating the Complexities of Cross-Cultural Adoption

Being an adoptive parent is hard. But when your family is multiracial, things get even trickier. Love is essential—yet by itself, love isn't enough. Cross-cultural parenting also takes intentionality, listening, learning, growing, repenting, changing . . . then doing it again. Yet when an adoptive family honors the ethnic heritages of their children, the whole family—and the watching world—gets to see God at work.

In It Takes More Than Love, Brittany Salmon shares her family's story of transracial adoption and offers biblical guidance for others. No one is promising transracial adoption will be easy—least of all Brittany! Yet the extra effort is balanced by a beauty that images our eternal destiny. Until the day God makes all things new, welcoming an inclusive transracial family can help fulfill Jesus' words, "on earth as it is in heaven."

Embrace the beauty and challenges of transracial adoption.

CYNTHIA CAVANAUGH

THE GODLY KINGS OF JUDAH

Faithful Living for Lasting Influence

God's people were once divided into two kingdoms. Judah—with Jerusalem as its capital—was led by twenty kings, only eight of whom were good. Not even half! What does that tell you? That it's hard to follow God to the end and leave a legacy that's remembered well.

Cynthia Cavanaugh wants you to meet the kings of Judah who earned a reputation for godliness and received God's favor. She takes you into 1 & 2 Kings and 1 & 2 Chronicles for an 8-week Bible study that leads you through a process of repentance, renewal, and revival. The Old Testament kings will be your companions as you fight the Lord's battles, topple the idols that claw at our hearts, and bring reformation to the holy people of God. Let the legacy of the godly kings be yours as well: "She did what was right in the Lord's eyes."

What will your legacy be?

Money, Debt, and Finances: Critical Questions and Answers

JIM NEWHEISER

Many books, programs, and financial gurus will tell you what to do with your money, but God's Word is the ultimate source of financial wisdom. First and foremost, it gives us our goal as Christians—not to be debt-free or to get rich but to glorify God in all things. All other financial principles in Scripture flow out of this high calling.

In an accessible Q&A format, biblical counselor and former financial consultant Jim Newheiser presents financial wisdom that is grounded in faithful biblical exegesis and rooted in sound theology. What are common misunderstandings about money? How can you create and balance a budget? How can you get out of debt? What insurance do you need? He answers these questions and more, providing a go-to resource for laypeople and those who counsel them.

Jim Newheiser (MA, DMin, Westminster Theological Seminary) is director of the Christian Counseling program and associate professor of practical theology at Reformed Theological Seminary in Charlotte. He is a fellow of the Association of Certified Biblical Counselors (ACBC) and a board member of the Fellowship of Independent Reformed Evangelicals.

Everyday Prayer with the Puritans

DONALD K. MCKIM

History often remembers the Puritans as killjoys and little more. Yet although they were highly disciplined, they were far from joyless. Puritans recognized the goodness of God in everything around them and strove to draw closer to him in all things in life. This Christ-centered outlook and pure contentment fills their prayers and writings with deep wisdom and universal truths we can still learn from today.

What can we learn from the Puritans? Donald McKim explores how Puritan teaching on prayer can lighten the daily struggles of Christian life. Learn from the words of influential Puritan ministers, writers, theologians, and nonconformists including Richard Baxter, John Flavel, Matthew Henry, and Thomas Manton. Discover how to bring God into all aspects of your life through prayer.

Each entry includes meditative readings, Scripture explication, and prayer prompts to inspire and inform your own devotions.

Donald K. McKim is a retired minister of the Presbyterian Church (USA). He has served as a pastor, a seminary theology professor, an academic dean, and an editor for Westminster John Knox Press. He is the author and editor of a number of books. He and his wife, LindaJo, live in Germantown, Tennessee.

Endorsements

"More than a collection of Puritan prayers, this book presents Puritan insights into God-centered, biblical spirituality in order to enrich our prayers. Donald McKim's brief but profound meditations are very helpful in the cultivation of what the Puritans called 'a suitable frame of heart' to speak with our Father in heaven."

—Joel R. Beeke, President, Puritan Reformed Theological Seminary

"From the church fathers onward, theology was understood to be inseparable from worship and prayer. This connection has been eroded over the past few centuries. Don McKim's work is helping to repair this breach. Using his own reflections on the prayers and observations of major Puritan writers as a way to root good theology in Christian piety is a task he performs magnificently."

—Robert Letham, Professor of Systematic and Historical Theology, Union School of Theology

"Dr. McKim offers a worthy companion to his earlier works encouraging everyday prayer. Between these covers, praying readers will find meditations on God's Word, pithy quotations from Puritans, and encouragements in the form of reflection questions and prayer points. Read this book on your knees, and you will draw closer to the God of the patriarchs, prophets, and other parents in the faith."

—Chad Van Dixhoorn, Professor of Church History, Westminster Theological Seminary

Hope: Living Confidently in God

JOHN CROTTS

How do we persevere when times are hard? When optimistic platitudes fail us and a positive attitude feels impossible, God gives us true hope through the promises of his Word. Christian hope isn't flimsy and self-made. It is a sustaining certainty because it is not based on our state of mind but on the security of the character of God consistently and reliably expressed through his promises.

In this 31-day devotional, John Crotts brings hope to the hearts of troubled Christians, using Scripture to lift us toward Jesus Christ, the anchor of our souls and the friend of sinners. See how God's power, plans, promises, and personal concerns offer substantive hope for every kind of trial and failure, and use the practical exercises and thought questions to grow your hope every day.

John Crotts (MDiv, The Master's Seminary; DMin, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary) is senior pastor of Faith Bible Church in Sharpsburg, Georgia, and the author of several books.

Endorsements

"Hope begins with thinking right things about God." This line from Inspiring Hope summarizes the foundational truths about hope from God's Word found in these pages. Hope is essential to a well lived life and it is essential to biblical counseling. You cannot care for someone's soul without offering them hope. Inspiring Hope is a wonderful companion, a co-counselor, to take with you into any counseling situation."

—Curtis Solomon, PhD, Executive Director, Biblical Counseling Coalition

"It has been said that without hope a person will fail to persevere. John has written what I'd like to call "Spiritual B12 shots of hope." We all need hope, some more hope than others depending on what is going on in life. Throughout this great book, I encourage readers to take their own 'daily dose' of hope in God and His promises and spread it around."

—Stuart W. Scott, Professor of Biblical Counseling at The Master's University, Graduate Program

"Hurting believers often lack hope and their problems are typically compounded by the fact that they are not consistently spending time in God's Word. John Crotts's 31 day devotional does a wonderful job addressing both needs. Through his decades of pastoral experience he understands the despair into which God's people often fall. He faithfully applies God's Word to the hurting soul, often drawing profound insights from passages which would not occur to most of us as remedies for hopelessness. Another benefit of this devotional is that it will get the brother who needs hope back into the Word on a daily basis through bite-sized portions."

—Jim Newheiser, Director of Christian Counseling program and associate professor of practical theology at Reformed Theological Seminary in Charlotte

Work That Makes a Difference

DANIEL M. DORIANI

The work you do is one of the main ways you serve God and show love to your neighbor—and as you devote your time to it, it reflects, shapes, and defines who you are. When we work faithfully in ways that please God, we act as his hands in the world, providing for one another and pushing back against the effects of the fall.

Writing to men and women who labor in any field, Dan Doriani gives a brief and thoughtful overview of the Bible's teaching on the nature, challenges, and opportunities of work. What does it mean to be faithful at work? How do we know if we are called to a certain kind of work? When should we seek different employment? What makes our work good work? In a format suitable for individuals or small groups, he answers these questions and more, shining encouraging new light on the familiar and providing insights for self-evaluation.

Daniel M. Doriani (MDiv, PhD, Westminster Theological Seminary; STM, Yale Divinity School; Research Fellow, Yale University) is professor of theology and vice president at Covenant Theological Seminary. He is the founder and president of The Center for Faith and Work, St. Louis; a member of the Council of The Gospel Coalition; and a regular blogger. He was also a lead pastor for fifteen years.

"The last few years have witnessed a flurry of books that treat a Christian view of work. This is the best of them. Well written, historically comprehensive, theologically informed, exegetically sensitive—this is now the 'must-read' volume on the subject."

—D. A. Carson, Emeritus Professor of New Testament, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School

"Only recently has the evangelical church begun to pay attention to the challenge of discipling Christians for their public life and, in particular, to the integration of their faith with their vocations and work lives. Dan Doriani's book makes an important contribution to this literature. Dan is an academic who wears his considerable scholarship lightly as he writes a theologically rich but accessible book on the Christian and work. His clear teaching on how faithful work leads to social reform is especially provocative and helpful."

—Tim Keller, Founding Pastor, Redeemer Presbyterian Church, Manhattan; Chairman and Cofounder, Redeemer City to City (CTC)

"Dan was teaching on the relationship between faith, work, and culture long before this topic became popular. So as I read these chapters, it was like savoring a vintage wine—the fruit of time, reflection, and distillation. With a high view of creation, a great love for the gospel, and the hope of Christ's kingdom stirring in his heart, Dan has given us a wonderful introduction to a biblical theology of work. It is accessible, practical, and brimming with Dan's wonderful personality."

When Prayer Is a Struggle

KEVIN P. HALLORAN

A struggle to pray reveals a desire to pray, and when you have that desire, you can address the obstacles to prayer by facing them head-on. Writing as a sympathetic and practical guide, Kevin Halloran helps you to pinpoint areas of weakness in your prayer life and take immediate steps to overcome them. Examine your heart, implement practical measures, and experience the joys of faithfully drawing near to God.

Endorsements

"Prayer is a challenge for me, as it is for most Christians, probably because we fail to fully feel just how dependent we are on God. Kevin Halloran's book offers a wise combination of theological reflection and practical helps -- both intended to drive us to our knees in prayer to the One who knows and loves us."

—Trevin Wax, general editor of The Gospel Project, author of Rethink Your Self, This Is Our Time, and Gospel-Centered Teaching

"Let me be honest: my heart's reaction to another book about prayer is that I'd rather spend more time praying than reading about prayer. As I was reading When Prayer is a Struggle, however, I felt as if I had a friend leading me on a path to pray more, to pray better, to pray until I could pray. I just couldn't put it down, except for pausing regularly to pray about a particular truth or with the prayers at the end of every chapter. Before I started, I wasn't aware of how much I needed the wisdom deposited in this book. More importantly, I feel motivated (and more prepared) to spend more time before the throne. And for that, I'm so thankful to the Lord for moving Kevin to write it."

—Jairo Namnún, Director for International Coalitions, The Gospel Coalition

"Kevin's book on prayer is incredibly heartfelt. He is a praying person, and it makes me want to be a prayerful person too. Offering us practical wisdom for growing in the discipline of prayer, Kevin writes with a pastoral heart and an obvious love for God. I now have several take-aways that I'm eager to use when I pray!"

Persistent Prayer

Blessings of the Faith Series

Guy Richard shows us that we have many reasons to be excited about prayer—and to pray with urgency! As we pour out our hearts to the Lord, we and the world around us will be changed. Informative, encouraging, and practical, this brief book will serve as a helpful primer for pastors, elders, study groups, and Christians who seek encouragement and instruction on prayer and its blessings.

Written for the church, the Blessings of the Faith series introduces and celebrates Reformed doctrine and practice—each book features a brief and practical overview of its topic with discussion questions and an extensive Q&A section.

Guy M. Richard is executive director and associate professor of systematic theology at Reformed Theological Seminary in Atlanta.

Endorsements

“We don’t believe in the power of prayer, we believe in the power of God, and that is why we pray. This book by Dr. Guy Richard helps us to understand what prayer is and why we pray. Having served as a faithful pastor for many years, Dr. Richard beautifully weaves together his pastoral wisdom and his academic experience to provide all Christians with a clear and accessible book to help us grasp that prayer is more about communing with God rather than simply talking to God.”

—Burk Parsons, Senior Pastor of Saint Andrews Chapel, Sanford, FL, and editor of Tabletalk Magazine

“It sounds axiomatic but God answers prayer. If for no other reason we should pray more. Guy Richard offers to the church a clear and encouraging path to reclaim and revive prayer as the grace of pleading with God. Honestly, I don’t pray as much or as earnestly as I should. I fear most would give a similar confession. Yet this book does not indict as much as it encourages. It is not written from the lofty perches of the academy but from the humble heart of one hungry to know God. When you read this book, you will find in these pages one who, like you, struggles to pray, and yet rejoices to know that God graciously welcomes and answers our prayers.”

—Anthony Carter, Lead Pastor of East Point Church, East Point, GA, and co-author of Dying to Speak: Meditations from the Cross

“I love this book! Prayer, in an inviting and compelling way, captures the desperate, urgent need we have to pray. As you read through these pages you will find yourself encouraged and inspired to talk to God. Thank you, Guy, for giving us such clear answers, anchored in the scriptures, as to why should we pray. What a gift.”

The Nature and Work of the Holy Spirit

Christian Essentials Series

New series being produced in partnership with Third Millennium Ministries

The Holy Spirit is the person of the Trinity most involved in our daily lives—but what do we know about him? Here we discover how the doctrine of doctrine of the Holy Spirit's distinct personhood developed historically, exploring his presence in the Old and New Testament. Readers will come to understand the Spirit's dynamic work in the world, in the church, and in believers.

Ra McLaughlin (MDiv, Reformed Theological Seminary) is vice president of operations and finances for Third Millennium. Endorsements

"This series represents the culmination of years of research, teaching and outreach by the team at 'Third Mill.' Hammered out on the anvil of experience, it is highly accessible while being doctrinally solid. It should be acquired and utilized by every serious Christian, whatever their language, whatever their challenges, whatever their stage of maturity."

—William Edgar, Professor of Apologetics, Westminster Theological Seminary Philadelphia

"From the start, the aspiration of Thirdmill has been to put a seminary education—or the closest approximation of that they can manage—into a highly accessible box and give it away to as many people around the world as want it. Like practically everyone else who has any opportunity to peer into the advance of Reformed theological education throughout the world, I have seen the abundant fruit of their labors and am profoundly grateful for their work."

—Bruce P. Baugus, Associate Professor of Philosophy & Theology Reformed Theological Seminary Jackson

"Who is God? How can anyone know who he is? According to the Scriptures, God so wants to be known that he has revealed himself in the world he has made, in the Bible, and perfectly in Christ. Thus, Christians confess belief in one God, the Father Almighty, in his Son Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Spirit. In this series of short books, the biblical and historical evidence for belief in the triune God is presented in clear and easily accessible form. An excellent survey of these doctrines written in a worshipful and practical style, they will help the reader not only to know about God, but to know him intimately and to serve him faithfully."

Singleness: Living Faithfully

31-Day Devotionals for Life Series

Singleness is not a problem or a waiting period—it's a place where many of us live, and it offers unique blessings, challenges, and opportunities. Many are single longer than they would like. Some expect never to marry. Others find themselves single again. Whatever your situation, faithful living is possible, and so are flourishing and growth! Turning to Scripture, this devotional shows how our identity in Christ, paired with a robust theology of singleness, gives hope and help each day.

If you are single, you will find her tone and perspective empathetic, honest, helpful and redemptive. But if you are not single, please read this as well. It will help you understand (or remember) the experience of singleness as well as provide wisdom and grace for whatever station in life you find yourself in."

Patience: Waiting with Hope

31-Day Devotionals for Life Series

In our fast-paced world, we often confuse patience with bitter endurance. It's easy to fall into frustration when we are forced to wait. We need the peace only biblical patience provides. Megan Hill puts patience back into perspective with a daily reflection, verse, and call to action. Christ embodied patience; by his example we can understand and cultivate steadfast patience ourselves.

Megan Hill is the author of Praying Together, an editor for The Gospel Coalition, and a regular contributor to Today in the Word.

Endorsements

"Patience is not something that can be acquired overnight. It is the fruit of many small choices, day by day, to trust God's timing rather than our own. These short daily readings from Megan Hill are an ideal way to cultivate the fruit of patience. Hill takes Bible passages on patience and helps the reader apply them in ways that are both realistic and life-giving. Read one each morning, and look for an opportunity to put it into practice!"

—Betsy Howard, TGC Editor and author of Seasons of Waiting

"Christians often joke about being careful not to pray for patience because then God will give us the opportunity to learn it. In reading Patience: Waiting in Hope, readers will see that growth in patience is in fact a good thing. As Megan Hill reveals, it is good to wait on the Lord, for he does good things within us while we wait—cultivating the fruit of patience in our hearts. Instead of avoiding these important lessons, may we yield to the Spirit's work and desire to grow in our patience for God, our circumstances, and one another."

—Christina Fox, Counselor; retreat speaker; Author of A Holy Fear: Trading Lesser Fears for the Fear of the Lord

"Patience may be the most misunderstood and undervalued fruit of the Spirit. Therefore, I am grateful for this insightful devotional, and to Megan Hill for skillfully employing God's Word to help us see the myriad ways impatience shows up in our hearts. Most importantly, while rooting the virtue of patience in the longsuffering of God, and fueling our sanctification with gospel hope, the author helps us to see what putting on Christlike patience looks like in the practical ins-and-outs of daily life. This devotional gently unleashes the life-changing power of Scripture."

Parenting & Disabilities: Abiding in God's Presence

31-Day Devotionals for Life Series

Where is God in your journey of parenting a child with disabilities? Everywhere! Although parenting a child with exceptionalities can be an isolating experience, nothing can separate God's children from his loving presence. In thirty-one daily readings spanning cosmic realities and the nitty-gritty of daily life, Stephanie Hubach, a researcher in disability ministry and the mother of a son with Down syndrome, explores the many blessings that come to you and your child through the promise of Immanuel, "God with us."

Stephanie O. Hubach (MATS, Covenant Theological Seminary) is research fellow in disability ministries at Covenant Theological Seminary and visiting instructor in the seminary's educational ministries program. Previously she served as the director of Mission to North America's Special Needs Ministries.

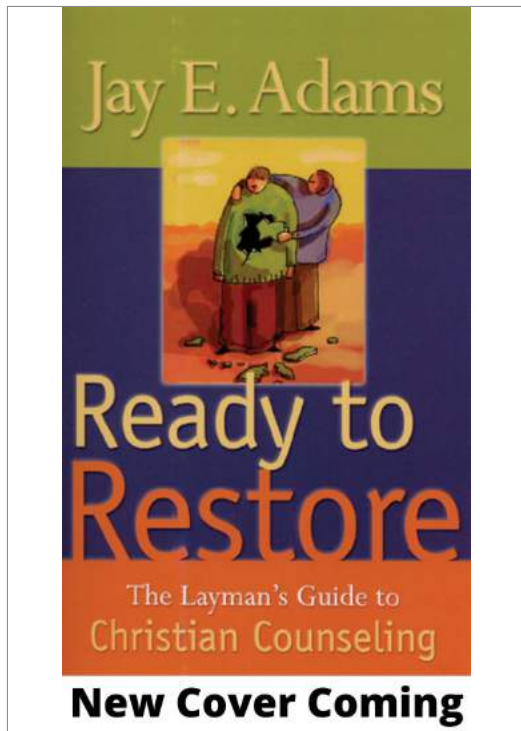

Endorsements

"Devotional books are crowding the store shelves these days, but you hold in your hands a truly exceptional one. While many 31-day devotionals might skate the surface, Parenting & Disabilities: Abiding in God's Presence breaks the ice and goes deep. And when you parent a child with a disability, your soul thrives on 'deep.' My friend Stephanie Hubach has packed a punch of tough theology and wise biblical counseling onto each page of this remarkable new work, all the while making it oh-so-easy to read. If you are a special-needs parent who is thirsting for spiritual renewal and refreshment; if you need guidance concerning your child's disability, this is a treasure you won't want to pass by. Spend time every day with Stephanie in her powerful new book, and you will be enriched!" "

—Joni Eareckson Tada, Joni and Friends International Disability Center

"When God has gifted you with a child with disabilities, it can be, at times, wearisome. You are never quite an empty nester, and retirement, well, maybe not. The only thing that can sustain you in this weariness is faith. Rock bottom faith that allows you to put one foot in front of another, to keep showing up for life with a smile on your face--that kind of faith. Steph Hubach's devotional is aimed right at building your faith so you can do yet one more day of "faith working through love." So thank you Steph for encouraging my faith, and the faith of many other parents who so desperately know that they need their faith built!"

Ready to Restore: An Introductory Guide to Biblical Counseling [Revised & Updated]

First published in 1981

Biblical counseling pioneer Jay E. Adams explains the essentials of the craft in nontechnical language. Using this guide, even the most inexperienced can learn the fundamentals needed to counsel others.

Jay E. Adams is known for his many books on counseling and frequent appearances at conferences on Christian living and counseling issues. He served for many years on the faculties of Westminster Theological Seminary and Westminster Seminary in California. He is currently the dean of the Institute for Nouthetic Studies, a distance-learning institution that provides international training in biblical counseling.

Reader Reviews from First Edition

"This book is a great review of Biblical counseling. It covers the basics very well, including some resources as to where further information can be found. The information is current (since it is Biblically based), but the resource list is somewhat dated because there has been much written in this field in the past few years. This is a great resource for basic training. It is a must for all Christian workers, both vocational and volunteer. I would honestly say that it should be in every Christian's library. The ideas in this book are developed deeper in The Christian Counselor's Manual, Competent to Counsel, and (Ready to Restore:) A Theology of Christian Counseling."

—Caleb, from Amazon

"Ready to Restore is a high tribute to the authority of God's Word, as Dr. Adams actually expects Christians to take action on Galatians 5:1. Adams believes that each person is responsible to obey this passage, not merely the pastor alone.

To that end, Adams writes, "Is Christian counseling the work of a highly specialized group of persons? Does it belong to pastors and elders of the church alone? What of everyday man or woman-in-the-pew Christians; do they too have a ministry of counseling to which God has called them as laymen? . . . The answer is simple, yet profound: God calls every Christian to counsel some people, somewhere, at some time about something. . ."

Adams addresses the barriers to obedience which the "you who are spiritual" must overcome: fear, knowledge, spiritual maturity, and integrity.

It is a short book, but worth every minute spent studying and reading. I simply love it when an author places his trust in God, God's Word, and assumes that God's people will obey. Adams demonstrates an immense respect for God and for Christians in this book."

Hope for Healing from Domestic Abuse

Reaching for God's Promise of Real Freedom

Karen DeArmond Gardner

God's love is steadfast for survivors who chose to leave an abusive marriage but still suffer the aftershocks

When someone leaves an abusive marriage, life isn't instantly fixed. Women who have experienced domestic violence feel shattered. Because of the trauma they've been through, a bond with their abuser has formed that keeps them tied together long after they've physically left.

Karen DeArmond Gardner understands these difficulties all too well. She tackled all the same struggles when she left her own abusive marriage. And she intimately knows what women in this situation need in order to gain freedom from the lies of abuse—to be reborn as the people God longs for them to be.

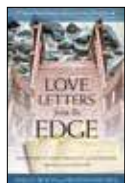

Hope for Healing from Domestic Abuse isn't a how-to book with a few easy steps. Instead, it's a biblically based map for a long journey to healing. By recounting her own history—as well as the faithfulness of God when she was willing to follow His direction—Karen helps readers:

- discover there is life beyond abuse
- recognize God's relentless pursuit of their heart
- gain courage to release the trauma of their past
- regain life, hope, and wholeness in Jesus's healing love

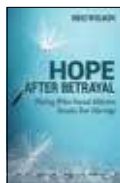

Gardner's inside perspective, strong voice, and incredible, vulnerable story of deliverance from the bonds of abuse allow readers to find themselves in her words and feel heard at last. She puts hope back in their hands, with the assurance that God loves them deeply and wants them to know they aren't defined by their trauma, their past, or their brokenness.

A Study of Joseph for Persevering Through Life's Challenges

Jodie Niznik

REAL PEOPLE REAL FAITH BIBLE STUDY

“Jodie’s insightful and practical application of Scripture keeps her studies at the top of my list.”
—Kat Armstrong, author of The In-Between Place

Joseph’s life looked charmed from the beginning. He was the favorite son of the favorite wife of Jacob, a wealthy patriarch. And Joseph was given a prophetic dream from God about his family’s future. There was no reason to expect anything going wrong—and isn’t it simple to have faith when all is well?

But one gift too many, and his ten jealous older brothers had had enough. They sold him into slavery—and kicked off years of Joseph’s world spinning out of control. Yet, in both dire circumstances and honored positions, he chose to trust God. In the end, God used Joseph to save the very family who betrayed him, and ultimately preserve the lineage of Jesus. Joseph’s life’s purpose was bigger than he ever anticipated.

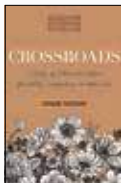

In times of uncertainty, questioning where God is and what he’s up to seems reasonable. Through this 8-week study of one remarkable man, Jodie Niznik reveals that God is always in control and worthy of our trust, no matter what. She delves into Scripture for new ideas on how readers can intentionally engage with God, offering a tool kit of spiritual practices and valuable observations of the triumphs and failures of this real man and his real faith.

Jodie Niznik is pastor to women at Irving Bible Church in Flower Mound, Texas. She holds a master’s degree in Christian education with an emphasis in women’s ministry from Dallas Theological Seminary and has served in various pastoral roles in the church. Jodie is the author of Choose (a study of Moses), Crossroads (a study of Esther and Jonah), and coauthor with Sue Edwards of Galatians: Discovering Freedom in Christ Through Daily Practice.

Spouse in the House

Rearranging Our Attitudes to Make Room for Each Other

Cynthia Ruchti & Becky Melby

A frank and funny look at what to do when together is too close

Two's company, especially for those who love each other. So what happens when—due to retirement, working from home, or even running a business together—spouses find that being in the same space all the time is awkward, complex, annoying, and just plain challenging? How can partners coexist without co-exhausting each other?

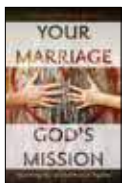

Cynthia Ruchti and Becky Melby know all too well how adjusting to a new, all-the-time closeness can cause the bliss of marriage to form blisters. Drawing from their experiences, and from men and women across the country in the same situation, the authors take a deep breath and dive into the root causes. They dig into what God's Word has to say, and they offer practical tips for learning the spiritual, emotional, relational, and even physical steps that can help readers replace irritation with peace.

For any Christian who wants their home to be a refuge of peace and serenity for all—not just themselves—and who wants to know they aren't alone in the mental and physical claustrophobia of too much togetherness, Spouse in the House is a vulnerable, charming, and pragmatic breath of hope.

Cynthia Ruchti tells stories of hope through novels, nonfiction, devotionals, and speaking events. She serves as the professional relations liaison for American Christian Fiction Writers and is a frequent speaker at writers conferences across the country. Find out more at cynthiaruchti.com.

Becky Melby is an author and speaker, with more than twenty books to her name, including four cozy mysteries for Guideposts' Secrets of Wayfarers Inn series. Find out more at beckymelby.com. Finding Rest

A Survivor's Guide to Navigating the Valleys of Anxiety, Faith, and Life

Jonathon M. Seidl; foreword by Kirk Cameron

“Jon knows, better than most, what it means to battle anxiety and how to forge a path to victory. He also treats it with care, and pushes the conversation to places that it hasn’t often gone in the church.”

—Kirk Cameron

In the aftermath of the pandemic, even those who have never struggled with mental health have found themselves reeling, looking for answers they don’t know how to find. For Christians, especially those who’ve despaired of help from a church that has too often stigmatized mental health challenges as a lack of faith, the way forward can be particularly difficult to see.

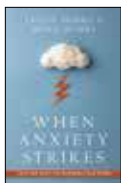

Jonathon Seidl aims to fix that. Having fought his own way through crippling anxiety, life-altering OCD, and suicidal thoughts, he knows the value of concrete advice grounded in strong biblical truth. Instead of the trite or unsympathetic counsel that’s often given, Finding Rest is practical, personal, and productive.

Full of compelling stories, humor from a guide who’s still on his journey, and scriptural truths, this book offers real hope and help. It also provides a lifeline for friends and family who long for ways to help relieve the suffering of their loved ones. And it lays out thoughtful, needed paths for the body of Christ to become a refuge of hope for the anxious.

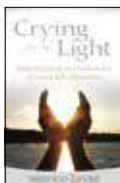

Jonathon M. Seidl is head of digital at The First TV and the communications and content strategist at Providence Church in Frisco, Texas. A longtime media specialist and author, he has been managing editor at The Blaze, editor-in-chief of I Am Second, and managing editor of Kirk Cameron’s TheCourage. His other work includes a recent Fox News article on the rise of anxiety during the coronavirus pandemic. More about Jon can be found at jonseidl.com.

Kirk Cameron is an actor and producer, and co-host of The Way of the Master, a faith-based reality TV series. He speaks nationwide on the topic of gospel-centered marriage and family, and lives in California with his wife, Chelsea, and their six children.

With Fresh Eyes

60 Insights into the Miraculously Ordinary from a Woman Born Blind

Karen Wingate

What miracles do we miss when we close our eyes to the wonder of everyday moments?

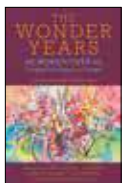

In this busy, jaded world of ours, we often take for granted what we see every day. We may set aside time to spend with God in a quiet room, but we struggle to see his hand in a traffic jam or while walking the dog. But for Karen Wingate, sight itself is something extraordinary, and what our eyes can reveal is even more astounding.

Karen lived most of her life with severely limited sight due to a cluster of disorders stemming from a genetic defect. But through the chance outcome of a surgery, she regained sight in one eye that doubled her visual acuity—and allowed her to see things she had never seen before. And as she discovered a more detailed world for the first time, she also began to see God in every new discovery—from the prosaic numbers of a bathroom scale to the glory of sunsets.

With Fresh Eyes invites readers to not only celebrate the gift of their own sight but also reawaken the wonder of what they observe in creation—great and small—and how God is working in everyday moments. In each of her sixty meditations, Karen's humor and whimsy draw a connection between physical sight and spiritual understanding that will leave readers with a renewed joy and delight in what is good and beautiful, and will reassure them that God still works in the lives of his people.

Karen Wingate is an author, speaker, and Bible study leader. In addition to her work in curriculum and devotionals, she has been a contributor to Divine Interventions, All God's Creatures, and Life-Changing Miracles. For most of her life, Karen was legally blind, until a surgery in 2016 restored her visual acuity. She and her husband live in Tucson, Arizona. Visit Karen at karenwingate.com.

Love Is

A Yearlong Experiment of Living Out 1 Corinthians 13 Love

Kim Sorrelle

Engage with a love that transcends social experiments and leads to a radically transformed life

Even non-Christians are familiar with the Love Chapter of 1 Corinthians, read at weddings, painted on decorative signs, and preached regularly from the pulpit. “Love is patient, love is kind, love is . . .” The words are so familiar they almost lack meaning, a Christianese version of “live, laugh, love.” But what happens when these verses are taken seriously? What would it take for someone to live out the Love Chapter as literally as possible?

That was the question Kim Sorrelle set out to answer during her yearlong experiment. Using 1 Corinthians 13 as a road map, she focused on one phrase at a time, seeking to understand its true meaning and how it could motivate every daily action. And she didn’t just look at the best-known parts of the passage but also the parts we don’t think too deeply about: love does not boast, does not dishonor others, doesn’t keep a record of wrongs, and more.

In her attempts to live the Love Chapter to the letter, Kim journeyed all the way to Haiti, where she met people who both tested and displayed love to its limits. From irritating employees to sexist short-term missionaries to curse-wielding women to the profoundly kind nuns, her encounters are filled with rueful self-reflection and comical commentary, as well as a new understanding of the nuances and power of true love in action.

Kim’s transformation into someone who truly loves like Jesus will challenge readers to think more deeply about how they can manifest love in their own lives and will reveal the power of Christlike devotion that is unwearied and humble, contented and forgiving. Above all, her exploration is an incredible encounter with the filling, strengthening love of God—a love that truly never fails.

Kim Sorrelle is the executive director of Rays of Hope International. Her work takes her from her home in Grand Rapids, Michigan, to isolated villages in Africa, small mountain communities in Haiti, and squatter neighborhoods in the Dominican Republic. A regular blogger, Kim is also the author of Cry Until You Laugh. Learn more about Kim at kimsorrelle.com.

When Angels Fight

My Story of Escaping Sex Trafficking and Leading a Revolt Against the Darkness

Leslie F. King

The incredible story of a woman called by God to save herself and others from trafficking

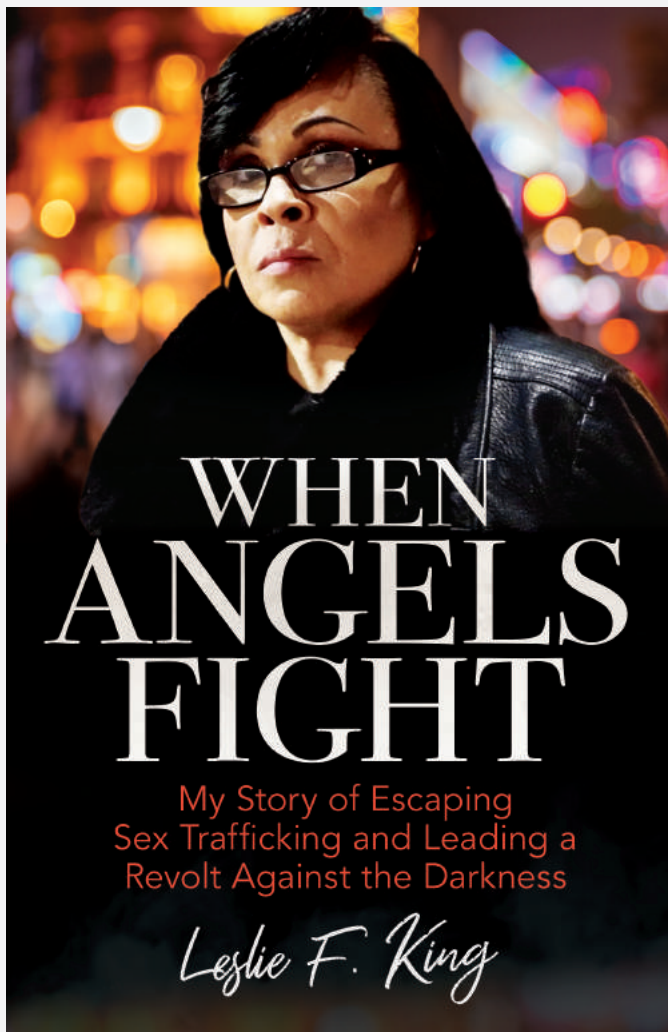

When she was fifteen years old, Leslie King ran away from an abusive home, looking for a better life and longing for real love. What she found instead was a man who wooed her just long enough to trap her in a life of prostitution. She became one of the many thousands of trafficked individuals in the United States, a number that continues to rise—in the biggest cities and in the most idyllic towns.

As is true for so many in similar situations, life was nothing but brokenness and pain for Leslie. After years of hopelessness, she finally decided to take her own life. And then God spoke. With his promise that he was with her and had mighty things for her to accomplish ringing in her ears, she got off the streets, got clean, and got to work on the mission to which he'd called her.

Now Leslie is a passionate and heroic advocate for other trafficked women and teenage girls in her community and across the country.

More than a gritty, no-holds-barred deliverance story, When Angels Fight includes powerful advice from Leslie and those she's encountered in her work—police officers, judges, and other advocates and activists. She also shows readers what they can do to make a real difference in their own communities. Her call from God includes marshaling others to the cause and equipping them to fight alongside her and the angels who battle for God's children—just as they once fought for her.

Leslie F. King is the founder of Sacred Beginnings, an organization in Grand Rapids, Michigan, that takes in former prostituted individuals, supporting them with addiction counseling, job training, and community building. She is an activist for trafficked and jailed women across the country, including high-profile cases of women who've killed their abusers in self-defense. Leslie has appeared on The Today Show, on other news programs, in courtrooms, and in front of many community organizations and churches to tell her story. This is her first book.

Fruit Full

100 Family Experiences for Growing in the Fruit of the Spirit

Christie Thomas

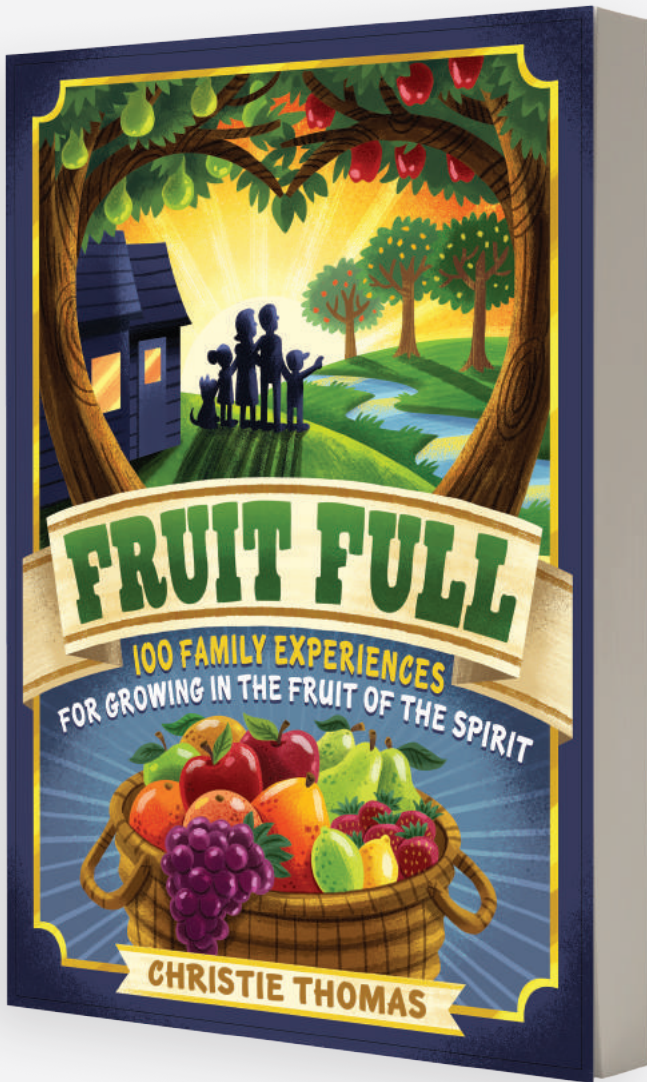

A fun family devotional inspiring families to understand the fruit of the Spirit

It's common for kids to memorize the fruit of the Spirit: love, joy, peace, goodness, self-control, and so on. But that doesn't mean they understand what it means. Is peace just not fighting with your siblings? Does self-control mean resisting a second dessert? If these concepts are explained only in terms of morality, we miss the mark.

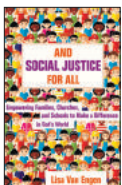

Christie Thomas is skilled at taking complex ideas and making them accessible to kids . . . and adults learn a lot along the way too. Each of her devotionals in Fruit Full is designed to help parents connect their children with the Holy Spirit through a Scripture passage, thought-provoking questions, ways to apply each verse, and a prayer. And for each fruit, parents can use the optional hands-on activities when there's time.

Perfect for kicking off the New Year as a family, these 100 devotional experiences include illustrated examples of each fruit of the Spirit. They demonstrate the hands, heart, and habits of Jesus and also teach children to spend quality time with God. By understanding how he covers them with his goodness and love, and how his Spirit helps them grow their own beautiful, Jesus-reflecting character, the whole family will be encouraged to grow abundant "fruit" together.

Christie Thomas is a homeschooling mom and author in Alberta, Canada. She has been the director of children's ministries at Bethel Community Church in her hometown, and is the author of Quinn's Promise Rock and The Mother and Son Prayer Journal. On Purpose

Understanding God's Freedom for Women Through Scripture

Julie Zine Coleman

Clear, exegetical teaching on the passages of Scripture traditionally used to limit women's roles

Many Christian women are torn between how the church has taught traditional gender roles and the liberty they see secular society afford to women. But what if the church's conventional teachings on the place of women aren't really biblical at all?

On Purpose is a serious study on the verses in the Bible that have often been interpreted to define the role of women in the church, at home, and in the workplace. Each chapter focuses on a single passage, considering what it meant to the original recipients, understanding each author's intent, and applying its true meaning in today's cultural setting. With each chapter, Julie Coleman thoroughly reveals how the timeless principles in the Bible actually teach freedom for women. In fact, when rightly understood, these verses challenge believers to rethink a woman's role, especially where previously understood limitations may hinder what God intends for the church. Through Scripture, Coleman reveals that men and women should be working side by side for the advancement of the kingdom of God.

Written without anger or judgment, and with no agenda but to delve deep into the Bible, On Purpose is an enlightening study offering a truly scriptural perspective.

Julie Zine Coleman is managing editor for Arise Daily Devotionals and a longtime writer and speaker. She holds a master's in biblical studies from Capital Bible Seminary, and her previous books include Unexpected Love: God's Heart Revealed Through Jesus' Conversations with Women. Julie lives near Annapolis, Maryland, where she and her husband, Steve, raised four children.

Journey

A Study of Peter for Stumbling Toward Jesus's Extravagant Grace

Jodie Niznik

A REAL PEOPLE, REAL FAITH BIBLE STUDY

Discover how Peter's broken pursuit of Jesus can offer us hope and courage

Peter was an ordinary man of his time. He started as a humble, hardworking fisherman. But he ended his life with a lasting legacy that still inspires Christians worldwide today. His path from one to the other wasn't smooth or straight. And there is enormous hope in understanding his rocky, stumbling journey of following Jesus.

In this eight-week Bible study, Jodie Niznik delves into the ways Peter's missteps and failures reveal God's grace. When Jesus met Peter in those broken places and called him to get back up, dust himself off, and keep following, we are, in turn, taught how to follow Jesus in our own lives. Along the way, Niznik emphasizes mindfulness practices to readers, inviting them to come to each week's study with a quiet mind and ready heart.

There is no wallowing in mistakes here, however. Instead, drawing on all four gospels and other supporting Scriptures, Jodie invites readers to see the grace, mercy, and correction of Jesus in the life of Peter, and then to draw parallels to modern Christian lives. Each chapter begins with a spiritual practice that ties into the week's theme to help women engage their heart in the study.

Though Peter lived two thousand years ago, he is proof that if God can use an imperfect life like his, then God can and will use Christians today, despite all those ways they feel themselves failing, coming up short, and falling away.

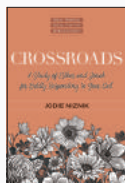

Jodie Niznik has served in pastoral ministry for over twelve years. She is the author of the Real People, Real Faith Bible Study series, including Choose: A Study of Moses for a Life That Matters, Crossroads: A Study of Esther and Jonah for Boldly Responding to Your Call, and Trust: A Study of Joseph for Persevering Through Life's Challenges. She lives in Flower Mound, Texas.

Behold

An Invitation to Wonder

Justin Huffman

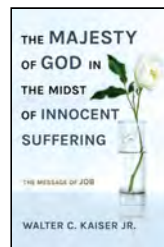

- Invitation to ponder the glorious truth of God's Word
- Works through 10 uses of the word 'Behold'
- An antidote to lack of wonder

We are starving for want of wonder. In what we perceive to be the desert wasteland of daily life and regular responsibilities, our souls hunger for more. God tells us, over and over again, to focus our starving souls on the superb reality of who He is, what He is doing, and what He promises to do for all who trust in Him. And God's invitation to glory in Him is nowhere more explicit than in the repeated command to 'Behold.' Justin O. Huffman invites us to meditate on ten of the occasions the command 'Behold' is used in the New Testament, and to feast on the wonderful truth we find there.

Justin Huffman

Justin Huffman is a graduate of Reformed Theological Seminary and pastored in the USA for 20 years. He is lead pastor of Morningstar in Toronto, where he lives with his wife Chau and their four children. A Collection of Quotes from Samuel Rutherford

Samuel Rutherford

- Popular 17th Century Scottish preacher
- Hardback gift book
- Includes quotes on theology, Christian life, eternity

This collection of quotes gives an idea of the power Samuel Rutherford's words had. Although no more than a sentence or two, each of these quotes has a profundity which leaves the reader thinking long after they have closed the book. For those who have never read Rutherford's works before, this is a delectable introduction. For those who are familiar with his writings, these quotes are a fresh reminder of the great truths he strived to preach and the great God he strived to proclaim.

Samuel Rutherford

Samuel Rutherford was a 17th Century Scottish Presbyterian preacher whose writings have had a profound impact on Christians throughout the generations. He was one of the Scottish Commissioners to the Westminster Assembly, and his best-known work, Lex, Rex, had far reaching influence.

Liberated

How the Bible Exalts and Dignifies Women

Karen Soole

- The Bible is good news for women
- Questions for thought and conversation
- Bible reading and questions in each chapter

There is a widespread belief that the Bible is sexist. However, the principle of equality is established in the first pages of the Bible, and its message exalts and dignifies both men and women. Bible teacher, conference speaker and author Karen Soole shares what she has discovered as she has read the Bible and grappled with it over many years.

She takes us through the Bible story from Genesis to Revelation and challenges the reader to decide whether God is offering life and liberation, or suffocation and oppression. It is an invitation to meet and know the God of the Bible, and to view his Word through the lens of his character.

Karen Soole

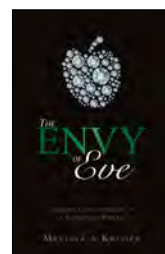

Karen overseas Women's Ministry at Trinity Church, Lancaster. She is the chair of the Northern Women's Convention and Women's Ministry Director for Anglican Mission in England. Author of 'Unleash the Word'. She has been teaching the bible for over thirty years.

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

... shows how the Bible's message contains better news for women than that coming from any other source. I hope both women and men will read and discover that the living God truly is a friend of women.

Peter Dray

Director of Creative Evangelism, UCCF

Liberated is a thoroughly biblical exploration of a difficult subject and brings a heady blend of warmth, humour and brutal candor. ... This is an important apologetic that the church needs to read and reflect upon carefully, if we are to convince a watching world that ultimate dignity and flourishing is to be found in following Jesus of Nazareth.

Richard Cunningham

Director of Universities and Colleges Christian Fellowship (UCCF), United Kingdom

I wish this book had been around when I was first a Christian, wondering whether a fiercely independent, single, domestically-challenged woman like me could thrive in a faith that some claim oppresses women. Essential reading for both women and men.

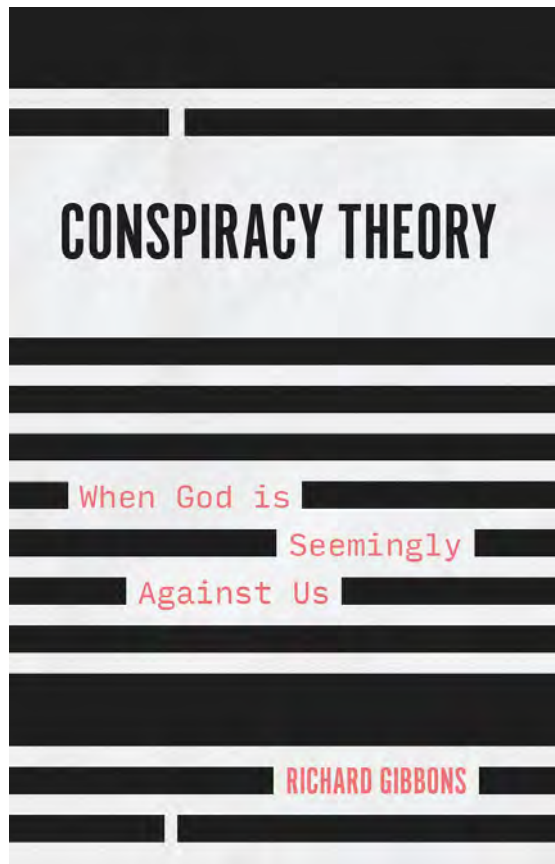

Anne Witton

Content Director at Living Out

Karen shows us again and again that God values men and women equally and gives them both the task of being His image bearers in the world. And Christ Himself, the supreme image of the invisible God, is the one we should look to, because ultimate liberation is found in Him alone.

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

... winsome ... full of wise exposition and application of Psalm 139. Richard not only takes us through the text a few verses at a time but also draws on the whole of Scripture, like all good Christian writers and teachers ought to.

Alistair Purss

Lead Pastor, Dumfries Baptist Church, Scotland

Facing external challenges or internal struggles, Christians can sometimes become bewildered by God's actions and even doubtful of His care. With warm and wise reflections on one of the greatest songs ever written, coupled with engaging examples from across scripture, Dr Gibbons applies key truths about God's character and purposes in ways which are profound yet personal, and challenging yet life-changing, showing us how much God knows, cares, acts and loves.

Jonathan Lamb

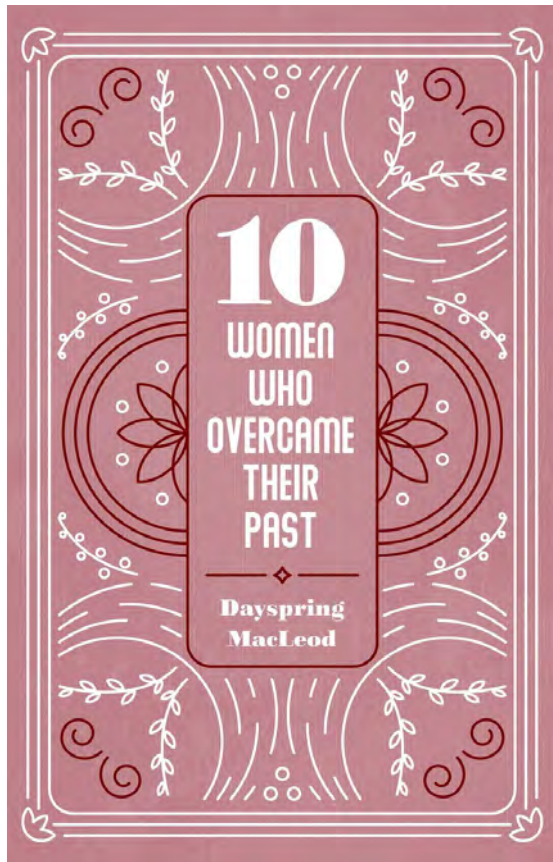

Minister-at-large for Keswick Ministries, IFES Vice President, and former Director, Langham Preaching

This is a warm, practical, encouraging Bible-soaked book for any believer about what used to be regarded as elements of a 'normal' Christian life – in other words, one with perplexity, challenge, heartache and darkness, but nonetheless a trust that God is somehow at work even when we don't understand what is happening to us. I'm pleased to commend it.

Understanding Family Worship

Its History, Theology and Practice

Terry L. Johnson

- Companion to The Family Worship Book
- Includes wisdom gleaned from classic writers
- Chapter on catechizing

The practice of family worship has been a foundation stone of faith for many families across many generations. In his book The Family Worship Book, Terry L. Johnson aided families to have meaningful times of devotion together. In this supplement to The Family Worship Book he seeks to strengthen and enrich those devotions. He begins by looking at the godly home, which provides the vital context for family worship. Then the biblical and theological arguments for daily family worship in are examined drawing from the Old and New Testaments as well as the classic authors. He then moves on to develop the elements or practices of which family worship consists, as well as helpful tips for establishing the discipline practice of family worship. Finally, he discusses catechizing.

The Trustworthiness of God's Words

Why the Reliability of Every Word from God Matters

Layton Macdonald Talbert

- Biblical evidence that God keeps his word
- We can know that everything he says is true
- Putting this trust into action

This is a book about God's jealousy for his integrity, his passion to be believed, on the basis of his words alone. Throughout Scripture God expresses his determination to be known as the God who keeps his words. He has resolved that every person and nation will see and confess that all his words are reliable down to every last syllable, jot, and tittle. Learning to trust a God who is sovereign and in control, especially in the ache and throb of life, means hanging on to the conviction that everything he says is utterly dependable.

Layton Macdonald Talbert

Layton Talbert (PhD, Bob Jones University) is professor of theology at BJU Seminary. He has also authored books on the doctrine of divine providence (Not by Chance: Learning to Trust a Sovereign God) and a reader's commentary on the book of Job (Beyond Suffering: Discovering the Message of Job).

Lies We are Told, the Truth We Must Hold

Sharon James

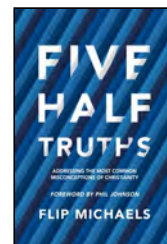

- Helps Christians navigate current claims
- Engages major philosophies
- Shows how biblical truth refutes culture's lies

We are surrounded by lies. They are incorporated into the worldview of our culture. Sharon James investigates the origins of some of these lies and looks at how we have got to the point absolute truth is an outdated concept. In examining the evidence of history, she highlights the consequences of applying dangerous untruths. In the second part she turns to the truth which leads to real liberation and justice. She shows why we don't need to be ashamed of Christ, or intimidated by the claims of those who are militantly opposed to the Bible.

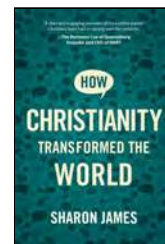

Sharon James

Sharon James has written several books, and has spoken in conferences in many parts of the world. She studied history at Cambridge University, theology at Toronto Baptist Seminary, and has a doctorate from the University of Wales. Sharon is married to Bill, Principal of London Seminary. They have two grown-up children. She works for The Christian Institute.

THE ESSENTIAL SCRIPTURES

A Handbook of the Biblical Texts for Key Doctrines

All good theology is grounded in the God's Word. Yet sometimes it's hard to keep track of which scriptures support certain doctrines. That's where The Essential Scriptures comes in. With an easy-to-use handbook format, this reference work moves through the headings of systematic theology, offering quotations of the biblical verses that undergird various doctrines. No more jumping between multiple sources. The Essential Scriptures puts everything in one place, providing not only the biblical support but also an exposition of how those passages serve as the basis for the doctrine under discussion.

Drawing from the literal and trustworthy New American Standard Bible, theologian Kevin Zuber gives you the biblical underpinnings for the doctrines you believe. Every pastor, scholar, student, and lover of theology needs this book in their library. The Essential Scriptures will be classic that generations of theologians turn to again and again.

THE INNOVATION CRISIS

Creating Disruptive Influence in the Ministry You Lead

Ministry leaders carry the burden of keeping their organizations lean, focused, and relevant. When souls are on the line, there's no room for bureaucratic bloat or a cumbersome infrastructure. It's up to the leadership—that's you—to realize where the organization is in maintenance mode and find ways to innovate even when the growth curve has slowed and the team has grown complacent.

In The Innovation Crisis, Ted Esler shows you how to innovate in ways that change the ministry landscape. He'll help you keep an eye on your "ecclosystem"—the ecclesial ecosystem in which you exist. You'll learn about the four stages of organizational culture—disrupting, innovating, sustaining, and stagnating—and gain strategies for staying in that sweet spot where innovations keep coming and stagnation can't take hold.

The gospel of Jesus never grows stale. Don't let your ministry forget it!

If you aren't innovating, stagnation isn't far away.

GRACE-BASED COUNSELING
 An Effective New Biblical Model

The Christian counselor or pastor helps people process their pain. Too often, a client leaves the counselor’s office with feelings of shame. They understand what they did wrong. But they’ve missed the grace of God that makes things right again.

Christian counselors Richard Fowler and Natalie Ford offer a model that blends the truths of Scripture, the science of psychology, and the hope of the gospel. It includes:

- New, grace-based counseling model
- Detailed application of the model, with case studies
- Toolbox with surveys, assessments, and counseling helps

A Christian counseling model can’t just be about admonishment. That approach only leads to shame and human efforts that are doomed to fail. But when the gospel is brought to bear in the counseling relationship, the counselor becomes an instrument of grace in the hands of a faithful God.

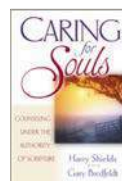

You speak God’s truth when you counsel. But do you also communicate His grace?

OPPORTUNITY LEADERSHIP

Stop Planning and Start Getting Results

What's this—a leader who doesn't plan? Isn't the Christian leader supposed to charge into the future with a strategic plan in one hand and a Bible in the other—pious faith and perfect foresight all rolled up in one dynamic package? We obviously know what God intends to do in the next ten years, right? So let's get after it . . .

Roger Parrott wants to turn your leadership paradigm on its head. Instead of forecasting and managing the future, the opportunity leader recognizes that God brings opportunities our way and He only expects us to respond effectively when they come. Yes, it's scary. But you'll also see mind-blowing results because you're in tune with what God actually wants. And He can do immeasurably more than anything you could have imagined.

Opportunity Leadership is the art of achieving your mission by capturing change instead of creating it.

KNOWING SIN

Seeing a Neglected Doctrine Through the Eyes of the Puritans

We don't talk much about sin these days. But the Puritans sure did—because they understood sin's power and wanted to root it out of their lives. Shouldn't we want the same?

Few books on the doctrine of sin are as practical and applicable as this one. Mark Jones puts his expertise in the Puritans to work by distilling the wisdom of our Christian forebears into a single volume that summarizes their thought on this vital subject. The result is a surprisingly relevant book that you'll refer to again and again.

None of us is free from the struggle with sin. The question isn't whether we're sinful, it's what we're doing about it. With God, there is a path to overcoming sin. And the first step on that path to victory is knowing what we're up against. Start Knowing Sin today!

The first rule of combat is: know your enemy.

Invitation to Evangelism

Sharing the Gospel with Compassion and Conviction

Timothy K. Beougher

INVITATION TO THEOLOGICAL STUDIES

Essential guidance for a lifestyle of sharing God's good news with a lost world

What exactly does it mean to “evangelize” in a Christian sense? And how is such evangelizing supposed to be done? Longtime pastor, evangelist, and professor of evangelism Timothy K. Beougher answers these questions and more from a range of theological, historical, and practical perspectives. Demonstrating God’s goodness in evangelism through relatable anecdotes, Bible teaching, and encouraging instruction, Beougher welcomes believers into the experience of stepping out in faith on behalf of people God loves.

Most Christians know they should be sharing the good news of Jesus Christ with nonbelievers, and most also know they aren’t witnessing very well, or even at all. They need help internalizing the content of gospel proclamation and identifying the best ways to make evangelism a natural part of their lives. Invitation to Evangelism guides readers through the key issues of the gospel message, evangelism methods, and witnessing models so they are ready and excited to move out in faith as everyday evangelists.

Beougher’s teaching revolves around following essential aspects of being an evangelist:

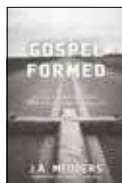

- Having compassion as the motivation for evangelism
- Understanding the good news of Jesus Christ
- Seeing lost people as persons God loves
- Relying on the power of the Holy Spirit
- Paving the way for new believers to share their faith eagerly with others

Timothy K. Beougher (PhD, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School) is Billy Graham Professor of Evangelism and Church Growth and associate dean of the Billy Graham School of Missions, Evangelism, and Ministry at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. An active pastor, evangelist, professor, and evangelism scholar for over thirty-five years, Beougher is the author of numerous books about evangelism history and practice, including Richard Baxter and Conversion, Evangelism for a Changing World, and Overcoming Walls to Witnessing.

Psalms, Volume 1: The Wisdom Psalms

A Commentary for Biblical Preaching and Teaching

W. Creighton Marlowe and Charles H. Savelle Jr.

KERUX COMMENTARIES

Kerux Commentaries enable pastors and teachers to understand and effectively present the main message in a biblical text

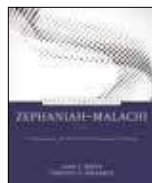

Each volume uniquely combines the insights of an experienced Bible exegete (trained in interpretation) and a homiletician (trained in preaching). These two authors work together to explain the essential message for the original listeners or readers, unpack its timeless truth, and then provide a contemporary restatement and communication insights for the key biblical concept.

Psalms, Volume 1: The Wisdom Psalms includes psalms with themes perpetuated in Old Testament wisdom literature such as Job, Proverbs, and Ecclesiastes. These psalms extol God as the author of wisdom, contrasting the righteous, who acknowledge and follow God's ways, with the wicked, who rebel against him. Likewise, wisdom psalms praise God's special revelation of his laws and promises. The psalmists commend the virtue of pursuing God's truth and teaching. Marlowe and Savelle explore these psalms' original significance for their ancient audience and use this knowledge to reveal where and how God continues to speak through the wisdom psalms today. Readers will be empowered to teach and preach the Psalms with a renewed perspective.

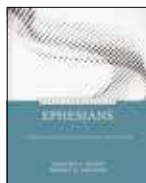

W. Creighton Marlowe (PhD, Mid-America Baptist Theological Seminary) is associate professor of Old Testament at the Evangelical Theological Faculty in Leuven, Belgium, and the missionary theological educator with European Christian Mission. His other works include Other Voices in Old Testament Interpretation.

Charles H. Savelle Jr. (PhD, Dallas Theological Seminary) teaches as an adjunct professor for Dallas Theological Seminary and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He has also taught at several other institutions in the United States and in the Philippines, Korea, and Hungary.

The Prophets of Israel

Walking the Ancient Paths

James K. Hoffmeier

Full-color photographs throughout

Seeing the biblical prophets in context makes all the difference in understanding their messages

In The Prophets of Israel, Old Testament scholar and longtime field archaeologist James K. Hoffmeier explores the biblical prophets through their ancient settings. Readers gain a more accurate and comprehensive understanding through many practical components:

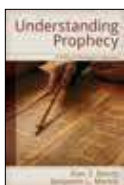

- Full-color photos and images of historical and cultural importance
- Focus on the geopolitical contexts of the prophets
- Clear explanations of the prophets' provoking messages
- Discussion questions for Bible students or instructor use

These features and photos vividly illustrate the biblical narratives and the prophets' concerns, helping readers better comprehend each text's message and make informed theological applications.

The biblical prophetic tradition extends far before and far after the Major and Minor Prophets. Yet all biblical prophets—including recognizable figures like Moses and Elijah, lesser-known prophets like Huldah and Micaiah, and the New Testament prophets—ministered in distinctive cultural and historical circumstances. Hoffmeier draws on his extensive knowledge of ancient Near Eastern culture, geography, political realities, and the Old Testament message to locate the prophets in their worlds. This approach illuminates prophetic messages and ministries with a theological clarity that basic history and literary interpretation cannot achieve.

James K. Hoffmeier (PhD, University of Toronto) is emeritus professor of Old Testament and Near Eastern archaeology at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School. He taught Old Testament and Hebrew for over forty years. For the last twenty years he focused on Hebrew exegesis in the prophetic books. He engaged in archaeological work in Sinai and at the Karnak Temple Complex in Egypt, and presently is part of a team investigating the Cushite cemetery at Nuri, Sudan. His other works include The Archaeology of the Bible.

The Manifold Beauty of Genesis One

Gregg Davidson & Kenneth J. Turner

See and celebrate the multilayered grandeur conveyed by the first chapter of Genesis

The first chapter of the Bible's first book lays the foundation for all that follows about who God is and what God is like. Our technology-age fascination with the science of origins, however, can blind us to issues of great importance that don't address our culturally conditioned questions. Instead, Genesis One itself suggests the questions and answers that are most significant to human faith and flourishing.

Geologist Gregg Davidson and theologian Ken Turner shine a spotlight on Genesis One as theologically rich literature first and foremost, exploring the layers of meaning that showcase various aspects of God's character:

- God as artist
- God as farmer
- God as "I Am"
- God as suzerain
- God as presence
- God as redeemer

Our very knowledge of God suffers when we fail to appreciate the Bible's ability to convey multilayered truth simultaneously. The Manifold Beauty of Genesis One offers readers the chance to cultivate an openness to Scripture's richness and a deeper faith in the Creator.

Gregg Davidson (PhD, University of Arizona) is a professor and chair of the School of Geology and Geological Engineering at the University of Mississippi. His other works include Friend of Science, Friend of Faith.

Kenneth J. Turner (PhD, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary) is professor of Old Testament and biblical languages at Toccoa Falls College. His other works include The Death of Deaths in the Death of Israel.

Stanley E. Porter and Ron C. Fay, editors

MILESTONES IN NEW TESTAMENT SCHOLARSHIP

A biographical and interpretive history of Luke-Acts scholarship

Luke-Acts in Modern Interpretation explores the lives and work of ten interpreters who have significantly influenced the study of the Lukan writings over the past 150 years. The chapters contain short biographical sketches of the scholars that illuminate their personal and academic lives, summaries and evaluations of their major works, and analysis of the ongoing relevance of their work in contemporary scholarship on Luke-Acts.

Key thinkers surveyed include the following:

- Adolf Harnack
- Martin Dibelius
- F. F. Bruce
- Loveday Alexander
- C. K. Barrett

Colossians and Philemon

A Commentary for Biblical Preaching and Teaching

Adam Copenhaver & Jeffrey D. Arthurs

KERUX COMMENTARIES

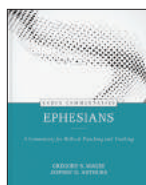

Kerux Commentaries enable pastors and teachers to understand and effectively present the main message in every biblical text

Colossians and Philemon were penned at roughly the same time to an overlapping set of recipients. Paul, writing out of great concern, urges his fellow believers to make Jesus Christ the foundation of their lives. By expounding on the divine person, finished work, and exalted position of Christ, the apostle entreats his readers to stand against false teaching, pursue reconciliation, and be united with Christ. In Colossians and Philemon, Copenhaver and Arthurs combine exegetical precision with homiletical care, helping preachers and Bible teachers take Paul's message—a plea for walking together in a manner worthy of Christ—to the church today.

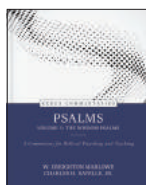

Adam Copenhaver (PhD, University of Aberdeen) pastors Mabton Grace Brethren Church in Mabton, Washington, and teaches biblical studies courses for the Ezra Bible Institute. His recent publications include Reconstructing the Historical Background of Paul's Rhetoric in the Letter to the Colossians.

Jeffrey D. Arthurs (PhD, Purdue University) is Robinson Chair of Preaching and Communication at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary. He is an active preacher, pastor, and scholar. His previous publications include Preaching with Variety, Devote Yourself to the Public Reading of Scripture, and Ephesians in the Kerux Commentaries series.

Enables pastors and teachers to understand and effectively present the main message in every passage of Jeremiah and Lamentations.

Jeremiah and Lamentations approaches two historically related yet literarily distinct books of the Old Testament, carefully attending to their composition and application. Garrett and Pearson draw out the crucial themes and structures of Jeremiah: the hope of eschatological salvation nestled in the center of an expertly crafted exploration of human sin in all its blindness, perversity, and persistence. Lamentations wrestles with the unanswered questions of a community in exile, sobered by judgment and wondering whether God intends to abandon Israel entirely. Garrett and Pearson examine both Old Testament texts through the lens of Jesus, clarifying the parallels and fulfillments essential for Christian preaching.

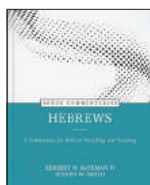

Duane Garrett (PhD, Baylor University) is John R. Sampey Professor of Old Testament Interpretation at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He has written or cowritten numerous books and commentaries on the Old Testament and Hebrew language, including The Problem of the Old Testament.

Calvin F. Pearson (PhD, University of Texas at Arlington) is a recently retired pastor and still serves the Lord through writing, teaching, and sermon coaching. His ministry experience includes pastoring in Texas and Michigan, and teaching homiletics at Dallas Theological Seminary, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Clump Divinity School at Anderson University, and Grace School of Theology.

Preaching Life-Changing Sermons

Six Steps to Developing and Delivering Biblical Messages

Jesse L. Nelson

A how-to guide for preparing and delivering Spirit-filled, biblical messages that make an impact

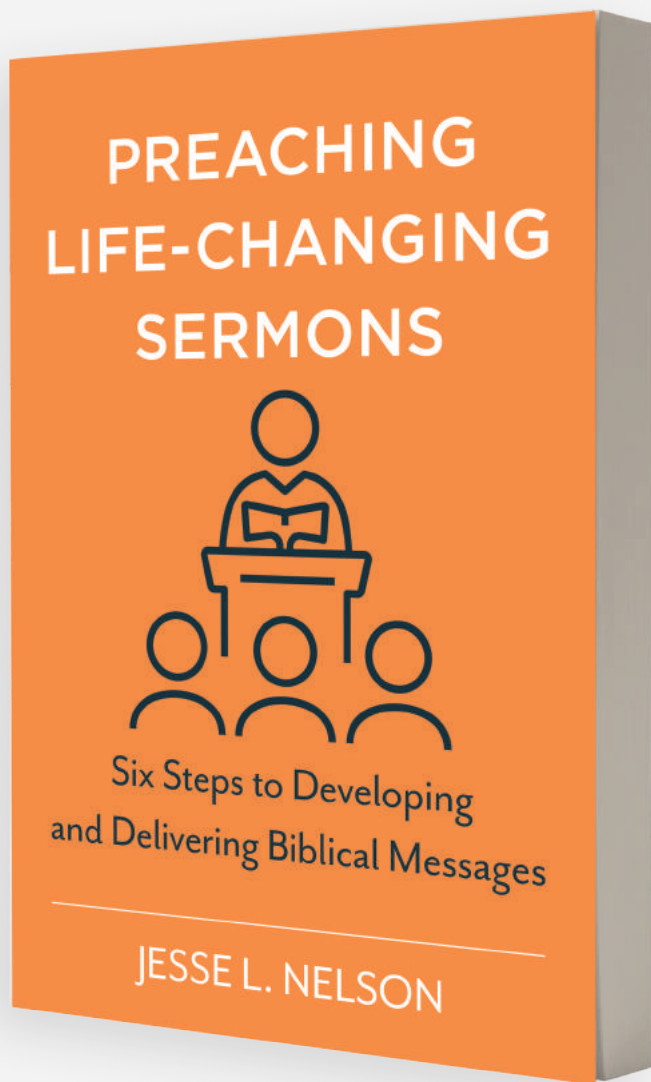

Being called to preach is a tremendous commission. In Preaching Life-Changing Sermons, Jesse L. Nelson shares a simple process for effective expository sermon preparation and delivery, flavored with insights from his life in ministry and academic work. Those with teaching and preaching responsibilities with little to no seminary training will learn practical steps they can use today in their ministry.

Nelson outlines the six foundations of life-changing preaching and shows how each looks in the everyday life of a pastor:

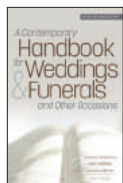

- Seek the Spirit
- Select the Scripture
- Study the Scripture
- Structure the Sermon
- Speak in the Spirit
- Share the Savior

Handling God's Word rightly through prayer, sermon preparation, and sermon delivery sets the stage for people to absorb the message. When the Spirit moves as Scripture speaks, souls are changed—and the call to preach becomes an exciting, transformative adventure.

Jesse L. Nelson (DMin, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary) is a senior pastor in Panama City, Florida, and an adjunct professor at The Baptist College of Florida and New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. He is a missionary to Haiti and a missions consultant for the National African American Fellowship of the Southern Baptist Convention. Nelson serves on the board of directors of the Evangelical Homiletics Society and speaks frequently for events related to black history, Christian education, leadership, missions, preaching, racial reconciliation, and more.

Reprobation and God's Sovereignty

Redeeming a Biblical Doctrine

Peter Sammons; foreword by John MacArthur

God's right to judge humanity is written on the very fabric of human existence

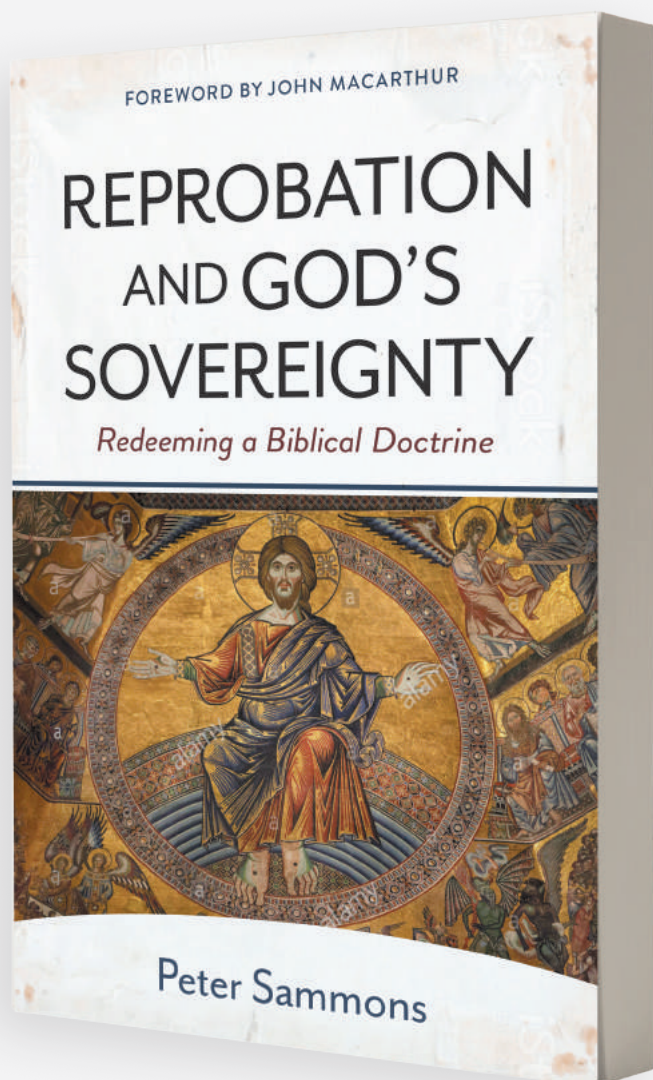

The doctrine of reprobation—that is, the eternal, unconditional decree of God for the non-elect—is frequently misconstrued in both pastoral and theological literature. In Reprobation and God's Sovereignty, Peter Sammons reintroduces this oft-misunderstood doctrine, revealing its relationship to divine sovereignty. With Romans 9 as a guiding text, Sammons presents a thoroughly researched defense of reprobation as an essential part in a Reformed theology that magnifies God and encourages believers to trust in him.

Reprobation and God's Sovereignty clearly defines and demonstrates from Scripture the foundational terms and doctrines required for properly understanding reprobation, such as:

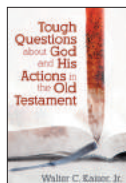

- God's justice
- Election
- Compatibilism
- Secondary causality
- Preterition
- Predamnation

Understanding these theological ideas proves vital to answering life's all-important question, "Who is God?" Sammons shows how the doctrine of reprobation leads to a greater admiration for God, eliciting higher praise, reverence, and belief in him.

Peter Sammons (PhD, The Master's Seminary) is both director of academic publications at The Master's Seminary and managing editor of The Master's Seminary Journal. He is the author of Reprobation: From Augustine to the Synod of Dort.

James

An Exegetical Guide for Preaching and Teaching

Herbert W. Bateman IV & William C. Varner

BIG GREEK IDEA

Encounter the message of James like never before

To read the Greek text of James is to face a rugged style and brief phrasing that match the fervency of the letter's meaning. The book of James powerfully exhorts the earliest Christian believers to faithful living. Biblical Greek experts Herbert W. Bateman IV and William C. Varner lay out the linguistic and grammatical features unique to James—such as his specialized vocabulary and prolific use of imperatives—to show how the book's many strong statements connect to one another in this masterwork on living according to the teachings of Jesus.

The Big Greek Idea series provides all the relevant information from the Greek text for preaching and teaching the New Testament. Each New Testament book is divided into units of thought, revealing a big Greek idea (the author's main idea in the passage), and individual clauses are displayed visually to illustrate their relationships, portraying the biblical author's logical flow. Greek clauses are accompanied by an original English translation.

Each volume in this series contains many practical features:

- Helpful charts, tables, and diagrams illustrate key points.
- Numerous callouts provide deeper insights into word meanings and theological issues.
- Visual cues highlight important information.
- An introduction to each biblical book summarizes the grammar, style, and vocabulary, including reminders and explanations of key terms.

Herbert W. Bateman IV (PhD, Dallas Theological Seminary) taught New Testament Greek for over twenty years and is editor of the Big Greek Idea series. He is the author or coauthor of more than fifteen books, many on the subject of New Testament exegesis and proclamation, including Hebrews (Kerux), John's Letters (Big Greek Idea), and Jude (Evangelical Exegetical Commentary).

William C. Varner (MDiv, ThM, Biblical Theological Seminary; EdD, Temple University) is professor of biblical studies and Greek at The Master's University. He is the author of thirteen books, including four on the letter of James.

Three in One

Analogies of the Trinity

William David Spencer

Do our images of “one God in three persons” reflect God well?

Throughout history, Christians have pictured the relationships between Father, Son, and Holy Spirit through analogies. Such illustrations—some from the West but also from Latin America, Asia, Africa, and other places—come laden with theological ramifications that the church has rejected (heresies) or embraced (doctrines). In Three in One, William David Spencer shares a lifetime of insights from teaching within the global church, bringing fresh images and analogies of the Trinity to deepen our theological vocabulary.

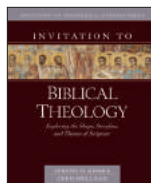

Drawing from his extensive teaching in geographically and culturally diverse contexts and his artist’s passion for evocative words and visuals, Spencer offers readers a rich, multifaceted, and practical exploration of the Trinity. Alongside historical and contemporary theology and biblical studies, he considers the strengths and shortcomings of various analogies used to explain the Trinity, such as:

- Light
- Water
- The Celtic knot
- The totem pole
- Musical harmonies
- The human body
- The family

Readers of Three in One will gain a personal understanding of the Trinity as well as tools for teaching about the Trinity in adult and children’s ministry contexts.

William David Spencer (ThD, Boston University School of Theology) is distinguished adjunct professor of theology and the arts at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary’s Boston campus (Center for Urban Ministerial Education). He has authored, coauthored, or coedited eighteen books, including The Global God: Multicultural Evangelical Views of God and Global Voices on Biblical Equality: Women and Men Serving Together in the Church, as well as hundreds of publications in journals and periodicals. He has served in urban ministry for fifty-five years.

Ethics as Worship: The Pursuit of Moral Discipleship

MARK D. LIEDERBACH & EVAN LENOW

Ethics as Worship examines the biblical, theological, and philosophical foundations and application of Christian ethics, offering an ethical system that emphasizes the worship of God as motivation, method, and goal of the ethical endeavor. It concludes with an exploration of how worship ought to shape a response to particular ethical topics and issues most relevant in our day: from race, justice, and environmental ethics, to sexuality, birth control, and other important issues related to life and death.

Mark D. Liederbach (MA, Denver Seminary; PhD, University of Virginia) is professor of theology, ethics, and culture; dean of students and vice president for student services at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Wake Forest, NC.

Evan Lenow (PhD, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary) is director of church and minister relations at Mississippi College in Clinton, Mississippi, and director of the Clinton extension center of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

Endorsements

"The very first course I taught as a newly minted Systematic Theology professor at Reformed Theological Seminary was 'Pastoral and Social Ethics.' I wish I had had this volume to help me put that course together."

—Ligon Duncan, Chancellor and CEO, Reformed Theological Seminary; John E. Richards Professor of Systematic and Historical Theology

"Yes! An understanding of ethics that centers on God, is saturated with the gospel, and is inextricably tied to the mission Jesus has given His church to make disciples of all nations. Ethics as Worship provides desperately needed ballast for our souls amidst a sea of ethical confusion that surrounds us in this world."

—David Platt, Pastor, McLean Bible Church, best-selling Author, Radical, Follow Me, and Counter Culture

"As our world spirals further into confusion with every passing day, the study of ethics has never been more important. This excellent volume by Mark Liederbach and Evan Lenow is exactly the kind of book that we need for this moment. Drawing from biblical and theological foundations, it demonstrates that, rightly understood, ethics is about worship of the one true God. Christians of every perspective will want to read and digest this book!"

—Jamie Dew, President, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, Professor of Christian Philosophy

"I have looked forward to the publication of this work and now that it is here, it is my hope and prayer it will become a standard in the field of ethics for years to come. It is that well done. Bravo brothers! You have served our savior well in your labor of love."

Covenantal Baptism

Blessings of the Faith Series

Informative and encouraging, this brief book serves as a helpful primer and quick reference tool regarding Presbyterian baptism for pastors, elders, prospective new church members, parents, and family members of children. The practice of infant baptism benefits the children themselves, their parents, and the congregation as a whole. This short volume concludes with answers to frequently asked and pertinent questions on the topic.

Written for the church, the Blessings of the Faith series introduces and celebrates Reformed doctrine and practice—each book features a brief and practical overview of its topic with discussion questions and an extensive Q&A section.

Jason Helopoulos (ThM, Dallas Theological Seminary) is senior pastor of University Reformed Church in East Lansing, Michigan. He is the author of several books, including Let the Children Worship and A Neglected Grace: Family Worship in the Christian Home.

Endorsements

"Discussions of baptism can so easily raise the temperature in the church and draw lines among Christians. If only for that reason, we may be grateful to Jason Helopoulos, who has gifted the church with a clear, accessible, irenic, and practical treatment of the Bible's teaching on baptism. Whether you have been thinking about these questions for a long time or for the first time, Baptism will inform your mind and stir your heart as Helopoulos shows you the blessing that God intends for baptism to be."

—Guy Prentiss Waters, Ph.D. James M. Baird, Jr. Professor of New Testament
Reformed Theological Seminary

"Jason Helopolous, in this highly readable volume, has given us the theological foundation as to why the sign and seal of the New Covenant—Baptism—is to be placed upon believers and their Covenant children affirming their faith in Christ who fulfills His promises including, 'I will be a God to you and to and to your children after you...' But, an additional blessing in this volume is the consequential foundation for parenting based upon the promises of God with the anticipation of His Covenant blessings in and through families by God's sovereign Grace."

—Harry L. Reeder, III, Pastor Teacher, Briarwood Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, Alabama

"In this Scripturally-based, theologically-sound, and practically-helpful book, Jason Helopoulos has provided a concise yet robust resource for anyone wanting to know more about the truth and beauty of covenant baptism. As he rightly states in the first chapter, the key to understanding and embracing baptism is knowing 'the kindness of our covenant-making God.' In other words, God is so incredibly gracious that he lavishes amazing gifts to his people and their children. Baptism is one of those gifts. I will be recommending and using this book frequently."

In this helpful primer for congregations, Pastor David Strain establishes the basic biblical and theological foundations of preaching, highlights historical examples, and responds to questions, fears, and objections about expositional preaching in a Reformed church.

Written for the church, the Blessings of the Faith series introduces and celebrates Reformed doctrine and practice—each book features a brief and practical overview of its topic with discussion questions and an extensive Q&A section.

David Strain (DMin, Reformed Theological Seminary) is senior pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Jackson, Mississippi.

Endorsements

"A thoughtful, engaging, stimulating primer. . . . Strain understands how vital it is for church members to hear God's Word rightly and have it shape how they think and live."

—Ian Hamilton, Professor of Systematic and Historical Theology, Greenville Presbyterian Seminary, SC

"A book written with 'wisdom from above' on hearing the Word preached. . . . Biblical, readable, and engaging."

—Harry L. Reeder III, Pastor/Teacher, Briarwood Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, Alabama

"How refreshing to read a work that insists on the supremacy of preaching in the local church."

—Dale Ralph Davis, Minister in Residence, First Presbyterian Church, Columbia, South Carolina

"In a day and age when the Word of God must compete with so many things that distract and vie for our hearts, David Strain opens the pages of the Bible to show the church why hearing the Bible preached is so vital to the Christian life. If you struggle to benefit from preaching, then this little book is the perfect tonic to invigorate your appreciation for the Word of God. Pick up this little book to see why 'the foolishness of preaching' contains Christ's words of wisdom, grace, and eternal life."

The Whole Counsel of God, Volume 3: God's People in the Western World

Richard Gamble's three-volume Whole Counsel of God explores the relationships between exegesis and hermeneutics and between biblical, systematic, and historical theology. In the final volume, Gamble examines how the church has handled God's holy Word throughout two thousand years of unfolding history. Readers will follow the development of theology in its context and, learning from the church's past mistakes, be better able to defend it to the world.

Richard C. Gamble (PhD, Universitat Basel) is professor of systematic theology at Reformed Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh. He previously taught at Reformed Theological Seminary, Orlando, Calvin College and Seminary, and Westminster Theological Seminary.

Endorsements from The Whole Counsel of God, Volumes 1 & 2

"In a field dominated by higher-critical methodologies, Gamble's work is a breath of fresh air; his approach is biblically faithful and engaging."

—John MacArthur

"A remarkably comprehensive analysis of God's New Testament revelation in Jesus Christ. Among the many admirable qualities of this major project are its clarity, historical accuracy, and sustained interaction with the full historical sweep of theology inclusive of the confessional Presbyterian and Reformed traditions. I highly recommend this volume."

—Peter A. Lillback

"A very comprehensive theological project, embracing the disciplines of biblical theology, historical theology, and systematic theology. Nothing comparable in scope has been done in the last hundred years within the circles of Reformed orthodoxy. I'm convinced that Rick Gamble is the man to do this job. With a doctorate from the University of Basel and an international reputation as a Calvin scholar, Rick has a formidable grasp of theological issues. His theological convictions are thoroughly biblical and Reformed. He's also a humble man of God who can write winsomely to the hearts of many sorts of readers. I hope this work has wide distribution and great influence in this time of theological confusion."

Karl Barth

Great Thinkers Series

Inviting readers to suspend their assumptions about this “towering figure” in theology, Professor Shao Kai Tseng, a notable Barth scholar, seeks to establish a fair interpretation of Barth’s writings that honors his texts and acknowledges his intellectual-biographical and intellectual-historical context. He also helpfully overviews Barth’s impact in both the East and the West to the present day. Professor Michael Horton writes, “I know of no other work that . . . explains Barth’s theology with such skill.”

Shao Kai (“Alex”) Tseng (MDiv, Regent College; ThM, Princeton Theological Seminary; MSt, DPhil, University of Oxford) is research professor in the philosophy department of Zhejiang University in Hangzhou, China. He is the author of Karl Barth’s Infralapsarian Theology and Barth’s Ontology of Sin and Grace, as well as books on Hegel, Kant, and Barth in the Great Thinkers series, and a contributor to the Oxford Handbook of Nineteenth-Century Christian Thought.

Endorsements

“On many points, as Professor Tseng shows, Barth has been misunderstood by friend and foe alike. I know of no other work that, in brief compass, explains Barth’s theology with such skill and engages it from a confessional Reformed perspective. Tethered to the primary sources, this work also displays the continuities and discontinuities with post-Barthian scholars—in Asia as well as the West. This is a gem.”

—Michael Horton, J. Gresham Machen Professor of Theology, Westminster Seminary California

“Evangelical and Reformed engagement with the theology of Karl Barth continues to develop and mature, and may enter a new era with Shao Kai Tseng’s work. He advances the conversation by bringing Barth into dialogue with the voices of Herman Bavinck and Geerhardus Vos and also by probing more deeply than either knee-jerk rejection or slavish acceptance of what Barth offers. This study will prove invaluable not just to those who teach on Barth but to all interested in the some of the most pressing concerns of the Christian worldview in the twenty-first century.”

—David Gibson, Minister - Trinity Church Aberdeen, Scotland

“Tseng accomplishes much in this little volume: He provides not only a brief overview of Barth’s theology, but also an account of its ongoing global significance, not least in Asia. Above all, Tseng is a confident interpreter who carries out a lively, constructive, evangelical engagement with Barth’s theology at a fundamental level.”

Hosea

Reformed Expository Commentary Series

The book of Hosea tells a simple, biographical tale that contains rich insight into the relationship between God and his people—the Israelites of the Bible and the Christians of today.

In this pastoral expository commentary, Richard Phillips walks readers through the story of Hosea verse by verse. God tells Hosea to marry a promiscuous woman named Gomer. Time after time, Gomer is unfaithful to her husband, but time after time Hosea shows her love and compassion. Their marriage illustrates God's continuous forgiveness for the Israelites, who have turned to other gods and idols like an adulterous spouse.

Phillips' in-depth commentary explores the powerful metaphor in Hosea with detail and clarity. The historical, biblical, and cultural information provided brings needed perspective for contemporary readers. Just as it served as a wake-up call to the Israelites, Hosea urges modern Christians to assess their own commitment to God.

Richard D. Phillips (MDiv, Westminster Theological Seminary; DD, Greenville Presbyterian Theological Seminary) is the senior minister of Second Presbyterian Church of Greenville, South Carolina. He is a council member of the Alliance of Confessing Evangelicals and of The Gospel Coalition, chairman of the Philadelphia Conference on Reformed Theology, and coeditor of the Reformed Expository Commentary series.

A Holy Minister

The Life and Spiritual Legacy of Robert Murray M'Cheyne

Jordan Stone

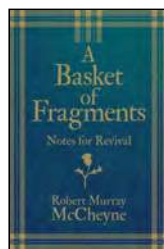

- Life & theology of great 19th Century preacher
- Often overlooked aspects of M'Cheyne's life
- Powerful model for pastors

Robert Murry M'Cheyne was a 19th century preacher who is known not only for his powerful preaching, but for his personal holiness. Jordan Stone examines the force behind this holiness – his love for and communion with Christ. M'Cheyne prayed for, preached for and pursued holiness because he understood it to be the mature expression of love to Christ. Let us allow his unrelenting passion for piety convict our contemporary complacency and help us learn how to abide in the love of Christ.

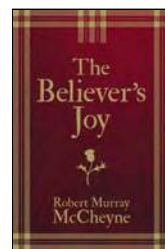

Jordan Stone

Jordan Stone (Ph.D. The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary) is the senior pastor of Redeemer PCA in McKinney, TX, and lecturer in practical theology at Reformed Theological Seminary, Dallas. He is married to Emily, and they are the proud parents of six children.

MENTOR

Stone brings to life a pastoral voice few outside of Scotland have heard, but every pastor needs. This book is a very concise, well-written, and accessible work that will act as a great introduction to Robert Murray M'Cheyne or a sweet reminder to those who already know him. I commend M'Cheyne to every pastor and this excellent work to get you started.

Brian Croft

Pastor, Auburndale Baptist Church, Louisville, Kentucky and Founder, Practical Shepherding

In terms of accessibility and usefulness to contemporary ministry I can think of no better book on M'Cheyne. Comprehensive and yet easily read it does not shy away from tough issues like how to deal with controversy.

David Meredith

Mission Director, Free Church of Scotland, Inverness

... there is danger in picking up this book. You will not only be inspired, you will be challenged. Christ's beauty and preciousness shined throughout M'Cheyne's life and ministry, as evidenced on every page of this book.

Jason Helopoulos

Senior Pastor, University Reformed Church, East Lansing, Michigan

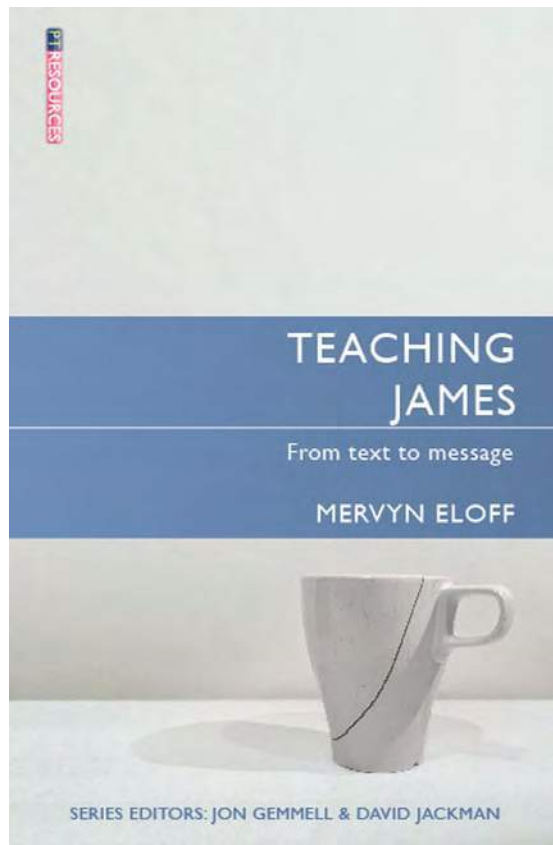

The piety of M'Cheyne, pulsing with love to Christ, is his great legacy, and Stone helps us to understand it in M'Cheyne and to long for it in ourselves. It is not to make much of M'Cheyne that we should read this book, but to learn from M'Cheyne how a revived ministry will ordinarily be the instrument of a revived church.

Teaching James

From Text to Message

Mervyn Eloff

- Part of 'Teaching' series from Proclamation Trust
- Great for preachers, teachers, small group leaders

The letter of James is a much loved epistle in the New Testament. People warm to its seemingly practical nature as it instructs us in the nuts and bolts of the Christian life. However, it is not an easy letter to preach and teach. People struggle to see how the letter fits together and are confused about its overall theme and purpose. This is where Teaching James will prove to be of great assistance. Mervyn Eloff will guide you through the intricate detail of the letter whilst never losing sight of the overall theme and purpose of this dynamic Bible book. A book that is as potent and challenging today as it was when the dispersed Christians read it in the First Century.

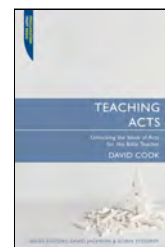

Mervyn Eloff

Mervyn Eloff is Rector of St James Church, Kenilworth, in Cape Town, South Africa. Prior to joining the team at St James, Mervyn served as Vice-Principal of George Whitefield College in South Africa (REACH SA). Mervyn also serves as Associate Director (Africa) for the Charles Simeon Trust. He is married to Alison and they have two adult daughters.

Here is a clear, transparent and thorough analysis for preachers – or anyone who wants to work through this Bible book. Years of experience and thoughtful evaluations are distilled into this great resource for anyone preparing to teach through James.

Nat Schluter

Principal, Johannesburg Bible College,
 Johannesburg, South Africa

Eloff's careful and nuanced work in the text of James makes this an invaluable volume for anyone seeking to preach or teach from this rich letter. Especially useful are the section on the melodic line of the letter and clarity of the theme statements throughout. This is probably the best thing I've read on James.

Robert Kinney

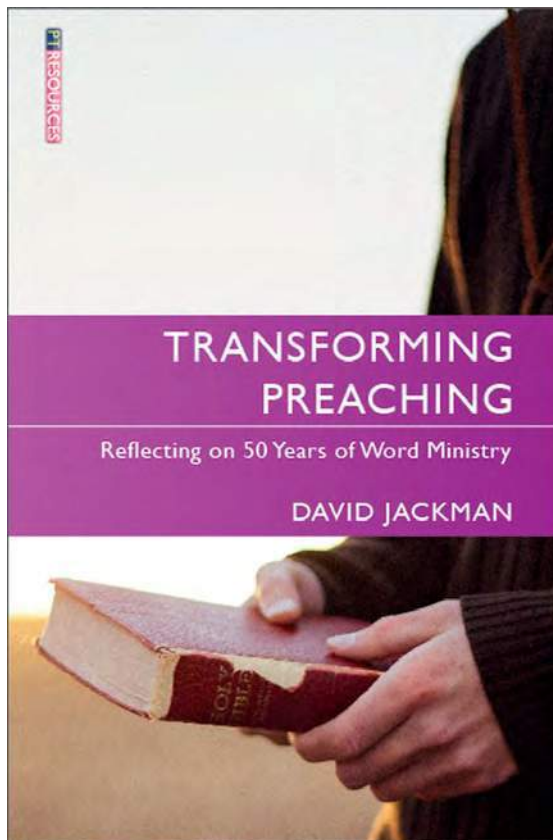

Director of Ministries, Simeon Trust

Reading through Teaching James has proved to be both challenging and encouraging. I've been convicted to address the all too familiar inconsistencies in my own life as well as stirred to convey these deeply applicable truths of James to others. May God use this book to give that same momentum to your Christian life and teaching.

This book draws together a host of themes and vital questions for preachers and would–be preachers, addressing them with the thoroughgoing biblical understanding and deep pastoral wisdom so many of us admire in David. ... there are few whose insights are so valuable to those who would follow him in this task.

William Philip

This book is full of refreshing wisdom that is so useful and hugely relevant to my ministry. I have highlighted vast swathes of it and have already found myself putting many ideas into practice. I will keep returning to this book and sharing it over many years to come.

David Seckington

It must be nearly impossible for a book on preaching by David Jackman (reliable, proven, full–orbed preacher that he has been for fifty years) to be anything but searching, loaded with treasure and heartening. That's how I found this book to be and that's how I'm sure it will be for you too. I thank God for David and this 'conversation' he has given us on the task that is key to the future of the church.

The Trial of the 16th Century

Calvin & Servetus

Jonathan Moorhead

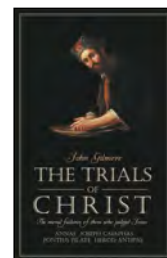

- Controversial trial of a heretic
- Role of Calvin in execution of Servetus
- Encourages thinking about ethics of telling history

The execution of Michael Servetus (1511–53) is one of the most debated events in the life of John Calvin (1509–1564). It has left an indelible stain on his reputation and the retelling of the story is often dependent on the historian's relationship to Calvinism. Jonathan Moorhead here seeks to give a faithful narrative of the role of John Calvin in the execution of Michael Servetus. He examines the life of Servetus, with emphasis given to his education, publications, and relationship with John Calvin.

Becoming a Girl of Loyalty--True Girl Bible Studies

DANNAH GRESH

Ruth was a young woman who lived at a time when people seemed to only care about themselves—not God. And certainly not each other. So imagine how remarkable it was when Ruth gave up everything—her comfort, home, and even hope for a future—to travel to a foreign land to help her friend in need. Though Ruth would have nothing, she went anyway! And as you'll see, the story turns out pretty amazing. In Ruth: Becoming a Girl of Loyalty, a six-week study, you'll enter Ruth's story and learn how you can also become loyal, loving, and godly.

True Girl Bible Studies feature important women from the Bible so that from their examples, we can learn what it looks like to be a True Girl. Each study is designed to help moms lead their daughters deeply into the Word of God so that they can develop a steady love for Scripture. Together, moms and daughters can discover what it means to be a True Girl after God's own heart.

When her friend was in need, Ruth remained loyal.

Jack Turner
Truth in the Arctic
David Luckman

- Adventures in the arctic
- Pharmacist, pastor and Bible translator
- Part of the popular Trail Blazers series

Jack Turner was trained pharmacist and pastor who went to the arctic to translate God's Word into the native language. It was a world of snow and hunting and anyone who lived there had to become familiar with the ways of living in the arctic. Ten weeks out of every year the sun never set and for three months the world was in complete darkness. The spiritual darkness of the North was being pushed back by the power of the Gospel and the Lord Jesus Christ that Jack Turner followed. But danger is around every corner in the wild North – and Jack runs into trouble.

Elaine Townsend

At Home Around the World

Simona Gorton

- From fashionable 1930's Chicago to missionary life
- Wycliffe missionary and Cameron Townsend's wife
- Biography for 9–14-year-olds

Elaine Townsend was a bright young thing in 1930's Chicago. She once won an award for being 'The Best Protestant' and was given an amazing prize which enabled her to go on a round the world trip. This was a unique experience but one that she would continue to do in later life after she had come to faith in Christ. However, it wouldn't be trips and luxury travel – rather the hard work and sacrifice of missionary endeavour. When she became a Wycliffe missionary and Cameron Townsend's wife Elaine discovered how adventurous life can be when you simply say yes to God. It was as though being God's servant meant that the whole world was her home.

Simona Gorton lives in Snohomish with her husband, little girl, and two big dogs. They spend lots of time outside and love to read books together. Simona also serves as the International Project Manager for 9Marks.

I Love You to the Stars

When Grandma Forgets, Love Remembers

Crystal Bowman and Doug Groothuis
Illustrated by Robert Sauber

Helping children find their way through the confusing world of a loved one developing dementia

Grandma has come to live with Noah's family, and he couldn't be happier. They put together puzzles, read books, and play with Sunny, Grandma's dog. And she never misses a chance to tell Noah that she loves him "to the stars."

But lately Grandma hasn't been the same. She does funny things like putting her shoes in the bathtub, and not so funny things like getting lost and forgetting how to read. Mom explains that Grandma's brain has gotten sick, and it makes her forget things. That means it's their job to remember for her—and to make sure she always knows that she is loved as much as she loves them.

With thoughtful, child-friendly language and warm, painterly illustrations, I Love You to the Stars is a beautiful book that helps children understand the often-scary reality of a grandparent or older friend experiencing dementia. It can be read with an adult, along with the discussion questions included at the end of the book, or pulled from the shelf by little hands whenever they need a reminder that love is always there.

God Made Us Just Right

Allia Zobel Nolan; illustrated by Katy Hudson

No need to compare—God has a reason for creating everyone just the way they are!

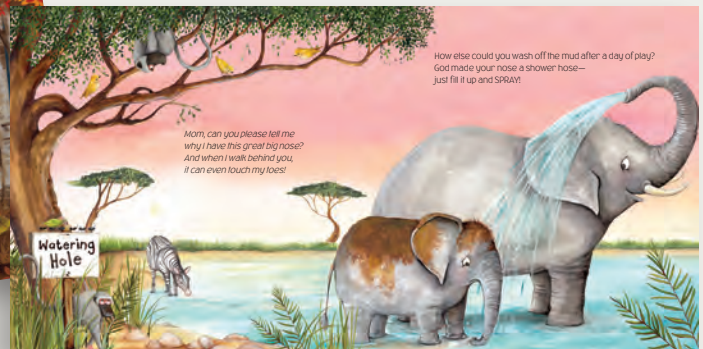

How come puppies get to bark, but kittens can't? Why do elephants have such long trunks when other animals don't risk tripping over their noses? What's the point of all these differences?

Through playful illustrations of animals and warmhearted words in rhyme, young children will see God as their loving creator. God Made Us Just Right helps them realize that God has a reason for creating us just the way we are.

Kids who are always asking, "Why, Mom?" and "How come, Dad?" will easily relate to the back-and-forth question-and-answer format. It's a book the whole family will enjoy.

DANNAH GRESH
MIRIAM

Becoming a Girl of Courage -- True Girl Bible Studies

Young Miriam had to hide her infant brother in the Nile River while danger lurked. Later, she had to deal with sibling rivalry when Moses led God’s people out of Egypt. Miriam’s life reminds us that a True Girl practices courageous leadership right now because a leader is what she’s becoming. Though leaders are imperfect, God offers us a second chance to get things right.

True Girl Bible Studies feature important women from the Bible so that from their examples, we can learn what it looks like to be a True Girl. Each study is designed to help moms lead their daughters deeply into the Word of God so they can develop a steady love for Scripture. Together, moms and daughters can discover what it means to be a True Girl after God’s own heart.

Miriam wasn’t perfect . . . but with God’s power, her courage changed the world.
