The Nature and Work of the Holy Spirit

Christian Essentials Series

New series being produced in partnership with Third Millennium Ministries

The Holy Spirit is the person of the Trinity most involved in our daily lives—but what do we know about him? Here we discover how the doctrine of doctrine of the Holy Spirit's distinct personhood developed historically, exploring his presence in the Old and New Testament. Readers will come to understand the Spirit's dynamic work in the world, in the church, and in believers.

Ra McLaughlin (MDiv, Reformed Theological Seminary) is vice president of operations and finances for Third Millennium. His publications include the NLT Discover God Study Bible (Tyndale, 2007; ECPA Christian Book Award winner), for which he was both a contributor and an editor; and the NIV Spirit of the Reformation Study Bible (Zondervan, 2003; ECPA Gold Medallion nominee), for which he served as associate general editor.

Endorsements

"This series represents the culmination of years of research, teaching and outreach by the team at 'Third Mill.' Hammered out on the anvil of experience, it is highly accessible while being doctrinally solid. It should be acquired and utilized by every serious Christian, whatever their language, whatever their challenges, whatever their stage of maturity."

—William Edgar, Professor of Apologetics, Westminster Theological Seminary Philadelphia

"From the start, the aspiration of Thirdmill has been to put a seminary education—or the closest approximation of that they can manage—into a highly accessible box and give it away to as many people around the world as want it. Like practically everyone else who has any opportunity to peer into the advance of Reformed theological education throughout the world, I have seen the abundant fruit of their labors and am profoundly grateful for their work."

—Bruce P. Baugus, Associate Professor of Philosophy & Theology Reformed Theological Seminary Jackson

"Who is God? How can anyone know who he is? According to the Scriptures, God so wants to be known that he has revealed himself in the world he has made, in the Bible, and perfectly in Christ. Thus, Christians confess belief in one God, the Father Almighty, in his Son Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Spirit. In this series of short books, the biblical and historical evidence for belief in the triune God is presented in clear and easily accessible form. An excellent survey of these doctrines written in a worshipful and practical style, they will help the reader not only to know about God, but to know him intimately and to serve him faithfully."

—Glenn R. Kreider, Acting Chair and Professor of Theological Studies, Dallas Theological Seminary

The Life and Work of Jesus

Christian Essentials Series

New series being produced in partnership with Third Millennium Ministries

The Life and Work of Jesus describes the doctrines of the Trinity and the incarnation and examines Jesus' life and ministry—past, present, and future. Readers will better understand the most complex and significant person who has ever lived. Used by seminaries, churches, and organizations on six continents, this Master's-level material from Third Millennium Ministries is written in accessible language and rigorously vetted, making it ideal for any student of theology.

Ra McLaughlin (MDiv, Reformed Theological Seminary) is vice president of operations and finances for Third Millennium. His publications include the NLT DiscoverGod Study Bible (Tyndale, 2007; ECPA Christian Book Award winner), for which he was both a contributor and an editor; and the NIV Spirit of the Reformation Study Bible (Zondervan, 2003; ECPA Gold Medallion nominee), for which he served as associate general editor.

Christopher Caudle (MA, Reformed Theological Seminary) is rector of New Covenant Church in Winter Springs, Florida.

Endorsements

"Third Millennium's books on the Triune God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, are a singular resource for the church. They stand in the great tradition of orthodox Christianity. They are grounded in Scripture, they rest on the work of godly experts, and they will prove beneficial for church leaders and disciples alike. These works will serve God's people worldwide for many years."

—Dan Doriani, Professor of Biblical and Systematic Theology and Vice President at Large, Covenant Theological Seminary

"Third Millennium Ministries has pulled together an exceptional team of pastors, theologians, and Bible scholars to write a biblically sound, theologically informed, practically oriented curriculum for personal study and also for use in schools and churches. Millions of Christians in China, Russia, Europe, North America, the Middle East, and many other places already use this global curriculum online."

—Philip Ryken, President of Wheaton College

"These solid, clear, vital presentations of the central doctrines of Christian theology provide sustaining foundational nutrition for a growing Christian. The combination of biblical insight and historical development gives a well-rounded, mature expression of the importance of doctrine both for the being and the well-being of the church."

—Thomas J. Nettles, Visiting Professor of Historical Theology, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary

The Attributes and Work of God

Christian Essentials Series

New series being produced in partnership with Third Millennium Ministries

The Attributes and Works of God considers God's attributes, eternal plan, and works in history, with a special focus on his decrees, creation, and providence. Readers will be given the fundamentals for understanding themselves and their world. Used by seminaries, churches, and organizations on six continents, this Master's-level material from Third Millennium Ministries is written in accessible language and rigorously vetted, making it ideal for any student of theology.

Richard L. Pratt Jr. (MDiv, Union Theological Seminary; ThD, Harvard University) is president of Third Millennium Ministries. He is adjunct professor of Old Testament at Reformed Theological Seminary and is the author of Pray with Your Eyes Open, He Gave Us Stories, and Every Thought Captive.

Endorsements

"Thousands of people all over the world have already benefited from Third Millennium's theological resources, which explain complex theology in terms anyone can understand. I am happy to see these volumes appear in print for the first time. They are suitable for pastors, students, and lay people---anyone who seeks to understand the coherent teaching of the Bible and why it matters today."

—Brandon Crowe, Professor of New Testament, WTS

"The Christian Essentials series provides a wonderful service to the Church of the Lord Jesus Christ. It is theologically rich without being dense. Scholars, pastors and laypersons will find these works immensely valuable. I am delighted to commend the series and its use for those who want to grow in their knowledge of the key doctrines of the faith once for all delivered to the saints."

—Daniel Akin, President of SEBTS

"For over two decades Third Millennium Ministries has provided to church leaders around the world, in many languages, through various media, and without charge, robust theological education that is clear and biblical, expressing the consensus of Reformational Christians. Now the Third Millennium staff, led by Dr. Richard Pratt, is converting the online curriculum into a print-format series, including meaty, rich 'sound bites' from an array of evangelical biblical scholars and theologians. I believe that this series will do much equip readers with a sound grasp of the great truths of God's Word."

God's Attributes

Making Him Known series

We all want our children to love God and serve him. But how can they do either well unless they know him?

This colorfully illustrated family devotional makes it easy to introduce your children to the attributes of God—giving them a solid foundational knowledge of God on which they can build their faith. Accompanied by Scripture, discussion questions, and activities, each entry explores one of God's attributes and encourages readers to delight in these qualities and apply them to daily life. By promoting critical thinking and reflection, Jill Nelson provides the tools your children need to embrace the doctrine of God for themselves.

Bridge the gap between biblical truth and real-life application—and help your children to love God even better!

Jill Nelson has taught Sunday school for more than thirty years and now writes children's and youth curriculum for Truth78. As well as authoring God's Gospel and God's Attributes in the Making Him Known series, Jill develops training seminars, articles, and other resources relating to children's and youth ministry. She and her husband, Bruce, live in the Minneapolis area and enjoy spending time with their daughter Sarah and her husband Matt, son Jacob and his wife Amanda, and their grandchildren.

Endorsements

"Relational, interactive, understandable, theological . . . a great book."

—Marty Machowski, Pastor, Author of Long Story Short and The Gospel Story Bible

"As a parent, I loved teaching my children the character of God in simplified form. Why? Because as we were reading together, I was being taught at the same time. My faith was being built. For this reason, I am thrilled to recommend this new resource by Jill Nelson. This book will be a wonderful aid to parents and grandparents as they seek to disciple the hearts of their children."

—Chap Bettis, Author, The Disciple-Making Parent

"God's Attributes is a glorious tour of the excellencies of God—ideal for the next generation! Crafted by master teacher Jill Nelson, this newest book in the Making Him Known series gives parents yet another resource to point little hearts to a big God. Using vivid analogies and pointed questions, Jill seeks not merely to educate the mind but to thrill the heart and transform a life."

A Still and Quiet Mind

Twelve Strategies for Changing Unwanted Thoughts

For some people, unwanted thoughts are a nagging discomfort. Others experience them as a brutal and invisible form of torture. Are you distracted by racing or anxious thoughts? Distressed by intrusive or irrational thoughts? Struggling with sinful or untrue thoughts? You may feel trapped in your own head, but God has given you many different ways to calm your mind and live at peace.

In this practical and sympathetic guidebook, biblical counselor Esther Smith lays out twelve powerful strategies for addressing unwanted thoughts. You will learn which thoughts to fight and take captive—and which thoughts to slow down, set aside, sit with, and more. As you get to know your thoughts, observing them rather than being swept away by them, you will learn how to bring them into God's presence in an intentional, life-giving way. A variety of simple and effective exercises in each chapter give you the tools you need to start changing your thoughts today.

Esther Smith (MA in Counseling, Liberty University; Certificate from Christian Counseling and Educational Foundation) is a licensed counselor who specializes in helping people who experience trauma, anxiety, and physical illness. She is the author of A Still and Quiet Mind and Chronic Illness (31-Day Devotionals for Life) and coauthor of The Whole Life.

Endorsements

"Thoughts can be mysterious. Determining where they come from and what they mean often triggers more distress than comfort. If you struggle with unwanted thoughts and don't know what to do, this book is your answer. Every page arms readers with strategies that are both powerful and biblical and provides realistic direction that is grounded in the promises of the Lord's care."

—Eliza Huie, Director of Counseling, McLean Bible Church, DC Metropolitan Area; Dean of Biblical Counseling, Metro Baltimore Seminary

"In A Still and Quiet Mind, Esther Smith skillfully describes the art of biblically processing unwanted thoughts. This book offers you a multifaceted approach to changing your thoughts by giving you biblically saturated strategies that you can immediately put into practice. Esther offers hope as she shares her own personal story and provides biblical narratives that show how the power of God's Word can transform your thinking.."

—Shannon Kay McCoy, ACBC Biblical Counseling Director, Valley Center Community Church; Council Member, Biblical Counseling Coalition

"Esther Smith has written the most practical and biblically faithful book on navigating unwanted thoughts that we have ever encountered. Her combination of compassion and creativity makes it feel as though she is stepping from the pages of the book, putting her arms around the reader, and leading them personally through exercises toward real change."

Age of Opportunity, Revised and Expanded

A Biblical Guide to Parenting Teens

For a parent, the teen years are years of unprecedented opportunity—years of penetrating questions and exciting new discussions, years that open the door to a teen’s heart. In this wise and hopeful book, Paul Tripp shows parents how to connect with their children as never before, drawing on practical strategies shaped by God’s Word. This new edition features fresh, heart-focused discussion questions for each chapter as well as a bonus Q&A section.

Paul David Tripp is president of Paul Tripp Ministries and author of a number of books, including bestsellers such as Instruments in the Redeemer’s Hands. Now an international conference speaker, he has also taught at Westminster Theological Seminary and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He and his wife, Luella, have four grown children. Learn more about his ministry at PaulTripp.com.

Endorsements

“The hope in this book is not distant from the battles; it shines in the dark.”

—Kathleen Nielson

“This is a game-changing book for parents of teens.”

—Cameron Cole

“Paul’s updated classic work offers the one hope for parents and teens: the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus.”

—Elyse Fitzpatrick

“Age of Opportunity avoids a formulaic how-to approach to rearing children and instead shows how to apply the gospel to the unique spiritual struggles of your child’s heart. . . . Though I have read dozens of parenting books, two or three have profoundly reshaped my whole approach. Age of Opportunity is one of those.”

Haggai, Zechariah, Malachi

Pointing to the Promised King

Living Word Bible Studies

Haggai, Zechariah, Malachi delves into the writings of three prophets who challenged and encouraged God's post-exilic people—and asks how their words continue to challenge and encourage believers today.

Kathleen Nielson is an author and speaker who loves working with women in studying the Scriptures. She has taught literature (PhD, Vanderbilt University), directed women's Bible studies in local churches, and served as director of The Gospel Coalition's Women's Initiatives from 2010 to 2017. She and her husband, Niel, make their home partly in Wheaton, Illinois, and partly in Jakarta, Indonesia, where Niel helps to lead a network of Christian schools and universities. They have three sons, three daughters-in-law, and eight grandchildren.

Endorsements

"Kathleen Nielson is well-known for her Bible studies. They do not take the place of commentaries (as she is the first to point out), nor are they cluttered with "clever" bits that somehow manage to distract the reader's attention away from the biblical text. Rather, in line with her earlier contributions, this study helps the reader to read and understand the text; carefully locates the words of these postexilic prophets in their place in redemptive history, thus contributing to one's grasp of the Bible as a whole; and is designed to edify the thoughtful reader by thinking God's thoughts after him."

—D. A. Carson, Emeritus Professor of New Testament, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School

"Kathleen Nielson has served the church with an engaging, well-informed, and biblically and theologically astute study of three minor prophets. The disciple-making church always needs strong Bible studies, and every church needs to learn from the prophets Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi. Kathleen Nielson has served the church well in both ways."

—Daniel M. Doriani, Professor of Theology and Vice President, Covenant Theological Seminary

"In a context in which many fear a seeming incline in Western society's hostility toward the church and a seeming decline in the Western church's strength, I can think of no more relevant books than Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi to offer needed hope. Nor can I think of a more expert guide than Kathleen Nielson in helping us to take hold of that hope. I will be recommending her material far and wide, to Christians and non-Christians alike."

—Mary Willson Hannah, Professor of Old Testament, Memphis City Seminary

Song of Songs

Friendship on Fire

Reformed Expository Bible Studies

Don't fear this book! Song of Songs is an instructive yet appropriately modest depiction of the love between a man and a woman—and a beautiful picture of Christ's love for the church. Often misunderstood, this inspired book of Scripture has much to teach all believers, regardless of our relationship status.

This Reformed Expository Bible Study is designed for personal and group use. Each lesson connects to the rest of the Bible and holds to the same standards as the Reformed Expository Commentary series: a high view of Scripture; a Christ-centered focus; a Reformed theological basis; and an emphasis on personal application and prayer.

Jon Nielson is senior pastor of Spring Valley Presbyterian Church in Roselle, Illinois, and the author of Bible Study: A Student's Guide. He has served in pastoral positions at Holy Trinity Church, Chicago and College Church, Wheaton, Illinois, and as director of training for the Charles Simeon Trust.

Endorsements

To Live Is Christ

Reformed Expository Bible Studies

Writing with warmth and frankness, Paul lays down important theological truths and uses them as the basis for transforming our lives and relationships. Ultimately he shows how we can move from selfishness and self-confidence to self-giving, contentment, and confidence in Christ.

This Reformed Expository Bible Study is designed for personal and group use. Each lesson connects to the rest of the Bible and holds to the same standards as the Reformed Expository Commentary series: a high view of Scripture; a Christ-centered focus; a Reformed theological basis; and an emphasis on personal application and prayer.

When People Are Big and God Is Small, Second Edition

Overcoming Peer Pressure, Codependency, and the Fear of Man

Overly concerned about what people think of you? Welch uncovers the spiritual dimension of people-pleasing and points the way through a true knowledge of God, ourselves, and others.

Edward T. Welch is a counselor and faculty member at the Christian Counseling and Educational Foundation (CCEF). He is author of a number of books, including When People Are Big and God Is Small and Addictions: A Banquet in the Grave.

Endorsements from previous edition

"Need people less. Love people more. That's the author's challenge. . . . He's talking about a tendency to hold other people in awe, to be controlled and mastered by them, to depend on them for what God alone can give. . . . [Welch] proposes an antidote: the fear of God . . . the believer's response to God's power, majesty and not least his mercy."

—Dallas Morning News

"Biblical and practical. The readers does not need a problem with peer pressure or codependency to profit from this book. Opens our eyes and directs us back to God and his Word to overcome the fear of man."

—The Baptist Bulletin

"Much needed in our own day. User friendly as a resource for Sunday School or home bible study. Here is a volume that church libraries and book tables ought to have. Its theme is contemporary. Its answer is thoroughly biblical."

—The Presbyterian Witness

"Refreshingly biblical. . . . brimming with helpful, readable, practical insight."

—John F. MacArthur Jr.

"Ed Welch is a good physician of the soul. This book is enlightening, convicting, and encouraging. I highly recommend it."

—Jerry Bridges

"Readable and refreshing. . . . goes to the heart of an issue immobilizing the church. Exposes and repudiates the trivia of therapeutic theology with wisdom and compassion."

The Heart of the Cross

The heart of Christianity is simple, yet its implications are profound. This meditative book draws far-reaching lessons from the crucifixion and additional New Testament teaching on the cross.

James Montgomery Boice (BA, Harvard; BD, Princeton; ThD, University of Basel) was the pastor of historic Tenth Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia.

Philip Graham Ryken is president of Wheaton College. He is Bible teacher for the Alliance of Confessing Evangelicals, speaking nationally on the radio program Every Last Word. Dr. Ryken was educated at Wheaton College, Westminster Theological Seminary, and the University of Oxford, where he received his doctorate in historical theology. He and his wife, Lisa, have five children.

Endorsements

"This book is pure, undiluted gospel. We will never exhaust the wonder of the cross, as this series of reflections by Dr. Boice and Dr. Ryken makes plain. Biblical, accessible, and worshipful. I warmly commend it."

—Dane Ortlund, Senior Pastor, Naperville Presbyterian Church, Naperville, Illinois; Author, Gentle and Lowly

"Evangelicalism today stands in deep need of renewal. The best place to start for that renewal is the very center of what marks evangelicalism—the evangel, the good news in Christ. And the center of that good news is the cross of Christ. That's why I'm excited about the new release of The Heart of the Cross. True to the title, the authors take the reader on a journey to see both the simplicity and the inexhaustible depths of the cross of Christ. From the last sayings of Jesus on the cross to the breadth of the New Testament, Ryken and Boice reveal both the wonder and the work of Jesus as it impacts time and eternity, informing our worship and our discipleship. Read this and be taken back to the heart of our faith: the cross."

—Ed Stetzer, Founding Editor, The Gospel Project; Editor in Chief, Outreach Magazine

"The symbol of the cross is seen jutting into the sky from ancient cathedrals and is also worn as jewelry. I have even seen it tattooed on the body. Symbols are reminders, but The Heart of the Cross takes the reader on a personal journey to the real cross of Christ, where one stands amazed at the unfathomable grace of God. In reading this book, Christians and non-Christians will be reminded that the cross of Christ is the heart of the Christian faith."

—Gary Chapman, Author, The Five Love Languages

"Here you find not only beautiful Lenten messages on the purpose and power of the cross of our Lord Jesus but messages that will enlighten and encourage you all year long. Nothing is more important than having a clear understanding of what Christ accomplished for sinners on the cross and how we can experience it. Here we see his glory."

—Kevin M. Smith, Senior Pastor, New City Fellowship Church, Chattanooga

Faith That Endures

A Practical Commentary on the Book of Hebrews

J. Dwight Pentecost

NEW

Guides the reader through the rich historical meaning and contemporary applications of Hebrews

While the details of our lives may differ from those of the people to whom the book of Hebrews was written, there are some things that never change. We live in a hostile, unredeemed world, in an unredeemed body, and have an unredeemed nature within us. Because we belong to Christ, we are targets of the Enemy's attacks . . .

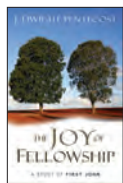

“The help the author of Hebrews gave to those in circumstances similar to ours will provide the help we need to live victoriously by faith. His exhortations to patiently endure and his warnings against moving backward in our spiritual experience are still valid. They show us the importance of walking by faith.”

—from the Preface

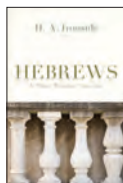

This verse-by-verse study of one of the New Testament's most challenging books not only provides helpful insights into the structure and meaning of Hebrews, but also emphasizes the practical application of its truth in numerous “mini-commentaries” located throughout the book.

J. Dwight Pentecost (1915–2014) was distinguished professor emeritus of Bible exposition at Dallas Theological Seminary where he taught for fifty-eight years. He was also senior pastor of Grace Bible Church in Dallas. His over twenty books include Thy Kingdom Come: Tracing God's Kingdom Program and Covenant Promises Throughout History; The Parables of Jesus: Lessons in Life from the Master Teacher; and Design for Discipleship: Discovering God's Blueprint for the Christian Life.

Fruit Full

100 Family Experiences for Growing in the Fruit of the Spirit

Christie Thomas

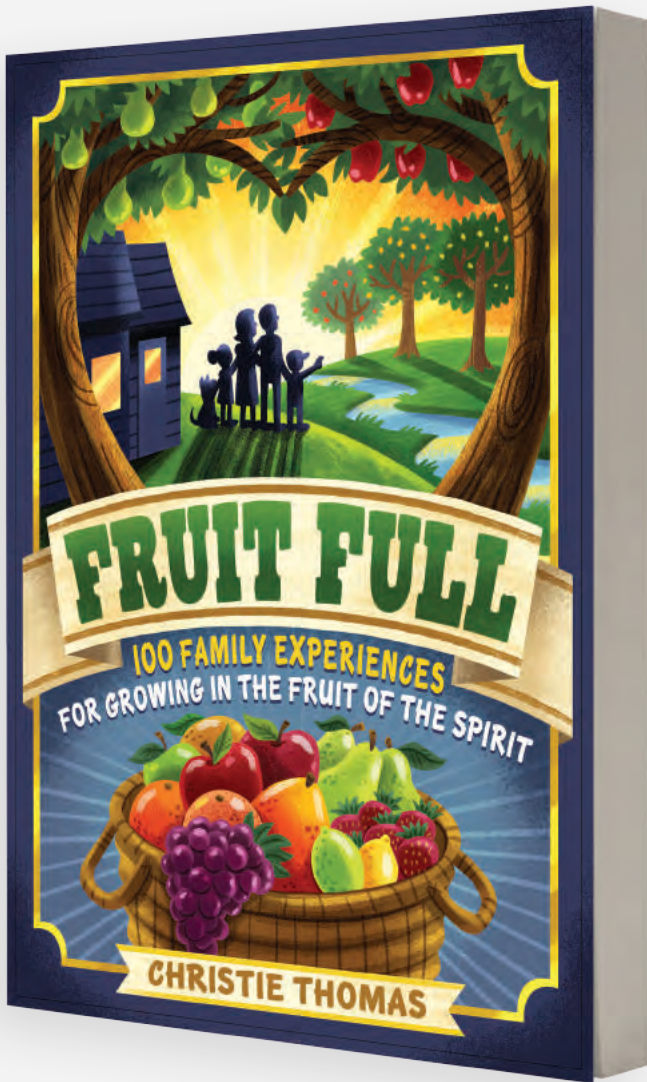

A fun family devotional inspiring families to understand the fruit of the Spirit

It's common for kids to memorize the fruit of the Spirit: love, joy, peace, goodness, self-control, and so on. But that doesn't mean they understand what it means. Is peace just not fighting with your siblings? Does self-control mean resisting a second dessert? If these concepts are explained only in terms of morality, we miss the mark.

Christie Thomas is skilled at taking complex ideas and making them accessible to kids . . . and adults learn a lot along the way too. Each of her devotionals in Fruit Full is designed to help parents connect their children with the Holy Spirit through a Scripture passage, thought-provoking questions, ways to apply each verse, and a prayer. And for each fruit, parents can use the optional hands-on activities when there's time.

Perfect for kicking off the New Year as a family, these 100 devotional experiences include illustrated examples of each fruit of the Spirit. They demonstrate the hands, heart, and habits of Jesus and also teach children to spend quality time with God. By understanding how he covers them with his goodness and love, and how his Spirit helps them grow their own beautiful, Jesus-reflecting character, the whole family will be encouraged to grow abundant "fruit" together.

Christie Thomas is a homeschooling mom and author in Alberta, Canada. She has been the director of children's ministries at Bethel Community Church in her hometown, and is the author of Quinn's Promise Rock and The Mother and Son Prayer Journal. Journey

A Study of Peter for Stumbling Toward Jesus's Extravagant Grace

Jodie Niznik

A REAL PEOPLE, REAL FAITH BIBLE STUDY

Discover how Peter's broken pursuit of Jesus can offer us hope and courage

Peter was an ordinary man of his time. He started as a humble, hardworking fisherman. But he ended his life with a lasting legacy that still inspires Christians worldwide today. His path from one to the other wasn't smooth or straight. And there is enormous hope in understanding his rocky, stumbling journey of following Jesus.

In this eight-week Bible study, Jodie Niznik delves into the ways Peter's missteps and failures reveal God's grace. When Jesus met Peter in those broken places and called him to get back up, dust himself off, and keep following, we are, in turn, taught how to follow Jesus in our own lives. Along the way, Niznik emphasizes mindfulness practices to readers, inviting them to come to each week's study with a quiet mind and ready heart.

There is no wallowing in mistakes here, however. Instead, drawing on all four gospels and other supporting Scriptures, Jodie invites readers to see the grace, mercy, and correction of Jesus in the life of Peter, and then to draw parallels to modern Christian lives. Each chapter begins with a spiritual practice that ties into the week's theme to help women engage their heart in the study.

Though Peter lived two thousand years ago, he is proof that if God can use an imperfect life like his, then God can and will use Christians today, despite all those ways they feel themselves failing, coming up short, and falling away.

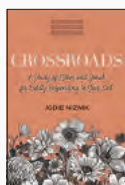

Jodie Niznik has served in pastoral ministry for over twelve years. She is the author of the Real People, Real Faith Bible Study series, including Choose: A Study of Moses for a Life That Matters, Crossroads: A Study of Esther and Jonah for Boldly Responding to Your Call, and Trust: A Study of Joseph for Persevering Through Life's Challenges. She lives in Flower Mound, Texas.

We've Been There

True Stories, Surprising Insights, and Aha Moments for Adopted Teens

Susan TeBos

Candid, unfiltered stories about how it feels to be a teen adoptee

The teen years are full of uncomfortable self-discovery for everyone. But adopted teens grapple with issues that make the coming of age journey immensely more difficult. Many don't have words for what they're feeling, sensing, or believing about themselves. They often don't have anyone like them to help work through their struggles. Forced to cope on their own, they end up feeling isolated.

Adoption advocate and adoptive mom Susan TeBos has watched her own children go through these struggles. Often she wished for a voice that would resonate with adopted teens—her own and others—and authentically meet them where they are.

She found not one voice, but many: over thirty older adopted teens and young adults. We've Been There gathers their stories, giving readers a front-row seat to people with similar stories and feelings.

This book is an unprecedented glimpse into the unfiltered feelings, thoughts, experiences, and unanswered questions that well up in the heart of every person with adoption in their story. From people who have been there as adopted kids, this book not only invites adopted teens to bring their concerns into the open, but also helps them process how they feel and offers them hope on the other side. In these pages, teen adoptees will understand themselves in a whole new way and find reassurance and a sense of belonging as part of a global adopted community.

Susan TeBos is a writer, speaker, Bible study leader, and a former marketing professional at Amway Corporation. She and her husband, Mike, have adopted three children from Siberia, and the family makes their home in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Susan is an adoption advocate and the coauthor of Before You Were Mine: Discovering Your Adopted Child's Life Story.

Isaiah

Discovering Assurance Through Prophecies About Your Mighty King

Sue Edwards

DISCOVER TOGETHER BIBLE STUDY

Move from a focus on current circumstances to a trust in a future with King Jesus

It's not breaking news that the world is in turmoil. Disease, economic issues, global and political unrest—combined, they threaten to overwhelm us all with despair of ever achieving peace. In addition, many Christians have been told that they are responsible for bringing heaven to earth. They believe that if they can do enough good deeds, they will make life beautiful again.

Sue Edwards argues that this attitude is not only unrealistic, it causes many believers to lose the courage and stamina it takes to follow Christ. The answer to this dilemma—as to so many others—is found in Scripture. Isaiah's prophecies of the coming King are a reminder that it is only when Jesus returns and sets up his kingdom that the promise of true justice and peace on earth will be fulfilled.

Shifting focus to the exciting future and away from unrealistic, impossible expectations of the present frees believers to live with adventurous anticipation and emotional health. It's good news for a generation of overwhelmed Christians!

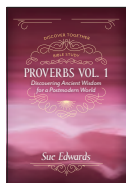

With her trademark clarity and impeccable scholarship, Sue Edwards mines Isaiah for the prophecies that ignite a freeing confidence for readers in her latest addition to the popular Discover Together Bible Study series.

Sue Edwards (MA, Dallas Theological Seminary; D.Min., Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary) is associate professor of educational ministry and leadership at Dallas Theological Seminary. She has more than twenty-five years of experience teaching, pastoring, and directing women's ministries. In addition, Sue speaks at retreats, conferences, and seminars across the country, and is author of Organic Mentoring and coauthor of Organic Ministry to Women. From the Garden to the City, Revised Edition

The Place of Technology in the Story of God

John Dyer

From ancient tools to modern devices, technology is part of what it means to be human and honor God

Christian discussion of technology tends to focus along prescriptive lines. Don't look at the wrong pictures. Don't interact with pride or wrath on social media. Be careful not to join an immodest TikTok trend. Listen only to Christian music and Christian podcasts.

But a biblical perspective on technology goes far deeper than how tools are used, and involves much more than the electronics that pervade today's world. Technology is, in fact, a foundational part of what it means to be human—and it extends back to the very beginning of creation. Technology was included in what God declared “good.” But like all things impacted by the fall, it has immense power to rewire us for good or bad.

John Dyer's popular From the Garden to the City is back in this fully revised and updated edition, moving beyond moralism in order to examine technology as essentially human and totally transformative. Perfect for both classroom use and individual contemplation, this book encourages readers to open their minds to see our technological world with biblical vision.

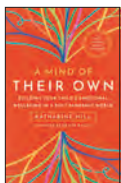

“Creative, unpredictable, and surprisingly moving. . . . With Dyer's help, you will never see either a shovel or a smartphone the same way again.”
—Outreach

“Dyer brings a solidly Christian perspective to the topic [of media ecology], arguing that technology is neither neutral nor evil. . . . Lively and accessible to techies and non-techies alike.”
—World

“A helpful aid for those wanting to learn how technology fits with faith.”
—Ministry Today

John Dyer is the dean of Enrollment and Educational Technology and assistant professor of theological studies at Dallas Theological Seminary, and lives in Irving, Texas. His other work includes Ecclesiology for a Digital Church and People of the Screen.

Colorful Connections

12 Questions About Race that Open Healthy Conversations

Dr. Sandra Dalton-Smith and Lori Stanley Roeleveld

Encourages Christians to engage in real talk together about race and change

There are a lot of conversations happening in homes and churches about difficult and timely topics—but when it comes to race, too many Christians stay silent.

Sandra Dalton-Smith and Lori Stanley Roeleveld—two women of different races who didn't know each other well before this project—believe there's a clear path to meaningful discussion about racism with someone of a different skin color. Instead of avoiding hard conversations, they enter a transparent and open dialogue about race, privilege, bias, and discrimination.

Readers will witness a real-time process as these two women walk their journey of self-reflection, discovery, and healing. Lori and Sandra demonstrate how to give voice to pain without blame, how to express anger without ridicule, and how to ask questions without guilt. After reading the pages filled with vulnerable personal stories, biblical teaching, conversation starters, and practical next steps, readers will be equipped to have their own healthy conversations.

This book is for all who see God in ethnic diversity and want to be part of a true and deep understanding process. In these pages, there is hope to heal the racial divide and bring together the body of Christ.

Finding Rest Guiding Workbook

An Invitation to Go Deeper

Jonathon M. Seidl

A guided journey to better mental health through the chapters of the best-selling book, Finding Rest

“Jon knows, better than most, what it means to battle anxiety and how to forge a path to victory.”

—Kirk Cameron

Anyone who—like Jonathon M. Seidl—battles anxiety, OCD, or depression knows how valuable it is to have someone by your side in the fight. Now in this companion workbook to the best-selling book, Finding Rest, readers can have just that!

Jon has written this incredible workbook to encourage readers to delve more deeply into their own mental health, as he offers support and insight along the way. He takes readers through each chapter of Finding Rest, focusing on a relevant biblical text, and asking leading questions, both thought-provoking and therapeutic. Each section also contains steps to take action on what is learned, and a prayer action to move into conversation and healing with God.

Beyond the content of the workbook itself, the chapters open with a link to a video session with Jon. In these videos, he shares personal stories and struggles, lessons he’s learned, and ways for readers to connect these experiences with their own journey.

In this larger, 7 x 10 size, there’s plenty of space for journaling and notes. It’s a perfect pairing with the best-selling book, and an important next step on the journey toward finding true rest.

Jonathon M. Seidl is the founder and president of The Veritas Creative, a digital media consulting and content creation firm. His writing has appeared on I Am Second, The American Spectator, and Fox News. Jon graduated with a degree in politics, philosophy, and economics from The King’s College in New York City. He currently resides in Dallas, Texas, with his wife and two children. Find Jon at jonseidl.com.

Death to Deconstruction

Reclaiming Faithfulness as an Act of Rebellion

Joshua S. Porter; foreword by John Mark Comer

A straightforward, readable, and relatable look at issues that too often derail faith

Another Christian renounces the church and Christ.” “Former Christian music star turns her back on faith.” “I kissed Christianity goodbye.” Headlines like these are becoming common. It seems like the most popular trend in faith circles lately is to deconstruct, then deconvert.

Joshua Porter knows that story from the inside out. He was raised in the tangles of American evangelical Christianity, and the church he knew was conservative, fundamentalist, and politicized. It feared culture, music, art, Dungeons & Dragons, Harry Potter, and anything else that was slightly suspect. This foundation of dread and fear was full of holes he nearly fell through . . . and out of faith altogether.

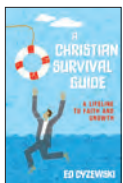

His story put him on the road to deconversion—but that isn’t where he ended up. Despite his years of being surrounded by disaffected former Christians and living large in the punk rock lifestyle, Porter now finds his faith closer to the historic Christian tradition than ever.

This book is more than Porter’s own story. It also invites those who may be in the deconstruction process themselves to consider the perspective of someone who was tempted to leave his faith—yet stayed. And it provides theological insight and pastoral support to those who worry that everyone is bailing out on the church.

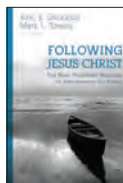

Joshua S. Porter is pastor of teaching and creative vision at Van City Church in Vancouver, Washington. He is also a former member of the experimental art-punk band Showbread, and the author of the novel Punk Rock vs. the Lizard People. Find out more and connect with Joshua at joshuasporter.com.

John Mark Comer is pastor of Bridgetown Church in Portland, Oregon, and the author of several books on the church in culture, including God Has a Name and Live No Lies.

Washed By God

The Story of Baptism

Karl Deenick

- Traces roots of baptism through OT and NT
- What baptism points to
- How baptism makes the gospel clear

Baptism is a subject which has caused confusion amongst Christians for many years. Jesus included it in his final charge to the disciples. It is clearly important, so why do we spend so much time arguing about it? Baptism is a God-given sign, not to obscure the gospel, but to make it clearer. Karl Deenick explains not only what baptism is, what it isn't, and who should be baptised, but he follows the threads of symbolic cleansing through both the Old and New Testaments. He explains and exalts the gospel and shows how the Old Testament foreshadows Jesus and how he fulfils the Old Testament.

Karl Deenick

Karl is the Senior Pastor of The Branch Christian Church in Launceston, Australia. He has a PhD from Ridley College in Melbourne and is a guest lecturer at the Reformed Theological College in Melbourne. Karl is the author of 'Righteous by Promise' (2018) and 'Gathered Together: The Beauty of Living as God's Church' (forthcoming).

The Beauties of Boston

A Selection of the Writings of Thomas Boston

Thomas Boston

- Christian classic
- New hardback edition
- Introduction from Sinclair Ferguson

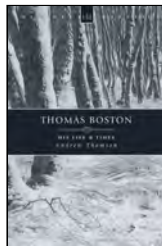

From the introduction:

The Beauties of Boston is a book that has been treasured by many Christians in past generations. It is full of rich gospel truth and health-giving spiritual prescriptions. Part of its 'beauty' is that while a big book it is not really a long book, but a series of smaller and manageable passages that will – as The Marrow of Modern Divinity did for Boston himself – stimulate thought, enhance understanding of the gospel, point us to Christ, and strengthen both mind and spirit in the knowledge and service of God.

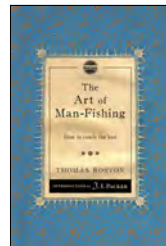

Thomas Boston

Thomas Boston held a pastorate with a very small Congregation in Simprin, Scotland until 1707. He was an extremely popular preacher, though self-effacing - considering that he had but "small talents." He was reluctant to publish his works, although he wrote out completely all of his sermons before they were preached. Many, however, came to be published after his death at the age of 57.

Hymn Workouts

100 Exercises to Set Your Heart Ablaze

Joe Barnard

- For people whose spiritual life has stagnated
- Grow in spiritual fitness
- Workouts include Bible reading, hymn, Scripture references and meditation questions

Many of us feel like our spiritual growth has stalled. Often the problem of stagnating faith is down to one simple fact – we all have a bias towards ease. Our spiritual routines are easy: passively reading our Bibles and a few distracted minutes spent in prayer. This book of spiritual workouts is meant to push complacent souls back out into the space of exertion and discovery. It will engage and sharpen the faculties of the mind – memory, imagination, intellect, conscience and will.

Joe Barnard

Joe Barnard is the pastor of Holyrood Evangelical Church in Edinburgh and the executive director of Cross Training Ministries, a discipleship ministry focused on training men in spiritual fitness. He is also the author of 'The Way Forward: a Road Map of Spiritual Growth for Men in the 21st Century'. Joe is married to Anna. They have four children.

God's Rascal

The Jacob Narrative in Genesis 25–35

Dale Ralph Davis

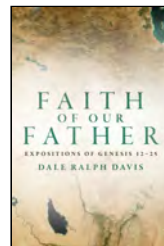

- Chapter-by-chapter guide
- Fascinating character
- Beloved author

The character of Jacob that we meet in chapters 25–35 of Genesis is a fascinating one. A kaleidoscopic blend of deviousness and doggedness, of trickery and tenacity, of folly and faith. As readers we can't help being drawn into his story. With his trademark wit and perceptive comments Dale Ralph Davis guides us through the story of this rogue and traces the evidence of grace, providence, blessing throughout his life.

Dale Ralph Davis

Dale Ralph Davis was Minister in Residence, First Presbyterian Church, Columbia, South Carolina. Prior to that he was pastor of Woodland Presbyterian Church, Hattiesburg, Mississippi and Professor of Old Testament at Reformed Theological Seminary, Jackson, Mississippi.

Proving Ground

40 Reflections on Growing Faith at Work

Graham Hooper

- Wisdom for every working day
- Shows value of all types of work
- Short, easy to read, practical chapters

The Bible shows us how testing experiences are common to every Christian and are part of God’s good work in making us the people he wants us to be. As we spend so much of our time working, (whether in the home, in voluntary work, study or in a paid job), our work, like every part of our life, provides opportunities to prove for ourselves that God is real and at work in his world for good.

Graham Hooper

Graham Hooper is a Company Director, and former Senior Executive with a global infrastructure company. Now based in Australia, he became a Christian while working in Tanzania and has since lived in six countries and worked in some twenty more. He is the author of several books including ‘Undivided’, ‘A Better Way to Live’, ‘Songs from the Heart’, and ‘Do You Love Me?’

Imperfect Reflections

The Craft of Christian Journaling

Kirsten Birkett

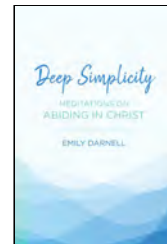

- Spiritual value of journaling
- Encourages intentionality
- Guide to what to journal about

Kirsten Birkett encourages us to pick up our notebooks and pens and use journaling as a tool to grow in godliness. Writing is a powerful act. The Puritans used diaries as a way to give themselves spiritual counsel. It helped them to remember God's mercies, to reflect on how He has been at work, and to be thankful. This book is a helpful guide for those who want to start the practice of journaling, or who want to direct their journaling in a more intentional way. Put pen to paper and create a record of your spiritual life.

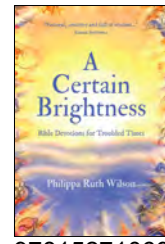

Kirsten Birkett

Kirsten Birkett is a theological writer and author of numerous books and articles. She previously lectured at Oak Hill Theological College in pastoral care, church history, philosophy and ethics. She lives in the north of England with two cats and two chickens. Sadly, no ducks.

No Difficulties With God

The Life of Thomas Charles, Bala (1755–1814)

D. Eryl Davies

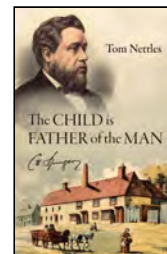

- Welsh preacher, scholar and educationalist
- Huge impact in Wales and beyond
- Absorbing biographical introduction

Enjoying an intimate relationship with Christ, Thomas Charles worked tirelessly preaching the gospel, educating the poor to read the Bible, then obtaining Bibles in Welsh and other languages for people to read. There is much to learn from Charles's commitment to Christ and his church, his love of the Bible and awareness of divine providence as well as his experience of genuine revivals. As we learn about Thomas Charles' life and faith may we follow his example in communing intimately with our risen, exalted Lord and proclaim Him passionately to the whole world.

D. Eryl Davies

Eryl Davies is an elder at Heath Evangelical church, Cardiff and a member of the Management Board of the Evangelical Movement of Wales. He pastored churches in South and North Wales before becoming the first principal of what is now Union School of Theology. He continues to serve churches and conferences and to write.

The Good Portion – Humanity

Delighting in the Doctrine of Humanity

Jane Tooher

- From The Good Portion doctrine series
- Tailored towards female readership
- Doctrine of mankind

What does the gospel of Jesus Christ teach us about humanity and womanhood? Jesus is fully God and fully man, and as such is the only one who can show us what it means to be truly human. Through this lens Jane Tooher explores elements of our nature, focusing on our fallen state and God's plan to redeem us. We are sinful humans, but God calls us His daughters. He calls us to serve Him and join the body of the Church. Read this book and rejoice in the freedom of understanding who God made you to be!

Jane Tooher

Jane Tooher serves on the faculty of Moore Theological College in Sydney, Australia, where she lectures in Ministry, Church History, and is the Director of the Priscilla and Aquila Centre. Previously Jane served on the staff of churches in London and Sydney. She loves training people for a variety of ministries and seeing lost men and women come to Christ.

Angels*When Heaven Meets EarthTim Chester

- Aimed at people who are fascinated with angels
- Stories of angelic encounters
- Directs attention towards Christ

Nearly eight in ten Americans believe in angels. Even among those who never attend church it's four out of ten. In the United Kingdom one in three people believe they have a guardian angel. But what we can know for sure about angels? Tim Chester delves into the mysterious world of angels and shows us what the Bible says about what angels are, what they do, and where they lead us.

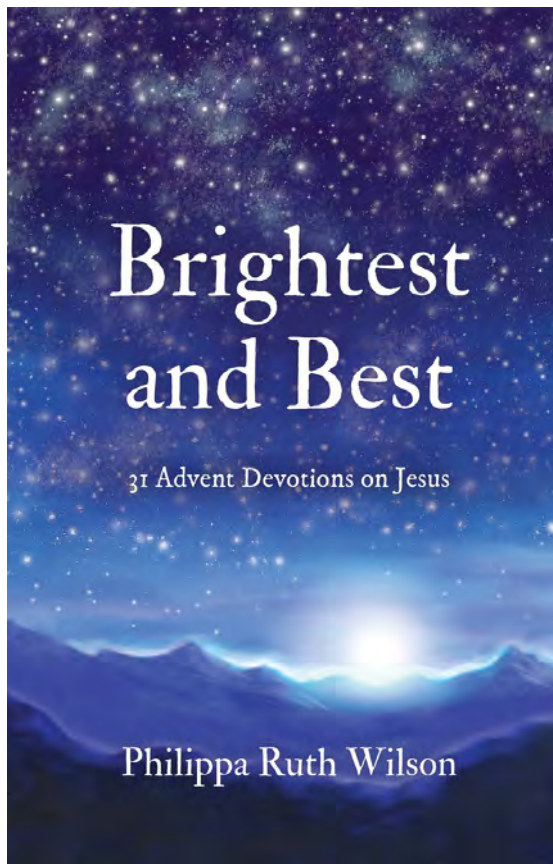

Tim Chester

Tim Chester is a pastor with Grace Church, Boroughbridge, a faculty member of Crosslands Training and the author of over 40 books. He has written on a wide variety of subjects, and cares deeply about making the link between theology and practice clear to his readers. He is also Chairman of the Trustees for Keswick Ministries.

Brightest and Best

Advent Reflections on Jesus
Philippa Ruth Wilson

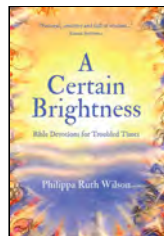

- Hardback, illustrated advent devotional
- Scripture passages, short reading and carol lyrics
- For each day in December – including after Christmas

This 31-day advent devotional built around the words of well-loved carols will bring comfort and hope in the darkest time of the year. Amidst the building pressure to put reality on hold for a while, and just Have a Good Time, Philippa Wilson communicates joyful, uplifting, and glorious Christmas truths in fresh ways. The purpose of each devotion is to stir up hope and faith, and praise for Jesus, as well as to encourage readers to think biblically and deeply about the carols we sing each year.

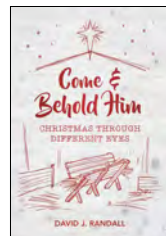

Philippa Ruth Wilson

Philippa Ruth Wilson has blogged about Jesus and depression at A Certain Brightness for 5 years. She holds a BA in theology, an MA in creative writing, and teaches English to Cardiff teenagers. Outside of the classroom, you will find her charity shop bargain-hunting, writing her novel or having a nap.

Who Needs the Church?

Why We Need the Church (and Why the Church Needs Us)

Terry L. Johnson

- For laypeople
- Biblical explanation of importance of local church
- What it means to be the church

It seems that increasing numbers of professing Christians in the West do not attend church. Church, to many, has become a place to go when it is convenient, to have one's needs met. Examining what the Bible has to say about the church, Johnson shows why the local body of believers is an essential part of the life of every believer – and the role that each individual believer plays in the life of the church. This thought-provoking, challenging book will benefit every believer.

Terry L. Johnson

Terry Johnson is the senior minister of the Independent Presbyterian Church in Savannah, Georgia, which he has served since 1987.

Written with provocative apologetic flair, Pastor Terry Johnson informs his readers that the church is not a voluntary institution, but a living organism to which we must belong. You will walk away from this resource not only better informed biblically, but encouraged and motivated to invest deeply in the bride of Christ, the church of God.

Erin Wheeler

Author of 'The Good Portion – The Church: Delighting in the Doctrine of the Church'

This book will not only enhance your growth in grace but will become an instrument as you disciple others in Christ's Church.

Harry L. Reeder III

Senior Pastor, Briarwood Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, Alabama

This book is a timely call to a Biblical understanding of what it means to belong to the body and bride of Christ, and the blessings that come from gathering physically as God's people.

Robin Weekes

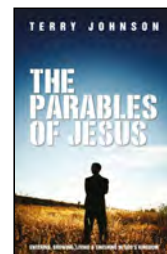

Minister, Emmanuel Church, Wimbledon, London

In this short, thoroughly biblical and practical work, Dr. Johnson sets for the case in a manner that is convincing and convicting (in the best sense). His suggestion of the norm of local church membership as Sixth Sola is hard to refute, after reading this work—unless one elevates individualism over discipleship.

David W. Hall

Senior Minister, Midway Presbyterian Church, Powder Springs, Georgia

Hidden Agendas

Demands of the Heart that Stop Us Loving God and Others

David A. Smith

- Examines desires common to all human hearts
- Desire for significance, certainty, security, fulfillment
- Includes reflection questions and helpful summaries

This book lifts the lid on the human heart, seeking to uncover the hidden agendas that stop us from loving God and others as we should. David Smith uses four biblical pictures to help us consider these agendas that are often hidden so deep within our hearts that we are unaware of them. Using examples from the Bible, he uncovers the desire to be significant; to have certainty; the desire to have peace, safety, and security; and the desire for our own fulfilment. David helpfully finishes the book with guidance on how to journey towards the heart agendas God wants us to have.

From Everlasting to Everlasting

Every Believer's Biography

Will Dobbie

- 30–day short daily readings
- Explains Ordo Salutis
- For laypeople

This devotional walks readers through the stage–by–stage path of God's salvation, from eternity past, through life and death, and into eternity future. The book explores rich, substantive theology, making it accessible and clear without dumbing it down, and includes illustrations and applications. The stages of the Ordo Salutis as Will Dobbie frames it are spread across thirty daily devotionals. Life in our world can include uncertainty, anxiety and tragedy. In this context, the theological richness and profundity of God's salvation plan offers the believer confidence, comfort, clarity and perspective, to God's greater glory.

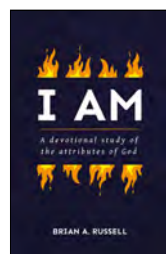

Will Dobbie

After serving in the British Army, Will Dobbie went into full–time ministry in 2006. He moved to London to plant a church in 2013. In 2021, he moved to the US to plant again. He enjoys running and reading. He is married with two boys.

Everyday Holiness

Becoming Who You Were Made to Be

Josh Moody

- Studies in the letter to the Colossians
- Practical steps towards growing in Christlikeness
- How our holiness affects others

When Paul wrote to the church in Colossae, he warned them against false teachers who were claiming that faith in Jesus wasn't enough to save them. Paul writes that faith in Christ is not only enough to save us, but also the beginning of a new life, in which we can become more like Him. This process of sanctification requires active participation on our part; Jesus has won the victory over sin, but we still fight in the battle. In his invaluable book Josh Moody directs our attention not only to the theory of how we fight this battle, but also practical strategies for how we can train in holiness.

Known

A Study of the Good Shepherd

Lisa Derhake

- 10–week study following theme of Psalm 23
- Engages with passages throughout Scripture
- Encourages reader to engage with text first

Known is a 10–week Bible study with a strong exegetical bent and a touch of devotion. In it, the reader is taken on a journey to encounter our great Shepherd by using the framework of Psalm 23, layered with other passages of scripture that reveal the Lord as our Shepherd. The reader studies the text to first discover what it tells us about the Lord through observation and interpretation. The goal of the study is for the reader to be able to discover what the Biblical text means to her own life, in light of who God is and what He has done, with application coming after sound observation and interpretation.

Lisa Derhake

Lisa Derhake received her Medical Doctorate in 2006 but felt called to focus on being a wife and mother. She resides in Louisville, Kentucky with her husband Brian and their three amazing children. She has served in various roles in women’s ministry, most recently as a Teaching Director at Sojourn Church East, where she helped equip women to read and understand God’s Word.

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

Writing from the depth of her biblical knowledge and life experiences, Lisa Derhake guides readers through a 10–week Bible study of Psalm 23. I expect many people to walk closer to the Great Shepherd as a result of this fine book.

Robert L. Plummer

Professor of New Testament Interpretation, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky

It stirs my heart to hear the words of the good shepherd call out to me that I am known, this book can help us gaze afresh on the wonder it is that the God of the Universe knows us more intimately than anyone else and what satisfaction and fulfilment that brings.

Anna Putt

God's Spirit

The Antidote to Chaos

Reuben Hunter

- Explores each fruit of the Spirit
- How these qualities affect all areas of life
- Shows how good life in the Spirit can be

This book contains a reminder and a profound encouragement for the Christian. You have been given the Holy Spirit through faith in Jesus Christ and he is working beautiful qualities in you. You have the resources you need at your disposal to live a life of love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Isn't a life marked by these beautiful qualities what everyone is seeking? We look in all kinds of places to find it, we put ourselves under all kinds of stress trying to achieve it, and yet here is God offering it to us as a gift. Come and welcome to the good life.

... a beautiful exploration of how God conforms us to the image of His Son. Reuben's love for the God who works so deeply in His people and his love for the reader who needs to learn these truths afresh did me immense good and I'm sure it will you too.

David Gibson

Assistant Minister, High Church, Hilton, Aberdeen

I found it to an enormously helpful and encouraging book – thoughtful, biblical, practical, hopeful, accessible, and wise. It is an ideal resource for those looking to grow in godliness.

Mike McKinley

Senior Pastor, Sterling Park Baptist Church, Virginia

... a hope-filled, honest guide to the Fruit of the Spirit that will both comfort and challenge you, whether you're a new shoot or seasoned oak. Pastoral wisdom abounds, simplistic answers pruned.

Jonty Rhodes

Minister, Christ Church Central, Leeds, UK

Reuben Hunter writes as he preaches – with warm pastoral concern, keen cultural acumen and a dry sense of humour. This book on Galatians 5:22 is thoughtful, profound, practical and hopeful in a world where the fruit of the Spirit is so needed and in such short supply.

A Tale of Two

Exploring 40 Bible Pairs

Donald MacKay

- 40 short chapters
- Comparison between pairs of Bible characters
- Thought–provoking way of reading Bible stories

Donald MacKay explores pairs of characters in the Bible. Some have obvious connections like Martha and Mary or David and Jonathan, but other relationships may be less clear, such as Timothy and Titus or Ahab and Jehoshaphat, but there is something to be learned from all of them. These helpful stories will encourage readers to reflect on the lives and choices on these biblical characters, and also on the impact they have on the people around them and vice versa.

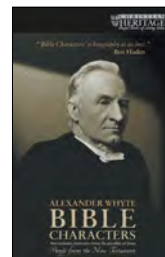

Donald MacKay

Originally from Dundee, Donald Mackay served in the Scottish Office for 35 years, including as secretary to two Royal Commissions. He was also session clerk of Buccleuch Free Church for 23 years and has been involved in youth evangelism at school and university level. He enjoys walking, photography and listening to music, and he takes pride in his five grandchildren.

Has Science Made God Unnecessary?

Ransom Poythress

- By professor of science
- Logical arguments
- Science and faith not mutually exclusive

There is a widespread assumption that there is no space for God in science, and no space for science in Christianity. This book addresses the question of whether the search for answers excludes belief in a Deity. Ransom Poythress' logical and well-reasoned look at the common arguments is a riveting read for any with a genuine interest in pursuing truth.

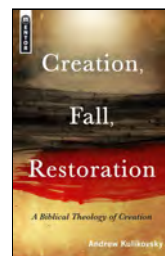

Ransom Poythress

Ransom H. Poythress holds a B.S. from Caltech, M.A. from Westminster Theological Seminary, and a Ph.D. from Boston University (Molecular and Cell Biology and Biochemistry). He currently serves as an Associate Professor of Biology at Houghton College in Houghton, New York where he lives with his wife Lisbeth and their two boys.

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

Ransom Poythress is both an accomplished biologist and a knowledgeable biblical scholar. His commitment is to both the craft of science and the awareness of the reasons people throw up objections to its compatibility with Christian faith. He writes in a sympathetic, non-combative manner which ought to disarm all but the most obdurate sceptic. A must read by anyone concerned with the so-called science-vs-religion controversy.

William Edgar

Professor of Apologetics, Westminster Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

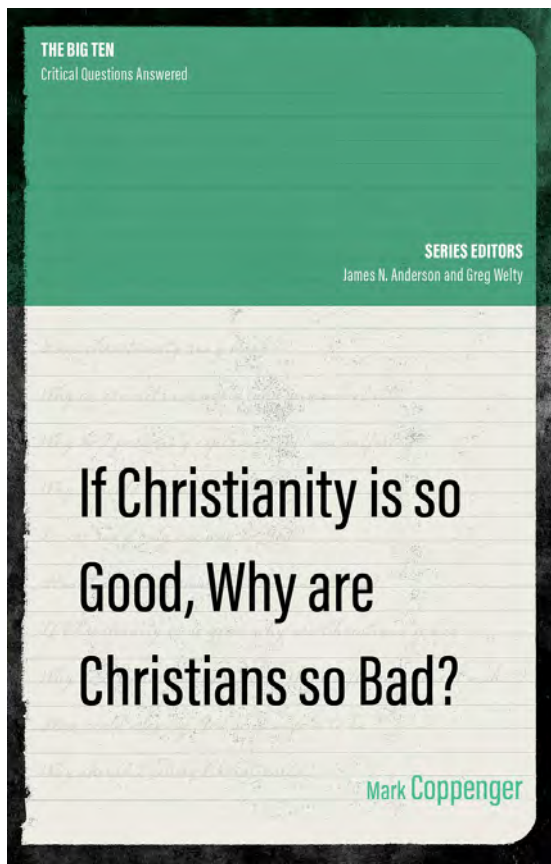

Through the use of simple yet powerful analogies, an easygoing pace, and excellent references for those who want to dig deeper, Poythress reaches any interested reader with an answer that affirms Christianity while respecting and encouraging the proper roles of science. This is a great book for any youth group, college class, or seeker to think through.

If Christianity is So Good, Why are Christians So Bad?

Mark Coppenger

- Part of Big Ten apologetics series
- Written for sceptics and questioners
- Looks at what it means to be good

It is reasonable to expect that the followers of Jesus Christ would exude the same sort of moral goodness that he did. But what does it mean to be good? What does it mean for the reality of the Christian faith that Christians fail to live up to the standards set by the Bible? Mark Coppenger engages with these questions.

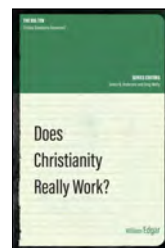

Mark Coppenger

Mark Coppenger (BA Ouachita; PhD Vanderbilt; MDiv SWBTS) has taught at Vanderbilt, Wheaton, Elmhurst, TIU, MBTS, and SBTS. Having taught three dozen different courses through the years, he retired from Southern in 2019 as a Professor of Christian Philosophy and Ethics. He's been married to Sharon for 50 years, and they have three children and ten grandchildren.

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

This book models concise expression, shrewd logic, clear organization, subtle wit, brutal honesty, graphic illustration, cultural savvy, and charitable characterization of opponents. It answers the title's question as much by showing how to think about the matter as by seeking out best answers.

Robert W. Yarbrough

Professor of New Testament, Covenant Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri

Christians are supposed to be new people, not just forgiven people; but they still sin, sometimes in scandalous ways. So how should Christians answer this objection, often raised in evangelistic settings? Dr. Mark Coppenger offers a strategy for doing so that is biblical, accessible, honest, and seasoned with wit and wisdom.

Thor Masden

Professor of New Testament, Ethics and Philosophy, Midwestern Theological Seminary, Kansas City, Missouri

This book doesn't whitewash the bad behaviour of many Christians, but it also offers some helpful insights, theological context, and practical wisdom for how Christians can respond to this important challenge.

Sean McDowell

Professor of Christian Apologetics, Biola University, La Mirada, California Best-selling author and popular speaker

The Good Portion – the Church

The Doctrine of the Church, for Every Woman

Erin Wheeler

- Part of 'Good Portion' doctrinal series for women
- Lays out what the Bible says the Church is to be
- Practical description of what that looks like

What is the Church? Why does it need to exist, and why is it so important? In this important addition to the Good Portion series, Erin Wheeler unpacks what the Bible says about the Church and invites us to see the beauty of the Bride of Christ. She begins by ensuring that we understand what the Church is before turning our attention to the specific things that churches do. This book not only ensures that our minds and hearts are filled with correct doctrine, but encourages us to take steps towards putting our understanding into practice.

Erin Wheeler

Erin is married to Brad, the lead pastor at University Baptist Church, in Fayetteville, Arkansas. They have four teenagers. She works part time as a labor and delivery RN, retreat speaker, occasional writer for TGC and 9Marks. Erin loves discipling, teaching women how to study their bible, and everything outdoors.

Health, Wealth, and the (Real) Gospel

The Prosperity Gospel Meets the Truths of Scripture

Sean DeMars and Mike McKinley

- By 2 pastors with experience of prosperity gospel
- Highlights problems
- Refutes claims made by prosperity preachers

Having experienced its damaging effects, Sean DeMars and Mike McKinley set out to reveal the insidious toxicity found in the prosperity gospel. Beginning by countering claims made by the prosperity gospel with what scripture actually teaches, they highlight the places in scripture that stand directly opposed to prosperity teachings. They explore what the Bible teaches about whether people who believe false doctrine are eternally saved, and how to examine our hearts for a prosperity–style understanding of God.

Sean DeMars

Sean is the pastor of 6th Avenue Community Church in Decatur, Alabama. He has a wonderful wife and two amazing girls. The best thing about him is that he belongs to Jesus.

Mike McKinley

Mike is Senior Pastor at Sterling Park Baptist Church in Sterling, Virginia and author of several books. Mike has been married to Karen since 1997, and they have five children.

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

Sean and Michael have written an honest and illuminating book that uses scripture (in context!) to confront all the core tenets of the prosperity gospel. It is also written in a way that is conversational, speaking the truth with directness in love. I pray the Lord will use this work to graciously reveal the glory of the true Christ to those in deception.

Brandon Kimber

Director of “American Gospel: Christ Alone”

I am so grateful for this book by Sean DeMars and Michael Mckinley. It is a very readable and thoroughly biblical exposure of the complete theological bankruptcy of one of the most egregious distortions of the Gospel ever to disgrace the name of Christ.

Rich Grace in Poor Soil

Growing in the Master's Grip

Kenneth B. Wingate

- A fresh look at what it means to live by grace
- Grounding complex concepts in everyday language
- For those looking to grow in their faith

The garden provides the perfect image for the work of grace in our lives. In fact, Scripture often uses plant-based metaphors to describe the life of the believer. From the planting of the gospel seed to growing into oaks of righteousness, Kenneth Wingate explores these different aspects to show how we can flourish in Christ and bear fruit for him.

Kenneth B. Wingate

Kenneth B. Wingate is a lawyer in Columbia, South Carolina. He is a member of First Presbyterian Church (Associate Reformed Presbyterian), where he is an elder and Bible teacher. Ken is the author of 'A Father's Gift: Lessons from Proverbs', and 'Run with Endurance: The Triumph of Faith'.

Ken Wingate wants you to wallow in grace. In this manual for the Christian life he writes of deep grace with such a light touch—and good sense. Insights abound; the book is simply fun to read.

Dale Ralph Davis

Respected Author and Old Testament Scholar

Engaging and encouraging, this book digs into the deep soil of divine grace to display wonders that will lead its readers into praise. If you are looking to grow spiritually and enlarge your understanding of God's marvelous ways, this is the book for you!

Richard D. Phillips

Senior Minister, Second Presbyterian Church, Greenville, South Carolina

Rich Grace in Poor Soil leads you to the very heart of God. For anyone who feels bruised, hurt or worn out, this book will refresh the soul. Written with a sharpness of insight and a flair for illustration, Rich Grace in Poor Soil is a tonic.

Derek W. H. Thomas

Senior Minister of Preaching and Teaching, First Presbyterian Church, Columbia, South Carolina

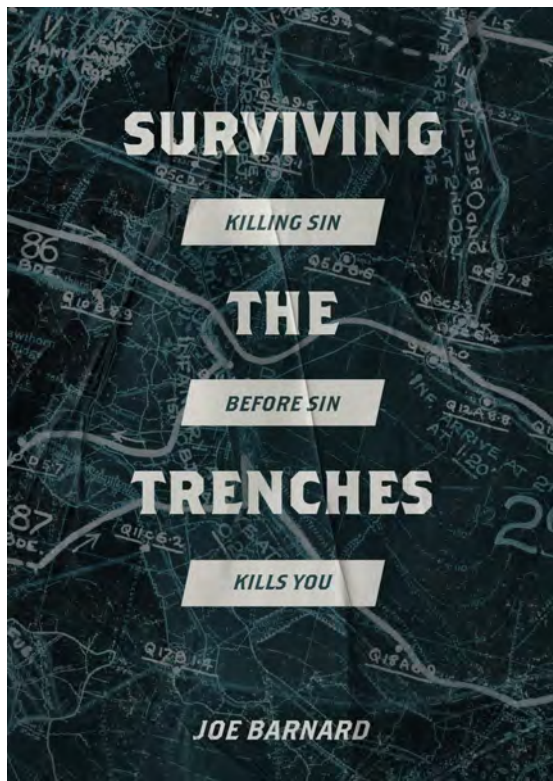

One of the most frequently used metaphors in the Bible to picture the Christian life is that of the vineyard producing fruit. Kenneth Wingate has done an excellent job drawing upon this rich imagery to convey the clear teaching of Scripture concerning our growing in grace. Easy to understand, yet challenging to live, this book will be a great help to your pursuit of personal holiness. May God use it to bring forth much fruit in your life.

Surviving the Trenches

Killing Sin Before Sin Kills You
Joe Barnard

- Written for men
- Mortification of sin
- Arming readers for the fight

Joe Barnard has written a book to help men not only wake up to the existence of sin in their lives, but, in the power of the Holy Spirit, to tackle it head on. This may seem like a daunting task. Although few would admit it publicly, privately many share the deep anxiety that the resources of the gospel are inadequate to deal with – not the guilt of sin – but the power of sin. Sin may look like an insurmountable problem when measured by the stature of a fallen man, but to God, sin is no more than a weed planted in sand. This book is for men who are willing to fight and it will arm them for the task at hand.

Joe Barnard

Joe Barnard is the pastor of Holyrood Evangelical Church in Edinburgh and the executive director of Cross Training Ministries, a discipleship ministry focused on training men in spiritual fitness. He is also the author of 'The Way Forward: a Road Map of Spiritual Growth for Men in the 21st Century'. Joe is married to Anna. They have four children.

Only a Prayer Meeting

Studies on Prayer Meetings and Prayer Meeting Addresses

C. H. Spurgeon

- New foreword by Mark Dever
- Selection of Spurgeon's prayer meeting addresses
- Includes hymns written by Spurgeon

Spurgeon used to address his church at midweek meetings as well as the powerful sermons on Sundays. These addresses were generally more informal in tone and were designed to supply motivation for the church to pray. They are classic Spurgeon and are divided into 4 sections and each concludes with a hymn Spurgeon composed himself for morning prayer meetings.

C. H. Spurgeon

C. H. Spurgeon, the great Victorian preacher, was one of the most influential people of the second half of the 19th Century. At the heart of his desire to preach was a fierce love of people, a desire that meant he did not neglect his pastoral ministry.

10 Women Who Overcame Their Past Dayspring MacLeod

- Focus on bearing fruit for Christ
- Includes questions to help apply truths learned
- A mixture of well-known and less-known names

This book contains the stories of ten women whose circumstances and choices led them to a place that seemed far removed from the fruitful, joy-filled life we are called to live in Christ. But each of their stories is a testament to the work God does through his imperfect children. Their stories will encourage and inspire, and remind you that you are not alone in your struggles.

Understanding Family Worship

Its History, Theology and Practice

Terry L. Johnson

- Companion to The Family Worship Book
- Includes wisdom gleaned from classic writers
- Chapter on catechizing

The practice of family worship has been a foundation stone of faith for many families across many generations. In his book The Family Worship Book, Terry L. Johnson aided families to have meaningful times of devotion together. In this supplement to The Family Worship Book he seeks to strengthen and enrich those devotions. He begins by looking at the godly home, which provides the vital context for family worship. Then the biblical and theological arguments for daily family worship in are examined drawing from the Old and New Testaments as well as the classic authors. He then moves on to develop the elements or practices of which family worship consists, as well as helpful tips for establishing the discipline practice of family worship. Finally, he discusses catechizing.

Terry L. Johnson

Terry Johnson is the senior minister of the Independent Presbyterian Church in Savannah, Georgia, which he has served since 1987.

Is It Unspiritual to Be Depressed?

Loved by God in the Midst of Pain

Paul Ritchie

- Pastor writing from experience with mental illness
- Answers tough questions on suicide, guilt, sin
- Focuses on reality of gospel

Writing from his own experience as a pastor who has struggled with depression, anxiety and O.C.D., Paul Ritchie addresses some of the big questions that Christians with mental illnesses and those around them might ask. Although he deals frankly with the reality of mental illness in a fallen world, he shows how the gospel is good news for those suffering. He applies the truth of the gospel, assuring readers that they can take God at his word, even when their brain tells them to doubt. His final chapter also gives helpful advice for those who want to help friends or family who are depressed.

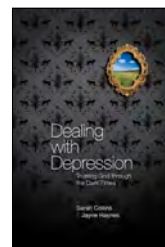

Paul Ritchie

Paul Ritchie is the husband of Caroline and father of Anya, Ronan & Sian. He serves as pastor to Limerick Baptist Church. His ministry has been deepened by his own experience of O.C.D. and struggles with anxiety. He is a devoted Munster Rugby fan and loves a game of pitch & putt.

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

There are books addressing depression from a clinical, personal or spiritual perspective. What sets this one apart is the fact that it addresses the issue from all three perspectives. You will be challenged by Paul's honesty, his empathy for others and his ceaseless focus on the Gospel. In fact, you will never think about the issue the same way again.

David Blevin

Sky News

Written with grace, wisdom, and from personal experience, the book will carefully and gently help readers navigate some difficult pastoral issues relating to mental health.

Peter Orr

Lecturer in New Testament, Moore Theological College, Sydney

This book is good! It feels very real – its credibility stems especially from the fact that its author has experienced being in this place himself. And it's well written! A resource pastors can do well to have accessible on their shelves for when it's needed!

Pete Lowman

Former coordinator of Russian student CU movement

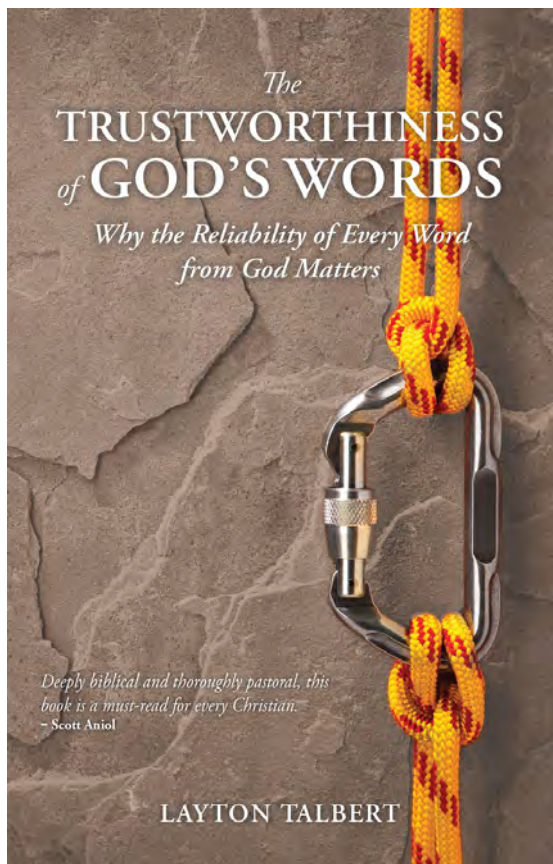

What a superb book. I so benefited from reading it.

The Trustworthiness of God's Words

Why the Reliability of Every Word from God Matters

Layton Talbert

- Biblical evidence that God keeps his word
- We can know that everything he says is true
- Putting this trust into action

This is a book about God's jealousy for his integrity, his passion to be believed, on the basis of his words alone. Throughout Scripture God expresses his determination to be known as the God who keeps his words. He has resolved that every person and nation will see and confess that all his words are reliable down to every last syllable, jot, and tittle. Learning to trust a God who is sovereign and in control, especially in the ache and throb of life, means hanging on to the conviction that everything he says is utterly dependable.

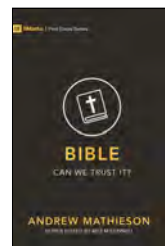

Layton Talbert

Layton Talbert (PhD, Bob Jones University) is professor of theology at BJU Seminary. He has also authored books on the doctrine of divine providence (Not by Chance: Learning to Trust a Sovereign God) and a reader's commentary on the book of Job (Beyond Suffering: Discovering the Message of Job).

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

... he meticulously shows from Scripture itself that God is true to his word, and that great blessings and comfort come to those who trust him. Deeply biblical and thoroughly pastoral, this book is a must-read for every Christian.

Scott Aniol

Executive Vice President and Editor-in-Chief of G3 Ministries

What Layton writes is intended for you to firmly plant your faith on the solid, immovable rock of God's Word. Amen!

Steve Pettit

President of Bob Jones University, Greenville, South Carolina

This helpful study shows that the very integrity of God is at stake in the veracity of His words. They are true because he is true. There is great comfort in the truthfulness of God's words!

Jeff Straub

Professor of Historical Theology, Central Baptist Theological Seminary, Plymouth, Minnesota

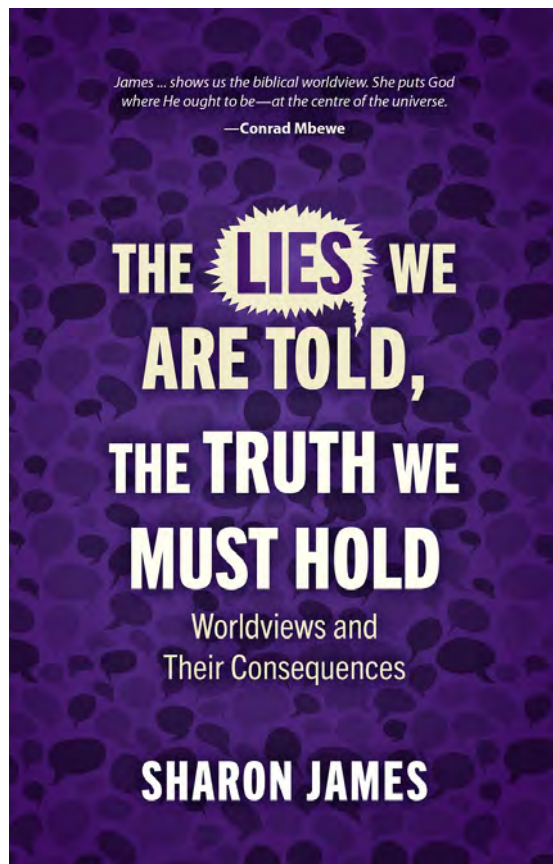

Layton Talbert demonstrates from God's own words that God is passionate about vindicating the complete integrity and trustworthiness of his words. All of God's words are reliable. God always keeps his words.

Lies We are Told, the Truth We Must Hold

Worldviews and Their Consequences

Sharon James

- Helps Christians navigate current claims
- Engages major philosophies
- Shows how biblical truth refutes culture's lies

We are surrounded by lies. They are incorporated into the worldview of our culture. Sharon James investigates the origins of some of these lies and looks at how we have got to the point where absolute truth is an outdated concept. In examining the evidence of history, she highlights the consequences of applying dangerous untruths. In the second part she turns to the truth which leads to real liberation and justice. She shows why we don't need to be ashamed of Christ, or intimidated by the claims of those who are militantly opposed to the Bible.

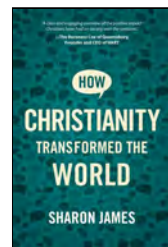

Sharon James

Sharon James has written several books, and has spoken in conferences in many parts of the world. She studied history at Cambridge University, theology at Toronto Baptist Seminary, and has a doctorate from the University of Wales. Sharon is married to Bill, Principal of London Seminary. They have two grown-up children. She works for The Christian Institute.

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

... a detailed but highly readable and valuable resource to help us engage with the people around us and contextualise the timeless truth of Jesus.

Graham Nicholls

Director, Affinity, Cambridge, UK

Anyone seeking to understand why society seems to be falling apart, and what we can do about it, needs to read this book. Highly recommended!

Wayne Grudem

Research Professor of Theology and Biblical Studies, Phoenix Seminary, Phoenix, Arizona

... shows us that it all started with the denial of the existence of God, absolute morality, and universal truth. Instead, the world conjured up its own notions of truth and justice. The only antidote is to return to a biblical worldview, which Sharon very deftly lays out in the second half of her book. I highly recommend this work!

John MacArthur

Chancellor Emeritus, The Master's University and Seminary and Pastor-Teacher, Grace Community Church, Sun Valley, California

... a remarkable feat: she addresses the lies that our culture currently exalts as truth and does so in a way that crosses the generational divide and will be helpful both to young people and those who wish to understand them and help them think through the deepest challenges of our day.

Colossians and Philemon

A Commentary for Biblical Preaching and Teaching

Adam Copenhaver & Jeffrey D. Arthurs

KERUX COMMENTARIES

Kerux Commentaries enable pastors and teachers to understand and effectively present the main message in every biblical text

Colossians and Philemon were penned at roughly the same time to an overlapping set of recipients. Paul, writing out of great concern, urges his fellow believers to make Jesus Christ the foundation of their lives. By expounding on the divine person, finished work, and exalted position of Christ, the apostle entreats his readers to stand against false teaching, pursue reconciliation, and be united with Christ. In Colossians and Philemon, Copenhaver and Arthurs combine exegetical precision with homiletical care, helping preachers and Bible teachers take Paul's message—a plea for walking together in a manner worthy of Christ—to the church today.

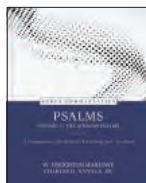

Adam Copenhaver (PhD, University of Aberdeen) pastors Mabton Grace Brethren Church in Mabton, Washington, and teaches biblical studies courses for the Ezra Bible Institute. His recent publications include Reconstructing the Historical Background of Paul's Rhetoric in the Letter to the Colossians.

Jeffrey D. Arthurs (PhD, Purdue University) is Robinson Chair of Preaching and Communication at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary. He is an active preacher, pastor, and scholar. His previous publications include Preaching with Variety, Devote Yourself to the Public Reading of Scripture, and Ephesians in the Kerux Commentaries series.

Jeremiah and Lamentations

A Commentary for Biblical Preaching and Teaching

Duane Garrett & Calvin F. Pearson

KERUX COMMENTARIES

Enables pastors and teachers to understand and effectively present the main message in every passage of Jeremiah and Lamentations.

Jeremiah and Lamentations approaches two historically related yet literarily distinct books of the Old Testament, carefully attending to their composition and application. Garrett and Pearson draw out the crucial themes and structures of Jeremiah: the hope of eschatological salvation nestled in the center of an expertly crafted exploration of human sin in all its blindness, perversity, and persistence. Lamentations wrestles with the unanswered questions of a community in exile, sobered by judgment and wondering whether God intends to abandon Israel entirely. Garrett and Pearson examine both Old Testament texts through the lens of Jesus, clarifying the parallels and fulfillments essential for Christian preaching.

Duane Garrett (PhD, Baylor University) is John R. Sampey Professor of Old Testament Interpretation at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He has written or cowritten numerous books and commentaries on the Old Testament and Hebrew language, including The Problem of the Old Testament.

Calvin F. Pearson (PhD, University of Texas at Arlington) is a recently retired pastor and still serves the Lord through writing, teaching, and sermon coaching. His ministry experience includes pastoring in Texas and Michigan, and teaching homiletics at Dallas Theological Seminary, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Clamp Divinity School at Anderson University, and Grace School of Theology.

1 & 2 Kings

A Commentary for Biblical Preaching and Teaching

David B. Schreiner and Lee Compson

KERUX COMMENTARIES

Kerux Commentaries enables pastors and teachers to understand and effectively present the main message in a biblical text

Each Kerux volume enhances the reader's ability to deliver a message that is biblical, cohesive, and dynamic.

Here Schreiner and Compson discuss reading and teaching from Old Testament historical books, including how Old Testament history relates to drastically different communities. In the case of 1 and 2 Kings, the historical players in Israel's divided monarchy are distinct from the Babylonian exiles for whom the text was compiled and even further removed from present-day readers. The biblical author of 1 and 2 Kings clearly teaches that human choice and divine sovereignty are not in conflict, nor do either absolve individual actors of the consequences they must face for their choices and actions.

1 and 2 Kings present an overarching view of Judah and Israel as kingdoms in both their glory and their degradation. By examining these books and presenting thorough exegesis within preachable units of text, Schreiner and Compson guide preachers and teachers in articulating biblical—and therefore eminently meaningful—applications for Christians.

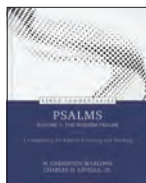

David B. Schreiner (PhD, Asbury Theological Seminary) is an associate professor of Old Testament at Wesley Biblical Seminary in Ridgeland, Mississippi. He is the author of Pondering the Spade and publishes widely on issues of biblical history and interpretation.

Lee Compson (MDiv, Grace Theological Seminary) is senior pastor at Milford First Brethren Church in Milford, Indiana. He is also the Regional Resource Coordinator for the Midwest Region of The Brethren Church. He is a contributing author to Glimpses of the Christ: Sermons from the Gospels.

40 Questions About Arminianism

J. Matthew Pinson

40 QUESTIONS

Most Christians haven't heard the full story about Arminianism

The actual life and teaching of Jacobus Arminius are often unknown or misunderstood across many Protestant traditions. Answers beyond a basic caricature can be elusive. What are the essential historical backgrounds of Arminianism, and what theological teachings connect to the Arminian point of view? Mixing solid historical research with biblical and doctrinal precision, Baptist scholar J. Matthew Pinson clarifies the foundations of this influential tradition.

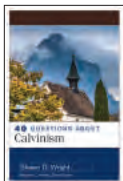

40 Questions About Arminianism addresses the following questions and more:

- Who was Jacobus Arminius?
- How has the church interpreted God's desire that everyone be saved?
- How is Arminianism different from Calvinism?
- Can one be both Reformed and Arminian?
- What is "universal enabling grace"?
- What do Arminians mean by "free will"?
- Do Arminians believe that God predestines individuals to salvation?
- Is it possible for a Christian to apostatize?

An accessible question-and-answer format helps readers pursue the issues that interest them most and encourages a broad understanding of historic and contemporary Arminianism, with additional resources available at 40questions.net.

J. Matthew Pinson (MA, Yale University; PhD, Vanderbilt University) has been president of Welch College in Gallatin, Tennessee, for nineteen years and previously served as a pastor of churches in Alabama, Connecticut, and Georgia. He is the author or editor of ten books, including Arminian and Baptist: Explorations in a Theological Tradition.

40 Questions About Prayer

Joseph C. Harrod

40 QUESTIONS

Relevant questions about prayer answered from the whole witness of Scripture

Praying is often the most common yet least understood practice of Christian spirituality. In 40 Questions About Prayer, scholar and teacher Joseph C. Harrod shares biblical insight on the nature and practice of Christian prayer. Harrod's emphasis on searching the Scriptures results in a trustworthy, practical guide to a vital aspect of Christian belief and behavior, equally appropriate for seminary courses, Bible studies, and personal understanding.

The accessible question-and-answer format of 40 Questions About Prayer allows readers to explore issues they care most about, such as:

- Does prayer change God's mind?
- Does God hear the prayers of unbelievers?
- What does it mean to pray in Jesus's name?
- How does prayer affect evangelism, spiritual awakening, and revival?
- What does it mean to pray "without ceasing" (1 Thess. 5:17)?
- Do physical postures affect prayer?

Joseph C. Harrod (PhD in Biblical Spirituality, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary) currently serves as assistant professor of Biblical Spirituality and associate vice president for Institutional Effectiveness at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He is the author of Theology and Spirituality in the Works of Samuel Davies and numerous journal articles.

40 Questions About Women in Ministry

Sue Edwards and Kelley Mathews

40 QUESTIONS

Aims for a deeper understanding about the roles of women in the faith community

40 Questions About Women in Ministry charts a course for understanding differing views on the topic. The accessible question-and-answer format guides readers to specific areas of confusion, and the authors helpfully zero in on the foundations of varied beliefs and practices.

Edwards and Mathews cover interpretive, theological, historical, and practical matters such as:

- What terms describe various views on women in ministry?
- What did God mean by the woman as man's "helper"?
- How is it that Bible-believing Christians reach different conclusions about 1 Timothy 2:11–15?
- How did Western culture influence the role of women in society and the church?

Combining a strong adherence to Scripture, vast academic and ministry experience, and a commitment to Christ-honoring dialogue, 40 Questions About Women in Ministry is a valuable guide for pastors, ministry leaders, church groups, and seminarians.

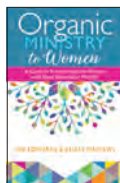

Sue Edwards (MA, Dallas Theological Seminary; DMin, Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary), professor of educational ministries and leadership at Dallas Theological Seminary, has taught at DTS for more than 20 years. With over 40 years' experience as a Bible teacher and overseer of ministries to women, she is the coauthor of several leadership books and the Discover Together Bible Study series.

Kelley Mathews (ThM, Dallas Theological Seminary), a former women's ministry director, now serves on the publishing team at RightNow Media. A DMin student at Northern Seminary, she is the coauthor of Leading Women Who Wound. She lives with her husband, John, and their four children in Texas. Elemental Theology

An Introductory Survey of Conservative Doctrine

Emery H. Bancroft; Edited and Revised by Ronald B. Mayers

Foundational volume on biblical literature and conservative doctrine for over 60 years

*E*lemental Theology presents the basics of systematic theology in brief, easy-to-follow outline form that will be appreciated by students, teachers, pastors, and laypersons wanting a practical-level introduction to the subject. Bancroft's thorough survey of doctrine includes numerous quotations from well-known biblical commentators and study questions at the end of each chapter for personal or class review. Specific doctrines discussed are:

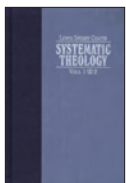

- The Doctrine of the Scriptures
- The Doctrine of Sin
- The Doctrine of God
- The Doctrine of Salvation
- The Doctrine of Jesus
- The Doctrine of the Church
- The Doctrine of the Holy Spirit
- The Doctrine of Angels
- The Doctrine of Man
- The Doctrine of Last Things

“It is refreshing to find a volume that sets forth lucidly a biblical theology. Here, the appeal for authority is not to historians, theologians, or the church fathers, but to the Word of God.”

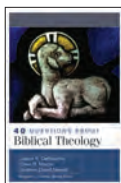

—Paul R. Jackson, D.D.

Emery H. Bancroft (d. 1944) was professor of Bible doctrine and systematic theology at Baptist Bible Seminary, now in Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania. He was also the author of the doctrinal study entitled Christian Theology.

Preaching Life-Changing Sermons

Six Steps to Developing and Delivering Biblical Messages

Jesse L. Nelson

A how-to guide for preparing and delivering Spirit-filled, biblical messages that make an impact

Being called to preach is a tremendous commission. In Preaching Life-Changing Sermons, Jesse L. Nelson shares a simple process for effective expository sermon preparation and delivery, flavored with insights from his life in ministry and academic work. Those with teaching and preaching responsibilities with little to no seminary training will learn practical steps they can use today in their ministry.

Nelson outlines the six foundations of life-changing preaching and shows how each looks in the everyday life of a pastor:

- Seek the Spirit
- Select the Scripture
- Study the Scripture
- Structure the Sermon
- Speak in the Spirit
- Share the Savior

Handling God's Word rightly through prayer, sermon preparation, and sermon delivery sets the stage for people to absorb the message. When the Spirit moves as Scripture speaks, souls are changed—and the call to preach becomes an exciting, transformative adventure.

Jesse L. Nelson (DMin, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary) is a senior pastor in Panama City, Florida, and an adjunct professor at The Baptist College of Florida and New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. He is a missionary to Haiti and a missions consultant for the National African American Fellowship of the Southern Baptist Convention. Nelson serves on the board of directors of the Evangelical Homiletics Society and speaks frequently for events related to black history, Christian education, leadership, missions, preaching, racial reconciliation, and more.

Reprobation and God's Sovereignty

Redeeming a Biblical Doctrine

Peter Sammons; foreword by John MacArthur

God's right to judge humanity is written on the very fabric of human existence

The doctrine of reprobation—that is, the eternal, unconditional decree of God for the non-elect—is frequently misconstrued in both pastoral and theological literature. In Reprobation and God's Sovereignty, Peter Sammons reintroduces this oft-misunderstood doctrine, revealing its relationship to divine sovereignty. With Romans 9 as a guiding text, Sammons presents a thoroughly researched defense of reprobation as an essential part in a Reformed theology that magnifies God and encourages believers to trust in him.

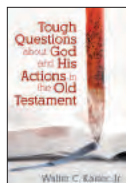

Reprobation and God's Sovereignty clearly defines and demonstrates from Scripture the foundational terms and doctrines required for properly understanding reprobation, such as:

- God's justice
- Election
- Compatibilism
- Secondary causality
- Preterition
- Predamnation

Understanding these theological ideas proves vital to answering life's all-important question, "Who is God?" Sammons shows how the doctrine of reprobation leads to a greater admiration for God, eliciting higher praise, reverence, and belief in him.

Peter Sammons (PhD, The Master's Seminary) is both director of academic publications at The Master's Seminary and managing editor of The Master's Seminary Journal. He is the author of Reprobation: From Augustine to the Synod of Dort.

James

An Exegetical Guide for Preaching and Teaching

Herbert W. Bateman IV & William C. Varner

BIG GREEK IDEA

Encounter the message of James like never before

To read the Greek text of James is to face a rugged style and brief phrasing that match the fervency of the letter's meaning. The book of James powerfully exhorts the earliest Christian believers to faithful living. Biblical Greek experts Herbert W. Bateman IV and William C. Varner lay out the linguistic and grammatical features unique to James—such as his specialized vocabulary and prolific use of imperatives—to show how the book's many strong statements connect to one another in this masterwork on living according to the teachings of Jesus.

The Big Greek Idea series provides all the relevant information from the Greek text for preaching and teaching the New Testament. Each New Testament book is divided into units of thought, revealing a big Greek idea (the author's main idea in the passage), and individual clauses are displayed visually to illustrate their relationships, portraying the biblical author's logical flow. Greek clauses are accompanied by an original English translation.

Each volume in this series contains many practical features:

- Helpful charts, tables, and diagrams illustrate key points.
- Numerous callouts provide deeper insights into word meanings and theological issues.
- Visual cues highlight important information.
- An introduction to each biblical book summarizes the grammar, style, and vocabulary, including reminders and explanations of key terms.

Herbert W. Bateman IV (PhD, Dallas Theological Seminary) taught New Testament Greek for over twenty years and is editor of the Big Greek Idea series. He is the author or coauthor of more than fifteen books, many on the subject of New Testament exegesis and proclamation, including Hebrews (Kerux), John's Letters (Big Greek Idea), and Jude (Evangelical Exegetical Commentary).

William C. Varner (MDiv, ThM, Biblical Theological Seminary; EdD, Temple University) is professor of biblical studies and Greek at The Master's University. He is the author of thirteen books, including four on the letter of James.

Three in One

Analogies of the Trinity

William David Spencer

Do our images of “one God in three persons” reflect God well?

Throughout history, Christians have pictured the relationships between Father, Son, and Holy Spirit through analogies. Such illustrations—some from the West but also from Latin America, Asia, Africa, and other places—come laden with theological ramifications that the church has rejected (heresies) or embraced (doctrines). In Three in One, William David Spencer shares a lifetime of insights from teaching within the global church, bringing fresh images and analogies of the Trinity to deepen our theological vocabulary.

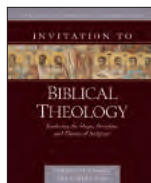

Drawing from his extensive teaching in geographically and culturally diverse contexts and his artist’s passion for evocative words and visuals, Spencer offers readers a rich, multifaceted, and practical exploration of the Trinity. Alongside historical and contemporary theology and biblical studies, he considers the strengths and shortcomings of various analogies used to explain the Trinity, such as:

- Light
- Water
- The Celtic knot
- The totem pole
- Musical harmonies
- The human body
- The family

Readers of Three in One will gain a personal understanding of the Trinity as well as tools for teaching about the Trinity in adult and children’s ministry contexts.

William David Spencer (ThD, Boston University School of Theology) is distinguished adjunct professor of theology and the arts at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary’s Boston campus (Center for Urban Ministerial Education). He has authored, coauthored, or coedited eighteen books, including The Global God: Multicultural Evangelical Views of God and Global Voices on Biblical Equality: Women and Men Serving Together in the Church, as well as hundreds of publications in journals and periodicals. He has served in urban ministry for fifty-five years.

Revelation Through Old Testament Eyes

Tremper Longman III

THROUGH OLD TESTAMENT EYES

The book of Revelation simply cannot be understood apart from the Old Testament

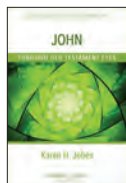

Through Old Testament Eyes is a new kind of commentary series that illuminates the Old Testament backgrounds, allusions, patterns, and references saturating the New Testament. The structure and content of the Old Testament were second nature to the New Testament authors and their audiences, but today's readers have no reference point for understanding their intricate role in the New Testament. Bible teachers, preachers, and students committed to understanding Scripture will gain insight through these rich Old Testament connections, which clarify puzzling passages and explain others in fresh ways.

The images of Revelation—like a seven-sealed scroll, four horsemen bringing destruction and death, locusts from the abyss, and more—often seem hopelessly complex to today's readers and have led to egregious misunderstanding and misinterpretations. But as Tremper Longman demonstrates in Revelation Through Old Testament Eyes, this confusion arises from unfamiliarity with symbolism that Revelation's first readers readily comprehended. In large part, the imagery arises from first-century AD Greco-Roman culture and from the Old Testament, with its own background in ancient Near Eastern literature. Through its unmistakable Old Testament connections, Revelation exhorts readers to persevere in the present and place their hope in God for the future.

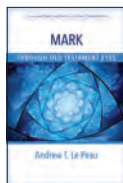

Avoiding overly technical discussions and interpretive debates to concentrate on Old Testament influences, Revelation Through Old Testament Eyes combines rigorous, focused New Testament scholarship with deep respect for the entire biblical text.

Tremper Longman III (PhD, Yale University) is Distinguished Scholar and professor emeritus of Biblical Studies of Westmont College. He is the author of numerous textbooks, books, and commentaries and has edited and contributed to award-winning Bible reference works, such as Dictionary of the Old Testament and Zondervan Illustrated Bible Backgrounds Commentary.

The Qur'an and the Christian

An In-Depth Look into the Book of Islam for Followers of Jesus

Matthew Aaron Bennett

Understanding Islam's sacred text is integral to understanding your Muslim neighbor

Cross-cultural missionary and scholar Matthew Aaron Bennett blends the insights of Islamic believers, secular Qur'an scholars, and missionaries to Muslims, making The Qur'an and the Christian like no other resource for Christian ministry to Muslims. Combining these perspectives in one guide better equips Christians to communicate the biblical gospel to friends and neighbors who are adherents to Islam—both in and out of majority-Muslim cultures.

The Qur'an and the Christian addresses issues both simple and profound, such as:

- How the Qur'an came to be, including Muhammed and the Qur'an's textual precursors
- The major themes of the Qur'an and how these shape the practice of Islam
- The presence of Bible characters, Jews, and Christians in the Qur'anic text
- Whether and how a Christian should read the Qur'an
- Avoiding miscommunication with Muslims when the Qur'an and Christian teaching seem to overlap

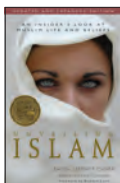

This book will help Christians learn how to explore Islamic faith with missiological wisdom and biblical precision. The Qur'an and the Christian will give believers the insight to deepen friendships, promote understanding, and clarify the biblical gospel among Muslim friends and neighbors.

Matthew Aaron Bennett (PhD, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary) is assistant professor of Missions and Theology at Cedarville University. He has over seventeen years of intercultural ministry experience, including leadership and teaching in majority-Muslim contexts.

Christianity and Modern Medicine

Foundations for Bioethics

Mark Wesley Foreman and Lindsay C. Leonard

Raises and considers common issues, cutting through the moral fog in medical science

Christianity and Modern Medicine raises moral questions that were merely hypothetical just decades ago. Moreover, traditional moral models are incessantly challenged by the medical community at large, shifting the conversation to patient and societal rights within a framework of moral relativism and rendering the decision-making process morally vague and confusing.

In Christianity and Modern Medicine, bioethicist Mark Wesley Foreman and attorney Lindsay C. Leonard delve into the major ethical issues facing today's medical professionals, with the purpose of providing principles and guidelines for making critical ethical decisions where medical knowledge, technologies, and capabilities are constantly evolving. Topics covered include:

- procreational ethics
- abortion
- infanticide
- physician-assisted suicide
- genetic ethics
- medical research
- clinical ethics
- legal issues

While Christianity and Modern Medicine is designed specifically for students planning careers in the medical field, it is accessible to any Christian interested in steering through the moral fog in the practice of medicine today.

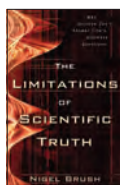

Mark Wesley Foreman (PhD, University of Virginia) has been teaching bioethics at Liberty University for almost thirty years. During his doctoral work, he studied under James F. Childress who is recognized as one of the fathers of the modern bioethics movement in this country.

Lindsay C. Leonard serves as Assistant Attorney General for the Commonwealth of Virginia and is adjunct instructor for the online bioethics course for Liberty University.

Associate Pastors Ministry from the Middle

Michael Matthew Mauriello

Rather than simply leading or following, why not consider stewarding?

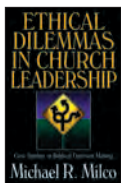

Associate pastors of all kinds—whether assigned to children, youth, worship, adult, or outreach—are often caught in the middle of complicated relationships in their congregations. It's an emotionally taxing and organizationally confusing position. In Associate Pastors, Michael Matthew Mauriello demonstrates how associate pastors can harness the ambiguity that accompanies their role in ways that can mutually benefit church members and other pastoral staff.

The heart of Associate Pastors comes from personal interviews with twenty-five associate pastors in small-to-medium-sized churches who have served in pastoral ministry positions for more than ten years. Their shared experiences demonstrate the unique social and spiritual dynamics of the associate pastor role and suggest great promise for those willing to approach their calling with creativity and care. Specifically, when associate pastors facilitate learning within their congregations, they confer benefits on church leadership and laypeople alike.

Given that most pastoral students have limited preparation for the responsibilities associate pastors shoulder, Associate Pastors is an ideal textbook for Bible colleges and seminaries. Those studying for the pastorate and those already serving in associate pastor roles will find encouragement and a new vision for blessing the church.

Michael Matthew Mauriello (PhD, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School) is assistant professor of Christian Ministry at LeTourneau University and the director of Church Relations, Training, and Assessment at the Passage Institute for Youth and Theology, a one-year discipleship program for high school students. He has more than ten years of experience as an associate pastor in EFCA churches.

Youth Ministry as Mission

A Conversation About Theology and Culture

Brian Hull and Patrick Mays

Equipping youth ministers with the tools of a cross-cultural missionary

The parallels between ministry within youth culture and global missions have long been touted by youth ministry experts, yet few resources exist to help youth workers benefit practically from the insights of missiologists. In Youth Ministry as Mission, Brian Hull and Patrick Mays fill this gap with an introduction to missiology, missions practice, and missionary witness tailored especially for a youth ministry context.

Youth ministers will discover missiological language that not only describes realities they face regularly, but also provides practical cross-cultural activities that translate well to youth ministries. Hull and Mays address issues such as:

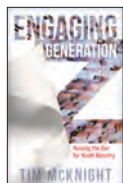

- Avoiding ethical relativism while understanding historical and methodological changes in missions
- Translating stories and practicing storytelling as preparation for witnessing
- Training for witness in a multireligious context

Youth Ministry as Mission will be a valuable guide for college and seminary students but will also be a breath of fresh air to those already working as youth directors and youth ministers.

Brian Hull (PhD, Asbury Theological Seminary) is associate professor of Youth Ministry at Asbury University and director of Asbury's Youth Becoming Leaders Program.

Patrick Mays (PhD, Asbury Theological Seminary) is professor of Christian Ministry at LeTourneau University. He co-launched the Passage Institute for Youth and Theology, a one-year discipleship program for high school students. Additionally, Mays has served in numerous pastoral roles, as a short-term missionary, and for seven years as a guest Bible scholar at a Bible translation ministry in Nigeria.

Five Views on the New Testament Canon

Stanley E. Porter and Benjamin P. Laird, editors

VIEWPOINTS

A perfect text for understanding how the New Testament came to be

The enduring influence of the New Testament does not lessen the dispute over the events and factors leading to its adoption. Five Views on the New Testament Canon presents five distinct ways of understanding how the New Testament came to be: conservative, progressive, liberal, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox.

Each contributor addresses historical, theological, and hermeneutical questions related to the New Testament canon, such as what factors precipitated the establishment and recognition of the New Testament canon; the basis of any authority the New Testament has; and what the canon means for reading and interpreting the New Testament. Also included are responses from each contributor to the other views presented in the volume. The result is a lively, irenic exchange suitable for both undergraduate and graduate students seeking to grasp the best canon scholarship in biblical studies.

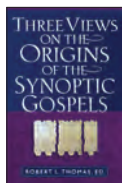

Stanley E. Porter (PhD, University of Sheffield) is president, dean, professor of New Testament, and Roy A. Hope Chair in Christian Worldview at McMaster Divinity College. Porter is the editor of more than eighty volumes and author of twenty-eight books on various topics in New Testament and related subjects, including How We Got the New Testament. Porter has published more than three hundred articles, chapters, and related writings, and he speaks regularly at major conferences and other venues globally.

Benjamin P. Laird (PhD, University of Aberdeen) serves as associate professor of Biblical Studies at the John W. Rawlings School of Divinity, Liberty University. He is the author of the forthcoming volume The Formation, Publication, and Circulation of the Pauline Corpus in Early Christianity.

Preaching

A Simple Approach to the Sacred Task

Daniel Overdorf

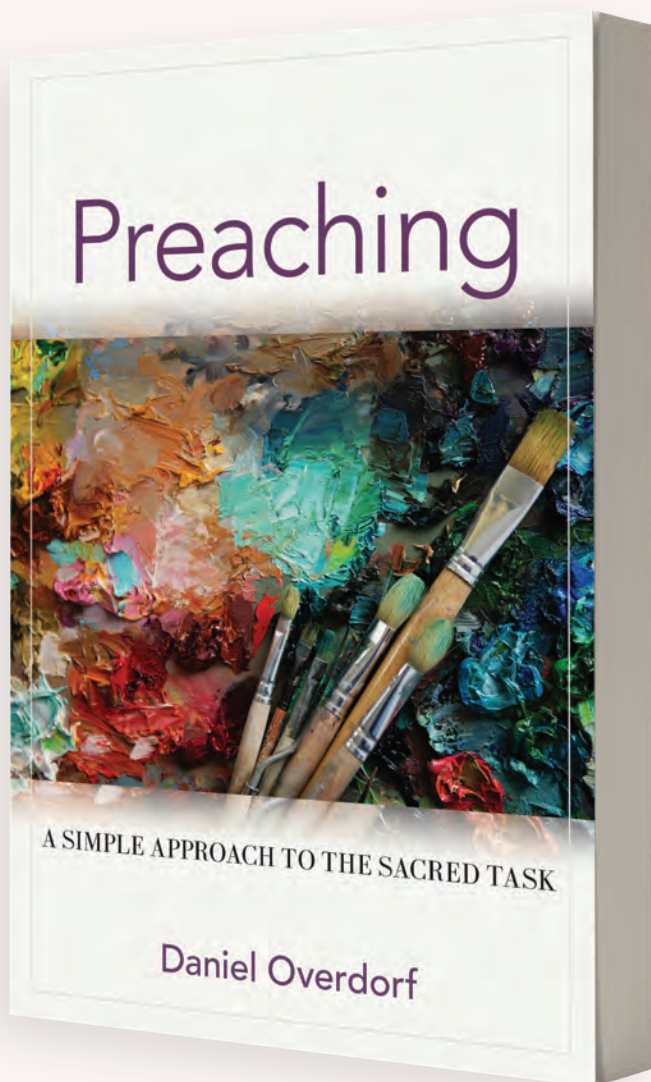

A guide for preaching with power and presence

In Preaching, experienced preacher and teacher of preachers Daniel Overdorf leads readers through a tested process for sermon preparation that takes proclaiming God's Word seriously yet does not overcomplicate the task or overwhelm the preacher. Overdorf describes and demonstrates consistent, manageable steps to effective preaching, including:

- Clarifying the convictions that drive your preaching
- Identifying the main idea of a Scripture text
- Forming memorable word pictures
- Reducing reliance on notes
- Connecting with the congregation throughout the sermon
- Speaking authentically

Preaching offers guidance for any pastor who desires to communicate God's Word more effectively. Those preparing for the pastorate will find encouragement and exercises that start their teaching ministry off on the right path. Those who preach regularly will discover resources for taking the next step in their unique journey of proclaiming the Scriptures to their congregations with power and presence.

Daniel Overdorf (DMin, Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary) is director of preaching programs and professor of pastoral ministries at Johnson University in Knoxville, Tennessee. He is a popular speaker, and his books are used in churches, colleges, and seminaries across the country.

Divine Love Theory

How the Trinity Is the Source and Foundation of Morality

Adam Lloyd Johnson

What if the loving relationships of the Trinity are the ultimate, objective source for living morally?

Adam Lloyd Johnson injects a fresh yet eternal reality into the thriving debate over the basis of moral absolutes. While postmodernism's moral relativism once disrupted the footing of classic moral theories like natural law and divine command, many nontheistic philosophers assert that morality must rest on something real and objective. Divine Love Theory proposes a grounding for morality not only in the creator God but as revealed in the Christian Scriptures—Father, Son, and Spirit eternally loving one another.

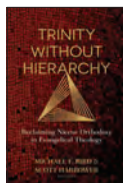

Johnson contends that the Trinity provides a remarkably convincing foundation for making moral judgments. One leading atheistic proposal, godless normative realism, finds many deficiencies in theistic and Christian theories, yet Johnson shows how godless normative realism is susceptible to similar errors. He then demonstrates how the loving relationships of the Trinity as outlined in historic Christian theology resolve many of the weakest points in both theistic and atheistic moral theories.

Adam Lloyd Johnson earned his PhD with a concentration in philosophy of religion at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary. He teaches for the Rhineland School of Theology in Wölmersen, Germany, and Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Missouri. He also serves with Ratio Christi, a university campus ministry. He is the author or editor of several published works including A Debate on God and Morality: What Is the Best Account of Objective Moral Values and Duties? which was coauthored with William Lane Craig, J.P. Moreland, Erik Wielenberg, and others.

The Psalms

Jesus's Prayer Book

Douglas D. Webster

RETAIL
VALUE
$99.99!

A four-volume commentary for worship, devotion, and reflection on the Psalter

The Old Testament Psalter testifies both to the universal human condition and the redemption wrought for believers in the person and work of Christ. In The Psalms, longtime pastor and seminary professor Doug Webster distills ancient and modern scholarship on Psalms into theological, canonical, apostolic, linguistic, and pastoral edification for students of the Psalter. By focusing on both the most consequential and the less developed aspects of psalmic studies, Webster shows how living a Christ-centered life goes hand in hand with digesting Psalms as a complete collection prefiguring Christ.

The volumes of The Psalms follow the internal divisions Psalms presents:

- Volume 1 (Book I of the Psalms)
- Volume 2 (Book II)
- Volume 3 (Books III–IV)
- Volume 4 (Book V)

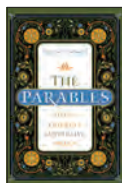

Designed with preachers and teachers in mind, The Psalms strikes a middle ground between a technical commentary and a book of sermons. Webster offers pastoral insight in both interpretation and application of the Psalms for worship, unveiling purpose and significance for worship, devotion, and reflection.

Douglas D. Webster (PhD, University of St. Michael's College) is professor of pastoral theology and preaching at Beeson Divinity School, Samford University. He has served churches in San Diego, New York City, Denver, and Toronto. His other books include Follow the Lamb: A Pastoral Approach to the Revelation, Preaching Hebrews: The End of Religion and Faithfulness to the End, and The Parables: Jesus's Friendly Subversive Speech.

Calls to Worship, Invocations, and Benedictions

Highly organized and practical, this resource for worship leaders provides over 550 calls to worship, invocations, and benedictions and over 100 optional congregational responses, along with seasonal and topical suggestions for worship planning. Each liturgical element is sourced directly from the Bible and indexed by topic. Quickly find appropriate passages, and draw on a broader range of Scripture in your worship services.

This useful handbook also includes an overview of how churches have historically incorporated these elements into worship, with particular attention paid to early Reformation liturgies. Whether you are new to this pattern of worship or have made it a part of your services for years, you will be helped and encouraged.

Ryan Kelly is an associate professor of music at West Chester University of Pennsylvania, where he directs several choirs and teaches courses in conducting and choral music. An experienced church musician and organist, he is also director of music at Proclamation Presbyterian Church in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania.

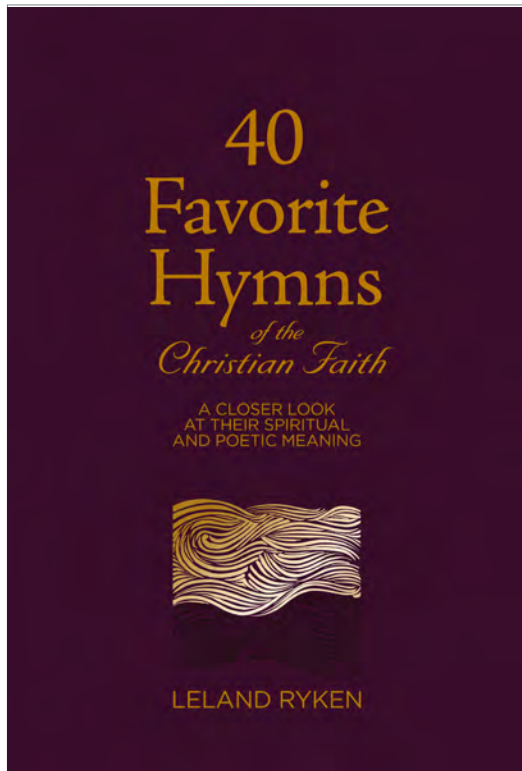

Endorsements

"Calls to Worship, Invocations and Benedictions offers an excellent introduction to basic elements of Reformed liturgy arranged by the church's calendar. Ryan Kelly provides biblically rich and pertinent theological texts to enhance the labors of worship leaders and pastors in their liturgical planning. This is a blessing to read, a useful tool for preparation and a motivation to pursue fidelity and excellence in the praise of our Lord who is exalted over all."

—Dr. Peter Lillback, president, Westminster Theological Seminary, Philadelphia

"I'm always on the lookout for good resources to aid in the preparation of liturgies for the corporate worship of God's people. Well, I don't need to look any further. Ryan Kelly has served the church well with the publication of this volume. Every pastor and music leader in the church will want a copy of this book. This is not the kind of work that one reads once or simply places on the shelf alongside other "worship" books. Rather, this volume is a resource that will be employed weekly by all attempting to prayerfully craft liturgies aimed at ministering faithfully to God's people. There is no greater duty or delight for the Christian than gathering with God's people in worship; and preparing for those gatherings is one of the greatest duties and delights of the pastor. With this publication, that delightful duty just became richer, simpler, and more informed thanks to Dr. Kelly."

40 Favorite Hymns of the Christian Faith: A Closer Look at Their Spiritual and Poetic Meaning

Every hymn begins its life as a poem—and we can give our favorite hymns fresh life by returning to their poetic roots. This anthology of several centuries' worth of great hymns invites us to experience these works as devotional poetry—to slow down and savor their well-turned phrases, their surprising metaphors, and their evocative language. English professor Leland Ryken provides some historical background for each hymn, but his focus is on literary analysis. Combined with relevant Scripture texts, the result is a wonderfully devotional and poetic study of the Christian faith, drawing on hymns such as "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "For All the Saints," and many more.

Leland Ryken (PhD, University of Oregon) is the author of more than fifty books on biblical and literary topics, the literary editor of the ESV Bible, and emeritus professor of English at Wheaton College in Illinois.

Endorsements from 40 Favorite Hymns series

"A foundation of powerful and beautiful hymns is essential in the development of a community of believers and the expression of God's goodness through their lives. Thank you, Dr. Ryken, for this resource to the church."

—Keith Getty, Award-Winning Hymnwriter, Musician

"Though we are beyond the heated worship wars of the previous century, we are often still confused about many aspects of current church songs. Young people, though not hostile to traditional hymnody, are simply ignorant of their very existence. Without engaging in polemics concerning CCM, Scripture songs, and the like, Leland Ryken has done us an enormous service in bringing to the fore a number of the great, often neglected, hymns from Christian tradition. He brings to this study not only musical wisdom, but his considerable gifts in literature and poetry. May we dare hope this lovely anthology will contribute to the revival of a love for the immortal hymns from our heritage? Let the fair-minded reader decide."

—William Edgar, Musicologist, Professor of Apologetics, Westminster Theological Seminary, Philadelphia

"The perennial clog to devotion is mindlessly going through the motions. Leland Ryken helps people to think about the meaning of classic hymns by looking at them as what they were before they were sung as hymns—namely, carefully crafted poetry. Yet Ryken accomplishes more than enhancing artistic appreciation; he teaches us to worship God with understanding."

Theophany

A Biblical Theology of God's Appearing

Each time God appears to his people throughout the Bible—in the form of a thunderstorm, a man, a warrior, a chariot, and so on—he comes to a specific person for a specific purpose. And each of these temporary appearances—known as theophanies—helps us to better understand who he is, anticipating his climactic, permanent self-revelation in the incarnation of Christ.

Exploring the various accounts of God's visible presence from Genesis to Revelation, theologian Vern S. Poythress helps us consider more deeply what they reveal about who God is and how he dwells with us today.

Vern S. Poythress (MLitt, University of Cambridge; PhD, Harvard University; DTh, University of Stellenbosch, South Africa) is distinguished professor of New Testament, biblical interpretation, and systematic theology at Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. He has authored books on a wide range of topics; his works include Symphonic Theology, Theophany, and The Mystery of the Trinity.

Endorsements

"A theologically rich, spiritually edifying exploration of all that the Bible says about an awe-striking reality."

—Dennis Johnson, Professor of Practical Theology, Westminster Seminary California

"This volume invites the reader to stop and consider all of the different portraits of God's personal presence in the whole canon of Scripture. Those who look in faith will be rewarded and encouraged in their walk with Christ."

—David Wenkel, Adjunct Faculty, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School; author, Shining Like the Sun: A Biblical Theology of Meeting God Face to Face

"Poythress's discussions are rooted in sound biblical scholarship but clearly express how this facet of Scripture should enhance every Christian's daily service to God."

—Richard L. Pratt Jr., President, Third Millennium Ministries

"Poythress is a master at pulling together various strands of Scripture and showing their coherence. Theophany fills a real void in evangelical theology—informative for the scholar but accessible to the layman."

Inerrancy and the Gospels

A God-Centered Approach to the Challenges of Harmonization

Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John describe the same events in different ways in their respective gospel accounts, and no responsible reader can simply sweep these differences under the rug. For serious Christians, this raises questions about biblical inerrancy. Can these books be fully trusted?

Responding to the questions surrounding the gospel narratives, New Testament scholar Vern Poythress makes a strong case for inerrancy in the gospels and helps readers to understand basic principles for harmonization. He also tackles some of the most complicated exegetical problems, showing the way forward on passages that have perplexed many, such as the healing of the centurion's servant, the cursing of the fig tree, and more.

All those interested in the authority of Scripture will find great encouragement and insight in Poythress's arresting case to stem the tide of skepticism.

Vern S. Poythress (MLitt, University of Cambridge; PhD, Harvard University; DTh, University of Stellenbosch, South Africa) is distinguished professor of New Testament, biblical interpretation, and systematic theology at Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. He has authored books on a wide range of topics; his works include Symphonic Theology, Theophany, and The Mystery of the Trinity.

Endorsements

"This is a study well worth reading and considering, regardless of whether one accepts the self-authenticating model or not."

—Darrell L. Bock, Senior Research Professor of New Testament Studies, Dallas Theological Seminary

"When Vern Poythress has chosen to write on a particular subject, the resulting book has always been the best book on that subject. This one is about the inerrancy of Scripture, dealing particularly with problems in the Gospel narratives, and I know of nothing better in the field.

Christ of the Consummation

A New Testament Biblical Theology,
Volume 1: The Testimony of the Four Gospels

At the moment when Jesus entered the realm of redemptive history, God's people and the hurting world needed no further promises or prophecies. The one thing they lacked was fulfillment—they needed the promised Messiah and his consummate kingdom to come.

Noted theologian O. Palmer Robertson's three-volume The Christ of the Consummation explores progressive revelation across the redemptive history of the New Testament. The first volume, The Testimony of the Four Gospels, emphasizes the eyewitness character of the four men who attest to the supernatural in-breaking of the Christ. In the rich tapestry of the Gospels, we see Christ overcome the powers of Satan, gradually unveil his identity by words and works, call and commission disciples, die on the cross, be raised, and ascend to heaven. By each witnessing distinctive aspects of the coming of the King and the establishment of his kingdom, the gospel writers boldly describe a new phase in redemptive revelation.

O. Palmer Robertson (ThM, ThD, Union Theological Seminary, Virginia) is the founder of Consummation Ministries. Previously, he was director and principal of African Bible University in Uganda and taught at Reformed Theological Seminary, Westminster Theological Seminary, Covenant Theological Seminary, and Knox Theological Seminary. He has also served for many years as a teaching elder in various pastoral roles.

Endorsements

"This first volume of Robertson's groundbreaking Christ of the Consummation guides the reader to open up Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John and discover the wonder of Christ and his kingdom. This book is the perfect companion to expository preachers and teachers of the Gospels, as well as every other student of the Bible who desires to grow in both knowledge and devotion to Christ."

—Joel R. Beeke, President, Puritan Reformed Theological Seminary

"O. Palmer Robertson is a gift to the church, and few possess such biblical-theological acumen wedded to a heart to serve Christ. This volume skillfully traces the climax of God's dealings with his people and creation. It remains accessible to laypeople, yet satisfies the appetite of seasoned pastors and teachers. OPR's first volume is complete, and I can't wait to read the next two."

—Benjamin L. Gladd, Associate Professor of New Testament, Reformed Theological Seminary, Jackson

"This work is born out of years of faithful teaching, preaching, and writing, and it is one of the most helpful books I have read on the Gospels. It is a must-read for those who want to know how the Gospels rightly fit in canon and, even more than this, desire to behold the glory of our triune God revealed in the face of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Theology for Ministry: How Doctrine Affects Pastoral Life and Practice

EDITED BY WILLIAM R. EDWARDS, JOHN C. A. FERGUSON, & CHAD VAN DIXHOORN

When pastors see how God's whole counsel shapes and impacts their entire ministry, both pastors and churches will thrive. Deeply connecting theology with practice, this book encourages rich biblical-theological reflection for growing and sustaining a vibrant ministry as contributors such as Joel Beeke, Ligon Duncan, Michael Horton, and Robert Letham apply more than twenty key Christian doctrines to pastoral work.

Chad Van Dixhoorn is professor of church history at Westminster Theological Seminary. Previously, he served as associate pastor at Cambridge Presbyterian Church (UK) and then at Grace Presbyterian Church in Vienna, Virginia. He is the editor of The Minutes and Papers of the Westminster Assembly, 1643–1652, and is the author of God's Ambassadors: The Westminster Assembly and the Reformation of the English Pulpit, 1643–1653.

Endorsements

"Some competent and well-ordered theological writing is intellectually nourishing and instructive, but does little to nurture the heart. Other theological writing rushes so quickly to elicit emotional responses that a suspicion arises that the work is not really about God, truth, and grace, nor primarily about the self-disclosure of our triune God, but about us and how we feel about him. One of the marks of Sinclair Ferguson's great contribution is that over his long years of ministry he has eschewed both poles and given us theology that is, on the one hand, profound and precise and, on the other, wonderfully edifying across the gamut of life and service, calling up responses of both mind and heart. So it is entirely appropriate that this book of essays honoring his life and work takes as its task the same mature synthesis. This book is important not only for what it says, but for what it models."

—D. A. Carson, Emeritus Professor of New Testament, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School

"Some people think that systematic theology is impractical for ministry and irrelevant to the spiritual life. Yet God shows us through the example of Sinclair Ferguson that, by the grace of Christ, doctrine sanctifies life and energizes joyful service. This book, written by more than two dozen theologians influenced by Dr. Ferguson, shows how every point of theology can make God's servants more helpful, holy, and happy."

Getting the Message

Revised and Expanded

A Plan for Interpreting and Applying the Bible

In this serious but nontechnical introduction to interpreting and applying Scripture, Doriani equips Bible teachers to observe and analyze texts, solve problems, and develop themes. Revised for a global audience.

Daniel M. Doriani Daniel M. Doriani (MDiv, PhD, Westminster Theological Seminary; STM, Yale Divinity School; Research Fellow, Yale University) is professor of theology and vice president at Covenant Theological Seminary. He is the founder and president of The Center for Faith and Work, St. Louis; a member of the Council of The Gospel Coalition; and a regular blogger. He was also a lead pastor for fifteen years.

Endorsements

"A master teacher, Dan Doriani has developed an approach to studying God's word that will equip anyone to read, apply and even teach it with Christ as the ultimate focus. Even without seminary or Bible college training, a layperson can become a competent by performing Dan's exercises at the end of each chapter. And be advised, those skills gained will make you thirst for more so you'll probably enroll in seminary!"

—George Robertson, Senior Pastor, Second Presbyterian Church, Memphis

"Advanced Bible teachers will recognize this volume to be informed by more sophisticated hermeneutical discussion, but Getting the Message remains accessible enough to every reader earnest about seeking the meaning of the Scripture. This is a fine book—a much needed book—and those who give themselves to following its guidance can expect to grow in both interpretive confidence and ability."

—Mark P. Ryan, Director, Francis A. Schaeffer Institute; Adjunct Professor of Religion and Culture, Covenant Theological Seminary

"For over thirty years now, I have looked to Dan Doriani not only as a friend, but also as my premiere role model and teacher for rightly approaching, interpreting, receiving from, and communicating the truths of Scripture. Getting the Message, in both its original and newly revised formats, has been a great help not only to pastors and Bible teachers, but also for others who wish to know Christ better through robust Bible study. I anticipate that this will continue to be the case for many years to come. The better you understand the contents this book, the better equipped you will be to understand every part of the Book."

- Latest in the REDS series
- Spiritual vs social responsibilities of the church
- Primary mission of the church is spiritual

Today we hear that silence in the church on certain social issues is equivalent to complicity in social evils in culture. Estelle argues this claim is too binary. Rather, the corporate church of the Lord Jesus Christ is given a very specific job description. A third way may exist in which the corporate church pursues her God-given duties while individual Christians in their civic capacities and duties may address the social evils of the common kingdom. Not recognizing this specific God-given biblical, historical, and theological mission of the church may create confusing fuzzy boundaries in the minds of Christians.

MENTOR

In this timely book Bryan Estelle offers a fresh restatement of the classical doctrine of the church: it is a spiritual kingdom with spiritual weapons for a spiritual calling. Citing important voices in the Reformed tradition, The Primary Mission of the Church is a careful and irenic engagement with recent challenges to the church's spirituality. Estelle demonstrates how this doctrine, rightly understood, liberates the church from false hopes and alien agendas even while it equips believers faithfully to fulfill their callings in the world.

John R. Muether

Dean of Libraries and Professor of Church History, Reformed Theological Seminary, Orlando

The church and her engagement with society and contemporary issues, particularly questions of justice, is the source of much division and realignment within many local congregations. Dr. Estelle engages both historical and contemporary writers on the topic, as well as offering a thorough Biblical and Theological walk through key Old Testament passages in order to make his case. I warmly commend this much needed addition to the contemporary conversation.

Deuteronomy

A Mentor Expository Commentary

Douglas F. Kelly

- 5th book in Mentor Expository Commentary series
- Resource for pastors and Bible teachers
- Expositions from the book of Deuteronomy

The book of Deuteronomy finds the Israelites on the cusp of entering the land that had been promised to them since the days of Abraham. This second giving of the law is to be the bedrock of the society they build – to be people identified as the people of Yahweh. Douglas F. Kelly helpfully expounds this book considering not only its importance to the original hearers, but also the impact it has for the church today. The Mentor Expository Series holds to an inerrant view of Scripture. The series is thoroughly researched with helpful practical application. This is a resource for pastors and Bible teachers who want to draw on Christ-centered expository teaching and for the lay reader who wants to delve more deeply into the riches of the Word of God.

MENTOR

... an excellent, lucid exposition of Deuteronomy. He presents the message of the book in a clear and accessible way. Free from jargon and technicalities, while yet informed by scholarly discussion, this should be of great value for pastors and lay readers alike.

Robert Letham

Wales Evangelical School of Theology, Bridgend, Wales

Dr. Kelly's exceptional preaching skills and insightful application make this a page turner. The importance of Deuteronomy, both in Moses' time and later in the reforms of King Josiah make it uniquely important for our time. Dr. Kelly will inspire a host of preachers to take up Deuteronomy and preach it.

Derek W. H. Thomas

Senior Minister of Preaching and Teaching, First Presbyterian Church, Columbia, South Carolina

Dr. Kelly drills down into the word of God to tap into the well of biblical truth. His exposition flows with the living water of the gospel that equips for every good work—he points the church to Christ so we can seek the grace of God for salvation and godly living.

Here, faithfully proclaimed, is the book of the Bible to which Christ turned three times in a row when tempted by the devil, applied to our homes and hearts. Highly recommended!

Teaching Deuteronomy

From Text to Message

Matt Fuller

- Guide to preaching through Deuteronomy
- Encourages readers to draw on biblical text
- For preachers, teachers, Bible study leaders

Deuteronomy is the climax of the Pentateuch. It offers up a choice for God's people – life or death, blessing or curse. Moses exhorts the people to choose to love the Lord and obey him in response to his grace today. In his helpful guide Matt Fuller suggests ways preachers might want to tackle Deuteronomy and shows the important of preaching the book to Christians. He urges them to preach Deuteronomy as an urgent and passionate call to love the Lord wholeheartedly, to choose to love him each and every day.

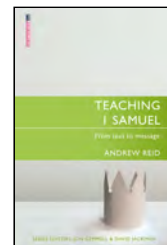

Matt Fuller

Matt is the vicar at Christ Church Mayfair where he has been since it was planted 20 years ago. He's authored various books but this one took the longest because Deuteronomy really is a treasure. He's thankful for every church and conference he's preached at in the last few years being willing to hear sermons on it!

Teaching Leviticus

From Text to Message

G. Geoffrey Harper

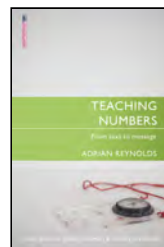

- Guide to preaching through Leviticus
- Encourages readers to draw on biblical text
- For preachers, teachers, Bible study leaders

The book of Leviticus remains a mystery to many Christians, which is a great pity, for Leviticus is not only theologically rich, but also essential for grasping the full-orbed message of the gospel. The book's central concern is clear: preparing people to live near Yahweh's presence and survive the encounter; yet the message of Leviticus remains one of grace. It is God who desires to live with his people, and it is God who provides means and instructions to make such an arrangement possible. Geoffrey Harper's guide to this complex but crucial book will be helpful to small group leaders and preachers who want to teach Leviticus but are unsure where to start.

Matthew

A Call for Unity and Responsibility in the Church

John D. Hannah

- Part of Focus on the Bible series
- Layman's commentary
- Includes application questions

Matthew was a tax collector, a disgrace to his people. But Jesus, in his grace, called him to be a disciple and to write a book about him for his own people, the Jews. The central theme of Matthew is two-fold: Jesus is the fulfilment of the promises in the Hebrew Scriptures and Jesus is the Messiah.

John D. Hannah's valuable contribution to the Focus on the Bible series is a layman's commentary to this crucial book. Moving through the book, he shows how Matthew records the claims of Jesus to be King, and the rejection of Jesus as King.

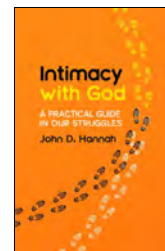

John D. Hannah

John D. Hannah has been a professor at Dallas Theological Seminary for forty years, specialising in theology and history. He is also an author, and frequently speaks at churches and conferences.

The Army of God

Spurgeon's Vision for the Church

Geoffrey Chang

- How Spurgeon's ecclesiology affected his ministry
- Reformed ecclesiology and Baptist polity
- By curator of Spurgeon Library

Charles Haddon Spurgeon faithfully served the Metropolitan Tabernacle from his arrival in 1854 to his death in 1892. Undergirding everything else was this central responsibility: Spurgeon was the pastor of a church. What was Spurgeon's ecclesiology and how did it affect how he ordered and led his local church? Chang examines Spurgeon's Reformed ecclesiology and Baptist polity and looks at how they were shaped by his militant church outlook.

Geoffrey Chang (Ph.D., Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminar) serves as an Assistant Professor of Historical Theology and the Curator of the Spurgeon Library at Midwestern Seminary. He is also an elder at Wornall Road Baptist Church. He is married to Stephanie, and they have three kids.

Jack Turner

Truth in the Arctic

David Luckman

- Adventures in the arctic
- Pharmacist, pastor and Bible translator
- Part of the popular Trail Blazers series

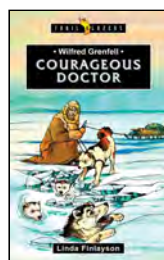

Jack Turner was trained pharmacist and pastor who went to the arctic to translate God's Word into the native language. It was a world of snow and hunting and anyone who lived there had to become familiar with the ways of living in the arctic. Ten weeks out of every year the sun never set and for three months the world was in complete darkness.

The spiritual darkness of the North was being pushed back by the power of the Gospel and the Lord Jesus Christ that Jack Turner followed. But danger is around every corner in the wild North – and Jack runs into trouble.

David Luckman comes from Northern Ireland. He is a graduate of Oak Hill College and King's College, London. He taught Religious Education in a secondary school in England, before being ordained as a Church of Ireland minister. He is married to Sarah and has two daughters.

Elaine Townsend

At Home Around the World

Simona Gorton

- From fashionable 1930's Chicago to missionary life
- Wycliffe missionary and Cameron Townsend's wife
- Biography for 9–14-year-olds

Elaine Townsend was a bright young thing in 1930's Chicago. She once won an award for being 'The Best Protestant' and was given an amazing prize which enabled her to go on a round the world trip. This was a unique experience but one that she would continue to do in later life after she had come to faith in Christ. However, it wouldn't be trips and luxury travel – rather the hard work and sacrifice of missionary endeavour. When she became a Wycliffe missionary and Cameron Townsend's wife Elaine discovered how adventurous life can be when you simply say yes to God. It was as though being God's servant meant that the whole world was her home.

Charles Simeon Christ in Cambridge George MacLean

- Part of the popular Trail Blazers series
- Preacher of the Gospel in Cambridge, UK
- Became leading Evangelical and mission founder

Charles Simeon was smart and well turned out and enjoyed all the pleasures that life offered a well educated young man in the 1700s studying at Cambridge University. His interest in religion, however, didn't go much beyond trying to save his conscience by good works. Yet, one day at the age of 19, he realised his sin could only be dealt with by transferring the guilt of it to another – the Lord Jesus Christ. With this realisation his heart was flooded with peace and from that day Charles Simeon was set on a remarkable pathway to spread the good news of Salvation through preaching God's Word.

George MacLean

George MacLean, married to Mary, is an elder in Smithton Free Church outside Inverness, Scotland. As would be expected of a former English teacher, he enjoys reading, but also painting, gardening, angling & walking. He enjoys visits to Cambridge to see his son, daughter-in-law & grandchildren.

God's Attributes

Making Him Known series

We all want our children to love God and serve him. But how can they do either well unless they know him?

This colorfully illustrated family devotional makes it easy to introduce your children to the attributes of God—giving them a solid foundational knowledge of God on which they can build their faith. Accompanied by Scripture, discussion questions, and activities, each entry explores one of God's attributes and encourages readers to delight in these qualities and apply them to daily life. By promoting critical thinking and reflection, Jill Nelson provides the tools your children need to embrace the doctrine of God for themselves.

Bridge the gap between biblical truth and real-life application—and help your children to love God even better!

Jill Nelson has taught Sunday school for more than thirty years and now writes children's and youth curriculum for Truth78. As well as authoring God's Gospel and God's Attributes in the Making Him Known series, Jill develops training seminars, articles, and other resources relating to children's and youth ministry. She and her husband, Bruce, live in the Minneapolis area and enjoy spending time with their daughter Sarah and her husband Matt, son Jacob and his wife Amanda, and their grandchildren.

Endorsements

"Relational, interactive, understandable, theological . . . a great book."

—Marty Machowski, Pastor, Author of Long Story Short and The Gospel Story Bible

"As a parent, I loved teaching my children the character of God in simplified form. Why? Because as we were reading together, I was being taught at the same time. My faith was being built. For this reason, I am thrilled to recommend this new resource by Jill Nelson. This book will be a wonderful aid to parents and grandparents as they seek to disciple the hearts of their children."

—Chap Bettis, Author, The Disciple-Making Parent

"God's Attributes is a glorious tour of the excellencies of God—ideal for the next generation! Crafted by master teacher Jill Nelson, this newest book in the Making Him Known series gives parents yet another resource to point little hearts to a big God. Using vivid analogies and pointed questions, Jill seeks not merely to educate the mind but to thrill the heart and transform a life."

We've Been There

True Stories, Surprising Insights, and Aha Moments for Adopted Teens

Susan TeBos

Candid, unfiltered stories about how it feels to be a teen adoptee

The teen years are full of uncomfortable self-discovery for everyone. But adopted teens grapple with issues that make the coming of age journey immensely more difficult. Many don't have words for what they're feeling, sensing, or believing about themselves. They often don't have anyone like them to help work through their struggles. Forced to cope on their own, they end up feeling isolated.

Adoption advocate and adoptive mom Susan TeBos has watched her own children go through these struggles. Often she wished for a voice that would resonate with adopted teens—her own and others—and authentically meet them where they are.

She found not one voice, but many: over thirty older adopted teens and young adults. We've Been There gathers their stories, giving readers a front-row seat to people with similar stories and feelings.

This book is an unprecedented glimpse into the unfiltered feelings, thoughts, experiences, and unanswered questions that well up in the heart of every person with adoption in their story. From people who have been there as adopted kids, this book not only invites adopted teens to bring their concerns into the open, but also helps them process how they feel and offers them hope on the other side. In these pages, teen adoptees will understand themselves in a whole new way and find reassurance and a sense of belonging as part of a global adopted community.

Susan TeBos is a writer, speaker, Bible study leader, and a former marketing professional at Amway Corporation. She and her husband, Mike, have adopted three children from Siberia, and the family makes their home in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Susan is an adoption advocate and the coauthor of Before You Were Mine: Discovering Your Adopted Child's Life Story.

A Student's Guide to Depression

John C. Kwasny

- Grounds depression in a biblical worldview
- Written by biblical counsellor
- For students and young adults

Biblical counsellor John Kwasny helpfully tackles the issue of depression in this latest addition to the popular Track series. He addresses the ways depression can affect us, and gives helpful biblical advice on how we should react. This short book will be helpful for students and young adults as they encounter depression themselves, or as they seek to support friends or family members.

John C. Kwasny

Dr. John C. Kwasny is the Director of Discipleship Ministries at Pear Orchard Presbyterian Church (PCA) in Ridgeland, Mississippi. He is a Biblical counselor, an adjunct professor at Reformed Theological Seminary, and Director of One Story Ministries—authoring a complete discipleship curriculum for the church, home, and school (children and youth).

CHRISTIAN FOCUS

With all the things in this broken world that press down on us, it's hard to imagine anyone who couldn't benefit from John Kwasny's scripturally-sound guidance. I will certainly recommend it for our church's counseling library.

Janice M. Cappucci

Biblical Counselor and author

A sensitive and informed approach within a biblical framework, this is an excellent book to give to younger but also older people who grapple with depression.

D. Eryl Davies

Elder, Heath Evangelical Church, Cardiff & Consulting Editor, Evangelical Magazine

Providing wise pastoral advice which is both realistic and well founded in scripture, this short book is an ideal starter, both for personal use and for youth group discussion.

Jonathan Lamb

Minister-at-large for Keswick Ministries, IFES Vice President, and former Director, Langham Preaching

This wonderful little book is full of practical scriptural wisdom. As an experienced biblical counselor, Dr. Kwasny offers a well-balanced and comprehensive perspective on depression. His writing is clear, easy to read, and full of hope.

A Student's Guide to Missions
Emilio Garofalo Neto

- The importance of mission
- The place of mission in modern life
- From Track series for young adults

All of us have someone else to thank for receiving the good news of salvation. Mission is a means to a greater goal – God's name being glorified in the salvation of sinners. We should long to see God's fame being spread as far as possible. Throughout the Bible God chose to reach the nations through the preaching of His own people. Emilio Garofalo Neto helps us think through mission, the place it has in our world today, and our role in the mission of Christ.

Emilio Garofalo Neto

Emilio Garofalo Neto is the pastor of Semear Presbyterian Church in Brasília, Brazil. He completed his PhD at Reformed Theological Seminary in Jackson, Mississippi. Emilio is the author of 14 books of fiction and this is his fifth theological book. He is married with a daughter.

Redemption

The Church in Ancient Times

Luke H. Davis

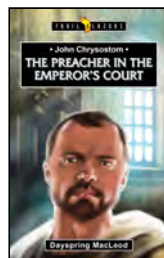

- Part of new 'Risen Hope' church history series
- Covers 3 BC to 476 AD
- For teens

The story of the ancient Church is one of a people who were finding their way over many years by the light that God shined forth for them. Today, we are looking back over the centuries with many more years of understanding but we stand on the shoulders of those who braved persecution, death, debate, and mystery on behalf of generations to come. From the Apostle Peter at Pentecost in Jerusalem to St. Patrick on the shores of Ireland in the year 432 – the ancient church has much to teach the church of today.

Luke H. Davis

Luke Herron Davis teaches ethics and church history at Westminster Christian Academy in St. Louis. He has authored books in the Cameron Ballack Mysteries and the Merivalkan Chronicles, as well as 'Tough Issues, True Hope'. He has also penned lyrics to over seventy new hymns. An ordained priest in the Anglican Church in North America, Luke lives with his wife Christi and their family in St. Charles, Missouri.

Reign

The Church in the Middle Ages

Luke H. Davis

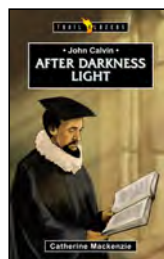

- Part of 'Risen Hope' church history series
- Covering the middle ages
- Includes Columba, Anselm, John Wycliffe & many others

During the Middle Ages the church laboured to build a community of faith. This was a Church that sought to reign, love and conquest, a Church that wanted to secure freedom, and proclaim the gospel. When that Church fell into corruption it undertook its own reform. Which one of these is the medieval Church? They all are! And in that we find hope in the God Who loves His Church as we seek to live in His name.

God's Attributes

Making Him Known series

Children can—and should!—be taught theology from an early age. A deep knowledge of the Lord provides a solid foundation on which they can build their faith.

This interactive family devotional makes it easy to introduce your children to the attributes of God. Accompanied by Scripture, discussion questions, and activities, each entry explores one of God's attributes—his holiness, wisdom, goodness, love, and more—and encourages readers to delight in these qualities and remember their implications in daily life. By promoting critical thinking and reflection, Jill Nielson provides the tools your children need to embrace the doctrine of God for themselves.

The time you and your children spend together will exemplify the importance of drawing near to the Lord. Bridge the gap between biblical truth and real-life application, and help your children to know God in a deeper way so that they might love him better.

Jill Nelson is a curriculum writer and blog director for Children Desiring God.

Pilipinto's Happiness: The Jungle Adventures of a Missionary's Daughter

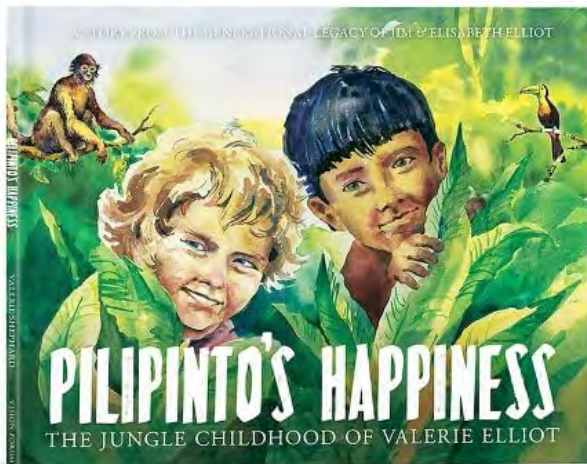

In 1956, Valerie's young missionary father, Jim Elliot, and four other men were speared to death by members of a primitive Ecuadorian tribe. But the good news of the gospel did not die with them. When Valerie was just a toddler, she and her mother, Elisabeth, moved to live with that very tribe—showing the unconditional love of Christ so that the gospel could work in powerful and transformative ways.

Pilipinto's Happiness is an amazing story of courage and redemption—but it is also the simple story of a young American girl who grew up alongside the indigenous people of the 1950s Amazon jungle. That jungle, despite its dangers, became a delightful playground where Valerie learned to trust God's hand and respect all his gifts.

Beautifully illustrated, Pilipinto's Happiness is a child-appropriate introduction to several Christian heroes and heroines—powerful models in the faith who demonstrated reckless abandon for the kingdom of God.

Valerie Elliot Shepard is the only child of Jim and Elisabeth Elliot, missionaries to the Quichua and Auca Indians (now called "Waadani, which means "the people") of the Amazon rain forest. Her father and four other men were speared to death in 1956 as they sought to reach the Aucas with the gospel. After Jim's death, Elisabeth and Valerie continued to live with the Quichuas until they were invited to live with the tribe that had killed Jim. They ministered to the Aucas for two years as Elisabeth and another missionary, Rachel Saint, learned to speak the language and shared the story of Jesus with them. Many Aucas converted to Christ as a result.

Valerie returned with her mother to the United States in 1963 and married Walter Shepard. Walt and Valerie have eight children. They currently reside in Southport, North Carolina.

Trusted Bible teacher and theologian, Dr. Sinclair Ferguson, is here to come alongside of you and your family to point to Jesus Christ and help answer the really BIG questions that bring hope and comfort now and into eternity.

Chris Larson

President and CEO of Ligonier Ministries, Orlando, Florida

Sinclair Ferguson is a wise old builder. He knows we need strong foundations. And he knows the way to build well – verse by verse, truth by truth, question by question. The wonderful thing is that as you make your way through this book, you'll find the whole family – parents and kids alike – building on Jesus – the Rock!

Colin Buchanan

Christian Children's Recording artist and author, Sydney, Australia

A wonderful example of the fact you must understand deeply to explain so simply ... This book will be a huge help to our family breakfast Bible times.

Rico Tice

Author, Christianity Explored & Associate Minister at All Souls Church, Langham Place, London

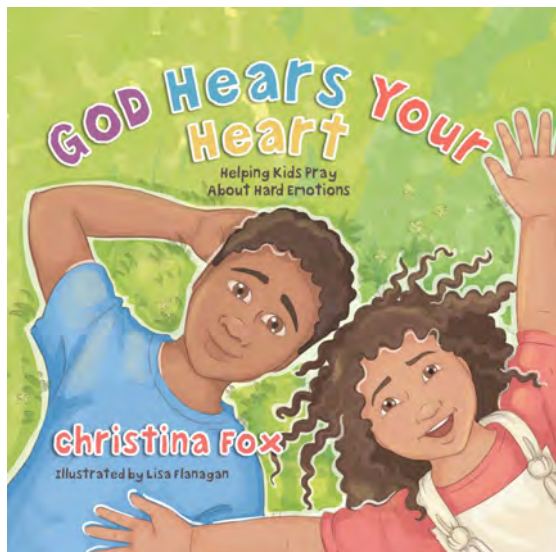

The Reformers believed that the discipleship of our children could be effectively achieved through catechising them with questions and answers on the Christian faith. In this helpful book, Sinclair continues that tradition with creativity, but this time focusing specifically on Jesus. A great little book for family devotions with our children.

God Hears Your Heart

Helping Kids Pray About Hard Emotions

Christina Fox

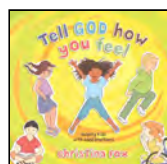

- Sequel to popular 'Tell God How You Feel'
- Teaches kids to take every emotion to God in prayer
- Covers anger, disappointment, guilt, and failure

God Hears Your Heart continues the story of Mia and Josh, begun in Tell God How You Feel. Mia and Josh are typical kids, dealing with hard and difficult emotions all kids feel: anger, disappointment, guilt, and failure. In God Hears Your Heart, they learn that God wants them to tell Him about all their feelings. They learn that He wants them to pray to Him and tell Him about how angry they feel when someone says something mean or how disappointed they feel when their plans get flipped upside down or how they feel when they fail at something. Mia and Josh learn just how much God loves and cares for them.

CF4KIDS

... a wonderful resource for children. It accomplishes the difficult task of turning children toward the Lord with their hard and unruly emotions without moralizing or excusing. Especially good on the disappointments every young human struggles to deal with and full of good advice and easy engagement for parents, this book is a must on every child's bookshelf!

Alasdair Groves

Executive Director of CCEF

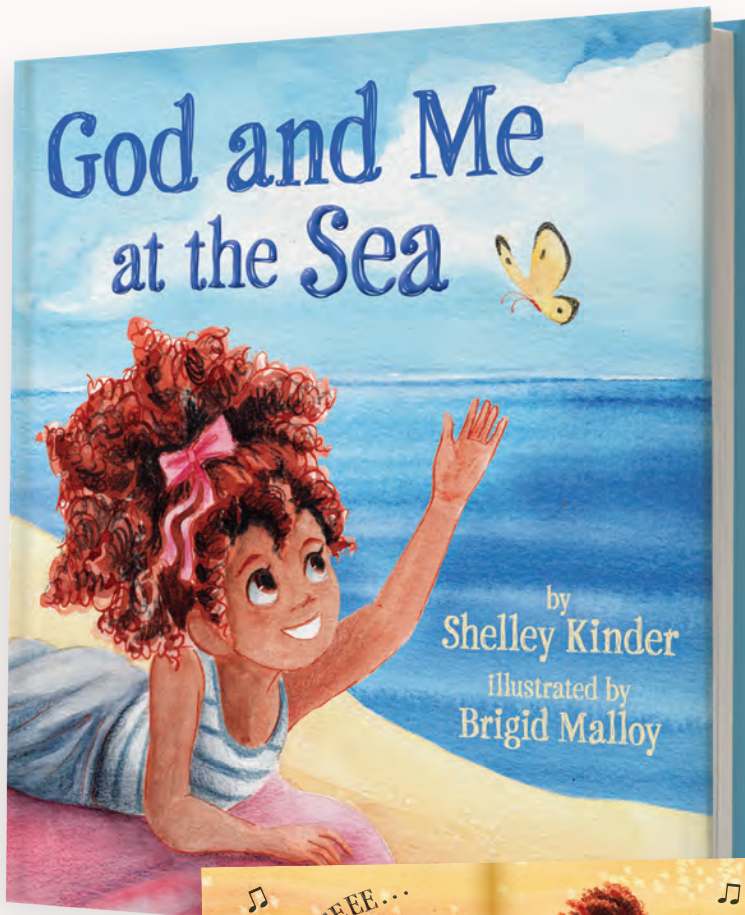

If emotions are complex for adults (AKA, me!) to understand and respond to appropriately, how much more for children? This is why I'm so glad Christina has given us a helpful tool for guiding our kids through emotions like disappointment, anger, and failure. Best of all, she roots each lesson in biblical truth, particularly in the psalms which give voice to our hearts. I recommend this book to you!

God and Me at the Sea

Shelley Kinder; illustrated by Brigid Malloy

A kid-friendly look at how beautiful and natural worship can be

*"I feel God's love. So strong. So deep.
I whirl! I twirl! I skip! I leap!"*

Have you ever felt God's love so deeply that you wanted to sing and dance? That's just how this little girl feels! In a sunny beach setting, she praises God with her whole heart! Singing, dancing, and drumming on her sand bucket, she has the most joy-filled time playing . . . a natural time to worship that we often forget.

In God and Me at the Sea, Shelley Kinder tells this story from a child's point of view and draws on rhythm and movement to show how all-encompassing the experience of praise can be. There's no heavy, preachy tone here, just a lighthearted girl who shows kids 3 to 8 what it looks and feels like to love and worship God.

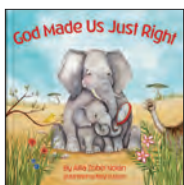

Accompanied by vivid, expressive illustrations, God and Me at the Sea opens children's eyes to the glory of God's creation, and how powerful and amazing worship can be.

Shelley Kinder is a children's book author whose previous books, Not So Scary Jerry and The Masterpiece, have garnered critical praise. She lives in Grabill, Indiana, with her family. Visit her at shelleykinder.com.

Brigid Malloy is a graphic designer and illustrator in Random Lake, Wisconsin. Her other works include Bear Goes to the Donut Shop and Brave Like Brizzie.

DANNAH GRESH
MIRIAM

Becoming a Girl of Courage -- True Girl Bible Studies

Young Miriam had to hide her infant brother in the Nile River while danger lurked. Later, she had to deal with sibling rivalry when Moses led God’s people out of Egypt. Miriam’s life reminds us that a True Girl practices courageous leadership right now because a leader is what she’s becoming. Though leaders are imperfect, God offers us a second chance to get things right.

True Girl Bible Studies feature important women from the Bible so that from their examples, we can learn what it looks like to be a True Girl. Each study is designed to help moms lead their daughters deeply into the Word of God so they can develop a steady love for Scripture. Together, moms and daughters can discover what it means to be a True Girl after God’s own heart.

Miriam wasn’t perfect . . . but with God’s power, her courage changed the world.
