Something Borrowed

A Historical Romance Collection

Rachel Scott McDaniel, Allison Pittman,
& Susie Finkbeiner

One perfect dress—three different love stories.

In this brand-new novella collection, three renowned Christian historical fiction authors trace generations of wartime romances through a special wedding dress with love sewn into its seams.

“A Heart in Disguise” by Rachel Scott McDaniel

Clara Westlake loves her job as a seamstress in the US Camouflage Corps, sewing suits for snipers and contributing to the Great War. She must recruit Marcus Reeves, a childhood friend searching for his purpose after suffering a devastating war injury. As they search for answers together, they may also uncover a love that lasts.

“A Letter to Eli” by Allison Pittman

Bette and Alice are lifelong friends, trying to make a good life for themselves in New York City while World War II rages. Then a secret letter reunites Bette with her soldier ex-boyfriend, now wounded and back in the States. Can the innocent love these two had before the war be rekindled in the face of tragedy?

“A Daffodil in the Dress” by Susie Finkbeiner

Kate Becker and Ike Finch have worked together at his family’s bookstore since Kate’s husband died in the early days of the Vietnam War. A second love is not in the cards, especially not with the world still teetering on the edge of insanity. Is falling in love again worth the risk?

Rachel Scott McDaniel is an award-winning author of historical romance, including Walking on Hidden Wings. She can be found online at rachelscottmcdaniel.com.

Allison Pittman is the author of multiple award-winning books, including The Seamstress and For Time and Eternity. Visit allisonkittman.com to learn more.

Susie Finkbeiner is the best-selling author of All Manner of Things, A Cup of Dust, The All-American, and several other historical novels. Find her at susiefinkbeiner.com.

Where Trees Touch the Sky

A Redwood National Park Novel

Karen Barnett

Some secrets have shadows as long as the redwoods are tall.

In the early 1920s, the accelerating destruction of the California redwoods is more than nature-loving Marion Baker can bear. Throwing herself headlong into the work of the Save the Redwoods League, she is shocked to learn that Frank Duncan, a man she's grown to love, is the son of one of the area's worst timber barons. Though devastated by the betrayal, she realizes this could also be an opportunity—if only she can convince him to help preserve her favorite stand of trees from his father's greedy grasp. Is her love enough to persuade him to save them? Or will Marion have to choose between Frank and her conservation efforts?

Nearly fifty years later, in 1972, polio survivor June Turner is deeply proud of the legacy her great aunt Marion has left as a redwood warrior. Despite her disability, June is determined to prove herself capable as a ranger at the recently established Redwood National Park, even if it means taking to the trails with her crutch in hand. What better way to carry on the family tradition of preserving God's magnificent creation?

When aspiring film student Adam Garner approaches June to help make a documentary about Marion's life, she swiftly grabs the chance to spread her aunt's worthy reputation. That is, until they unearth a secret that might shatter the family legacy. In the scramble for answers, June may lose not only her family pride but also her own dreams.

Karen Barnett's beautifully crafted split-time novel, set against the majestic backdrop of a beloved national park, immerses the reader in history that feels as fresh as if it happened yesterday.

Karen Barnett is the award-winning author of nine novels including When Stone Wings Fly and The Vintage National Parks Novels. A former national park ranger, she's also a hobby photographer and enjoys teaching writing workshops with both Cascade Christian Writers and West Coast Christian Writers. A Thieving at Carlton House

Erica Vetsch

OF CLOAKS & DAGGERS #1

Unlikely alliances form when a killer is on the loose ... but who can be trusted?

The Home Office has asked Sir Bertrand Thorndike to head an investigation into stolen royal jewels. And as with everything concerning the Prince Regent, discretion is paramount.

It's the perfect chance for Bertie to step out of his brother's long shadow. Unfortunately, his superior, the Duke of Haverly, has a plan that makes him balk: in order to sell his cover, Bertie must play the part of a man looking for love, ready to reform his rakish ways. The duke is willing to let Bertie name his own investigative team, but his recommendation that the team include Philippa Cashel has Bertie on his guard. Does the duke—known for his behind-the-scenes machinations—have an ulterior motive?

Philippa escaped her life as one of society's best-known courtesans, devoting herself to helping other women in dire straits. So when Sir Bertrand Thorndike approaches her about joining his team as an agent of the Crown, she is skeptical. Why her? She's focused on getting her school for underprivileged women up and running, not cloak-and-dagger skulduggery.

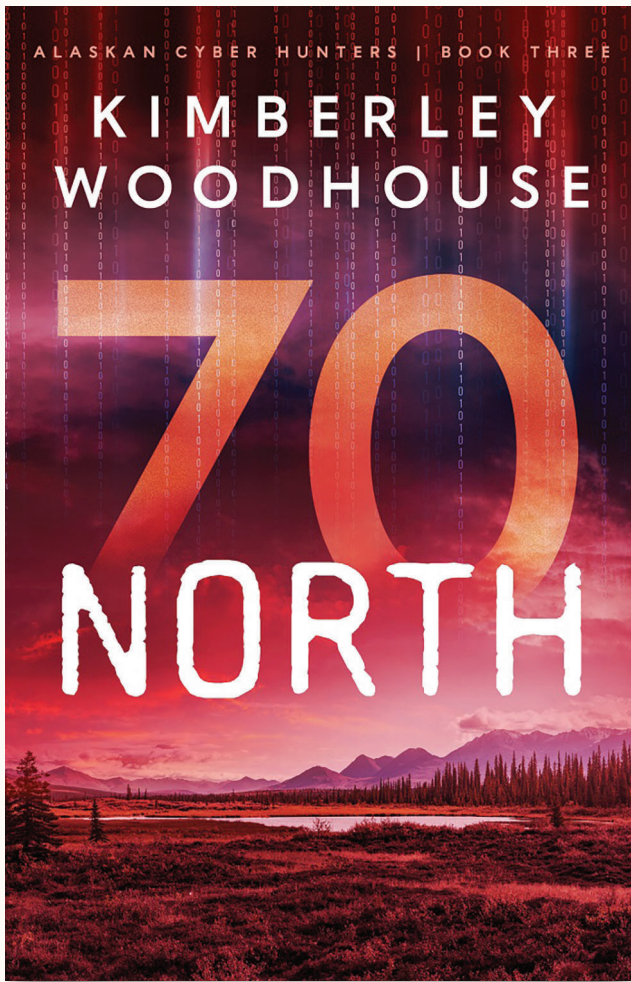

When one of Philippa's rescued girls is arrested for stealing the royal jewels and another is murdered, Philippa will risk partnering with Bertie to find the loot and stop the killer.

Beloved Regency author Erica Vetsch begins this new series with all the elements that keep her readers coming back. From historical accuracy to rousing mystery to deep character faith journeys, A Thieving at Carlton House will please Regency lovers—and anyone else who loves a great story.

Erica Vetsch is a New York Times best-selling author and ACFW Carol Award winner, and has been a Romantic Times Top Pick for her previous books. She loves Jesus, history, romance, and watching sports. This transplanted Kansan now makes her home in Minnesota. Learn more about Erica at ericavetsch.com.

Unique Selling Points

ALASKAN CYBER HUNTERS #3

Buckle in for the bone-chilling finale!

The Cyber Solutions team has managed to stay one step ahead of the madman who has killed so many, stopping him before reaching his ultimate goals. From the original 26 Below cyberattack in Fairbanks to the 8 DOWN serial murders in Anchorage and beyond, they matched wits with the killer and won in the end.

But final judgment is coming. And this time, there may be no stopping him.

David “Mac” McPherson has a personal stake in making sure this predator stays down for good. His family died in the Fairbanks attacks. Mac knows that God says “vengeance is mine”—but surely an exception can be made.

Surgeon Tracie Hunter is determined to stay sober and keep saving lives in Fairbanks, Alaska—even if it means being a little obsessive. After all, that same kind of determination is how she kept Mac alive after the monster attacked him. And she won’t let Mac run himself into the grave looking for payback; he’s come to mean too much to her.

Then someone hacks into the system at Tracie’s previous job as a medical examiner and frames her in a murder cover-up. There’s no one else skilled enough to create a digital trail this incriminating—the killer is back in action, exploiting cybersecurity weaknesses that will destroy lives. Can Mac stay focused and stop the next attack when his own personal vulnerability is exposed? Or will his need to make someone pay for his pain allow the maniac to pull ahead and win at last?

Kimberley Woodhouse takes readers on another intense thrill ride in this epic close to her cybercrime series based on real-world possibilities.

Kimberley Woodhouse is the best-selling author of more than thirty books and novellas, including A Deep Divide, Bridge of Gold, and The Mayflower Bride, as well as the coauthor of the Heart of Alaska series with Tracie Peterson.

Unique Selling Points

- Third and final installment of this plot-driven suspense series
- Ideal for fans of Lynette Eason, Irene Hannon, and Tracie Peterson
- Author draws from her experience living in Alaska

Fiancé Finale

A Novel

Angela Ruth Strong

LOVE OFF SCRIPT #3

It might be the worst plan in the world—but it's the only one he's got.

Charlie Newberg is sure about one thing: he knows the woman God wants him to marry. There's a slight problem, though—he's already left her once. The day before their wedding. To make a documentary.

But he's got a plan. The marketing firm she works for is the ideal choice to promote his new film. So he conspires with her boss to make sure she runs the campaign. Working together will give him the perfect chance to propose again.

Due to her own plot twist, Nicole Lemaire is forced to promote the very documentaries Charlie left her to film.

Despite Nicole's resistance, the two work well together. But it's going to take more than teamwork to convince the jilted bride to give Charlie a second chance. In fact, it might require falling in love in a way Charlie's never really understood.

Angela Ruth Strong closes out her hilarious, heartfelt series with a couple who will give readers a lot of laughs and the hope that God sees and redeems even the most broken stories.

Angela Ruth Strong is the founder of IdaHope Christian Writers. Her books have earned Top Pick, Romantic Times, been a finalist for the Christy, won the Cascade Award, and become Amazon best sellers. Her book Finding Love in Big Sky, Montana released as a movie in 2022. Strong lives in Meridian, Idaho, with her husband. Find her at angelaruthstrong.com.

The Hunted Heir

A Romantic Legal Drama

Jayna Breigh

"An intriguing, action-packed romance that kept me turning the pages until the end."

—Tracie Peterson, USA Today and ECPA
best-selling author of over 130 novels

When tragedy struck her life, private investigator Nona Taylor swore off romantic entanglements, distancing herself from the world. Once a year, on New Year's Eve, she attends church to beg God for forgiveness, haunted by the guilt of driving her twin sister to her death.

Attorney DeMarcus Johnson is determined to climb the corporate ladder to partnership by winning high-stakes cases. He's everything Nona knows to steer clear of—an overconfident ex-jock willing to do anything for success.

Their worlds collide when Nona's pastor receives a mysterious letter claiming he's the sole heir to a substantial estate. Desperate for answers, Nona infiltrates a lavish charity ball, only to be found out by a suspicious stranger who threatens to blow her cover. In a bold move to shield her, DeMarcus swoops in and presents himself as her fiancé.

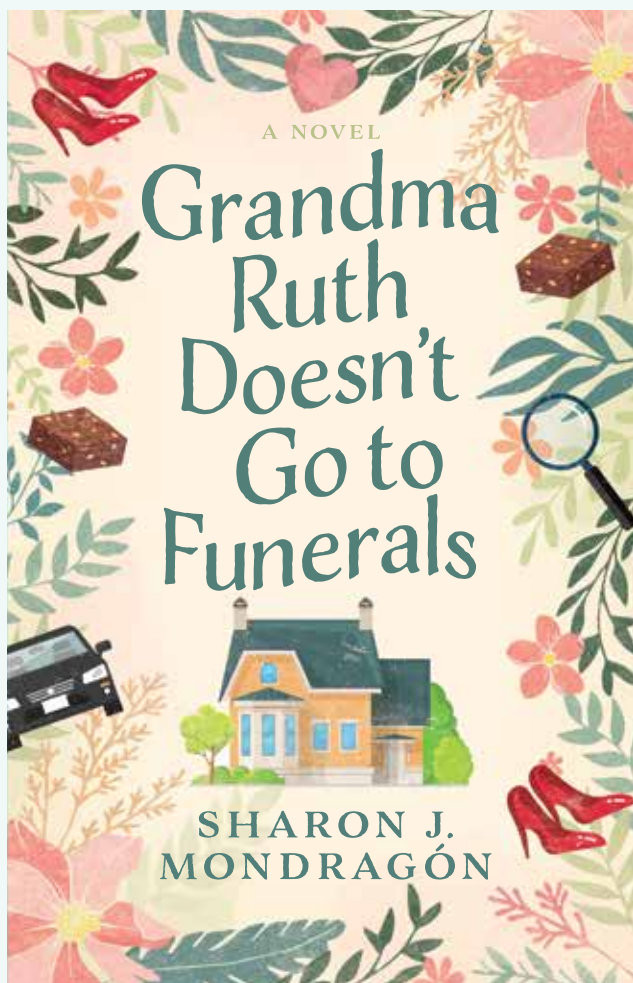

Now bound by a false engagement, the pair reluctantly join forces to reveal the truth about the inheritance. As they navigate the dangerous legal landscape, Nona and DeMarcus discover that sometimes unexpected alliances can lead to the redemption of shattered hearts.

Author Jayna Breigh's legal suspense debut will resonate deeply with readers who are drawn to narratives exploring themes of forgiveness, redemption, and the transformative power of faith. The Hunted Heir is perfect for fans of Robert Whitlow, Randy Singer, and Terri Blackstock.

Jayna Breigh is a retired attorney living in the Southeast United States. She brings to her writing over a decade of experience in trust and estate litigation in Los Angeles. Breigh has enjoyed speaking at Christian women's conferences, hosting Bible studies, and homeschooling her children. When not writing, she enjoys word puzzles and British period dramas. Grandma Ruth Doesn't Go to Funerals

A Novel

Sharon J. Mondragón

When it comes to solving a whodunit, Grandma Ruth is anything but idle!

In a small town where gossip flows like sweet tea, bedridden Mary Ruth McCready reigns supreme, doling out wisdom and meddling in everyone's business with a fervor that would make a matchmaker blush. When her best friend, Charlotte Harrington, has her world rocked by a scandalous revelation from her dying husband, Mary Ruth and her feisty granddaughter Sarah Elizabeth kick into high gear to solve the mystery.

With Charlotte left reeling from her late husband P. B.'s cryptic confession and a suspicious will that turns her life upside down, Grandma Ruth sends Sarah on a wild-goose chase through the town's colorful history. When she finds clues in dusty courthouse records and hears whispered tales at the local diner, they stir up trouble faster than you can say "pecan pie."

Just when they think they've cracked the case, in strides Camilla "Millie" Holtgrew, a blast from P. B.'s past, with a son and a score to settle. With Charlotte's inheritance hanging in the balance, Grandma Ruth must channel her inner Sherlock Holmes to prove that P. B. was true to his vows—even if it means ruffling a few feathers along the way.

The Dreams We Knew

A Novel of the Roaring Twenties

Rachel Scott McDaniel

Can two opposites come together to solve the murder of a rising star model?

In the glitz and glam of New York City's elite circles, Delvina Salvastano Kline walks a delicate line between her privileged upbringing and her murky past. Adopted into wealth and opulence, she contends with the legacy of her birth father, a notorious crime boss involved in a national scandal. But when a promising young fashion model is found dead, the socialite's world is thrust into chaos as she endeavors to find the killer lurking behind the city's shimmering facade.

Delvina finds herself reluctantly compelled to team up with detective Kent Brisbane—a man she once loved who had mysteriously disappeared from her life and knows a secret that could shatter her carefully crafted persona. As they delve deep into the shadows of New York's underbelly, they discover the stakes are higher than they thought.

Amidst glittering parties and whispered secrets, the duo races against time to uncover the truth and navigate the stark divide between their social classes.

Rachel Scott McDaniel's sequel set in the Roaring Twenties, The Dreams We Knew delivers a riveting blend of mystery and second-chance romance. Readers will find themselves on the edge of their seats one moment, then swooning the next!

Rachel Scott McDaniel is an award-winning author of historical romance. Winner of the ACFW Genesis and the RWA Touched by Love awards, McDaniel infuses faith and heart into each story. Written in Secret

Crystal Caudill

THE ART OF LOVE AND DANGER, BOOK 1

In the heart of nineteenth-century Cincinnati, where justice is scarce and danger lurks in every shadow, one woman holds the power to rewrite fate.

Lydia Pelton has a secret. By day, she's a respected author of dime novels, spinning tales of romance and adventure under her own name. By night, she becomes E. A. Dupin, crafting crime and mystery novels that seek to right the wrongs of society. But when her fiction inspires a serial killer to bring her stories to life, Lydia finds herself at the center of one of her own mysteries.

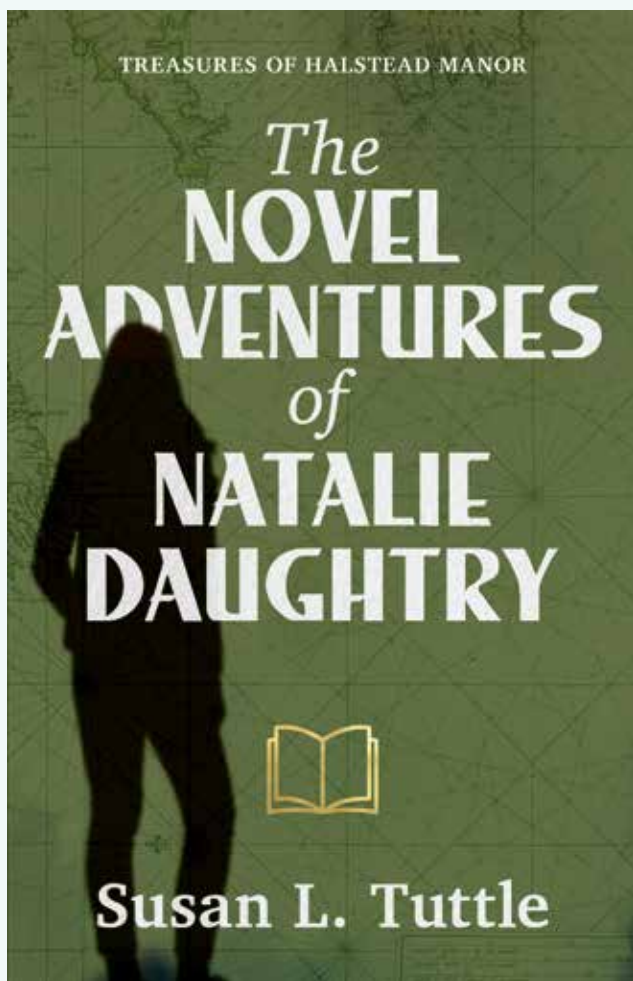

Officer Abraham Hall has sworn to uphold the law and is helplessly drawn to Lydia and her intriguing world. Working together as detective and author, they must try to uncover the sinister plot that reaches far beyond the pages of her books.

The first in Crystal Caudill's Art of Love and Danger series, Written in Secret will delight fans of Kate Breslin and Elizabeth Camden!

Crystal Caudill is the author of dangerously good historical romance, with her work garnering awards from Romance Writers of America and ACFW. She is a stay-at-home mom and caregiver, and when she isn't writing, Caudill can be found playing board games with her family, drinking hot tea, or reading other great books at her home outside Cincinnati, Ohio. Find out more at crystalcaudill.com.

Unique Selling Points

The Novel Adventures of Natalie Daughtry

Susan L. Tuttle

TREASURES OF HALSTEAD MANOR, BOOK 2

In pursuit of a rare book, will Natalie and Mason find each other again?

With a now empty nest and her twenty-plus-year marriage on the brink of collapse, Natalie Daughtry is wondering what comes next. When the mysterious Caspar tells her and her friends about their next mission, she's ready for this adventurous distraction. Natalie's expertise in historical literature and identifying forgeries pair well with Everleigh Wheaton's ability to solve puzzles and Brooke Sumner's knowledge of antiques. Their talents will be put to the test with their assignment to track down a rumored handwritten and illustrated copy of Lewis Carroll's Alice's Adventure's Under Ground.

What she never expected, however, was for her husband to join the search. Working alongside Mason feels a bit like she's tumbled down the rabbit hole herself.

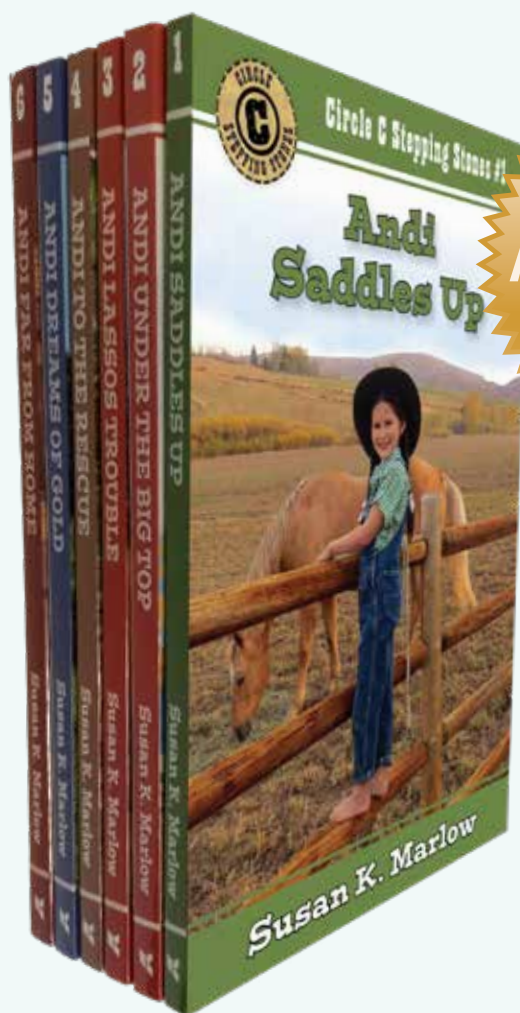

With mounting questions over this mission, the team finds itself on shaky ground. Natalie and Mason soon realize they need far more personal answers—ones that will shape the future of their marriage—as they confront the misunderstandings that drove them apart over the years. This search goes beyond locating a classic fairytale. Will they rediscover the love that once held the pages of their life together?

This second book in Susan L. Tuttle's Treasures of Halstead Manor series will intrigue fans of adventure movies like National Treasure and authors like Christina Suzann Nelson and Becky Wade.

Susan L. Tuttle is a pastor's wife, mom, and the director of women's ministry at her church near Grand Rapids, Michigan. Tuttle's previous works include the Along Came Love series and the Carol Award finalist Love You, Truly. Learn more about her at susanltuttle.com.
